

Observations.

Isn't it about time to stop talking of Tammany's corruption in view of the unutterable rascality of the republican ring in Philadelphia.

The Canadian woman who shot herself as a cure for insomnia certainly succeeded in her object, but it is doubtful whether she will derive much satisfaction from the fact.

It was distinctly "previous" for that Pittsburg furnace to burst and deluge a hearer with molten metal. It would have been only decent to wait at least until the body had been interred.

Hawaii comes to the front in a newspaper dispatch praising the Supreme Court decision. Evidently they think they know what it means.

At least, the American Protective Association has not said anything about vested rights in the tariff.

Pension Commissioner Evans is again getting ready to get out. He doesn't want to go, but he has been too zealous in preventing infractions of the law demanded by the G. A. R. and President McKinley has given him the marble heart in consequence.

Cuba will not prepare its electoral bill. N. B. The draft of the bill prepared by Secretary Root will be adopted or the Secretary will know the reason why. This is Cuba libre with a vengeance.

At orating cannot conspire alone. But what are dictionaries to juries like that in Baltimore which found the Hon. Mr. Ching guilty of conspiring with himself to pad the Census records.

The Humane society of Washington has started a movement for placing bonnets on horses in hot weather. Fantastic as the notion may seem at first, it will, if carried out, undoubtedly save many valuable animals during the torrid days. Albany has already begun.

Mrs. Lease is going into New York politics. We are sorry for New York.

We forgive the Kaiser for all his past dissocracies in requital for his latest in ordering his chaplains not to preach or more than fifteen minutes. The peevy end of the average sermon fills a long fall want.

Senator Fairbanks' friends are industriously booming him for the Presidency. As nine tenths of the people of the country never heard of Fairbanks, the task before his friends may well appall them.

Of course, General Shafter thinks the San Francisco frauds amount to nothing. He saw nothing wrong with the embalmed head at Santiago either.

The Civil Service law, as administered by President McKinley, is an arrant humbug. Witness the case of Collector Sapp of Louisville who has deliberately defied the law for three years, and defies the President to remove him.

The imaginary bounty on sugar discovered by Secretary Gage has resulted in taxing a few thousand dollars worth of Russian Sugar and handing over American trade valued at $18,000,000 a year to Germany. Secretary Gage, however, may congratulate himself on the fact that he would rather be right than rich.

Senator McLaurin has visited the President and assured him that the fight in South Carolina is just beginning. Some one should inform McLaurin that he is already dead politically.

Minister Leshman now expects that Turkey will pay those missionary claims within a few weeks. For a first class optimist, commend us to Mr. Leshman.

From the Roseburg Review. Republican papers are making a great outcry because Linn county has incurred a temporary indebtedness of sixty-odd thousand dollars under a democratic administration. They say nothing of this being much more than offset by outstanding taxes now uncollected, and also fail to say anything about the total tax levy of that county being but 13 mi. while other counties under republican rule, with tax levies of 20 or more mills, have actual warrant indebtedness in sums far exceeding that mentioned above. It often makes a difference whose ox is sore.

Pinarc's Pithy Phrases. Every casual is an extreme partisan. Government for bondholder is becoming quite common in the world—nations gone into the hands of a receiver. Money is taken each year out of the pockets of the producer and goes to swell the corruption fund of the privileged few. Every agency that is bleeding the country has taken refuge under the wing of the republican party. The most difficult thing we have to get are honest laws; and then they must be administered. There should be a tax upon all incomes of more than $1,000 a year. Congressional legislation against trusts, at State enactments, seem useless. All candidates for office should be nominated by the direct vote of the people. All Europeans should be driven from the American Continent.

Run by the Railroads.

Washington, June 17.—For years the Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate has been practically dead-locked, unable to take action because on the one hand there were one or two members who refused to do anything to limit the power of the railroads, and because on the other hand one or two more would agree to nothing that would cripple the railroads. Between the two opposing forces the moderate members of the committee found themselves powerless to act.

The presence of Wolcott and Chandler tended to defeat even the consideration in committee of a measure which affected the interests of the railroads. Wolcott was in favor of letting the railroads do about as they pleased, while Chandler wanted to go to the other extreme. In addition to this, there was opposition on the part of Senators Aldrich, Elkins, and Keen, all of whom were opposed to any legislation that would give the Interstate Commerce Commission any more power than it now has, or which would enable it to regulate the affairs of the railroads.

Senator Tillman of South Carolina was also a factor contributing to the discord in the committee, and defeated the efforts of those who were desirous of securing the adoption of what is known as the Cullom bill, for which there was such a strong demand on the part of the people.

The result of these conflicting views was that when a quorum could be secured the members of the committee did nothing but wrangle and could not agree upon any proposition whatever. Meeting after meeting was held, but the committee was never able to muster a majority in favor of a measure, and consequently all are still reposing in the room of the committee.

The committee consisted of eleven members, seven of whom were republicans, three democrats and one populist. Of this number five will not be members during the next session. Those who will not be on this committee are Chandler and Wolcott, republicans; Allen, populist; and Lindsay and Chilton, democrats. Those who remain are Cullom, Aldrich, Elkins, Keen and Deliver, republicans, and Tillman, a democrat.

Of the six members who remain on the committee three—Cullom, Deliver and Tillman—are in favor of legislation which will give the Interstate Commerce Commission more power than it now has while Senators Aldrich, Elkins, and Keen generally are regarded as friendly to the railroads, and will, it is said, do all in their power to defeat any legislation on this subject, unless it is entirely satisfactory to the railroads. C. M.

From the Commoner. Those public organs that have grown in the habit of making flippant allusions to the constitution have been amply vindicated.

As the country understands it, taxation without representation is proper when we are the taxed, but quite wrong when we are the taxers.

It is barely possible that Attorney General Knex's plan of abolishing the trusts is to allow them to die of indigestion brought on by over indulgence.

Some queer things are happening these days. It seems that the constitution does not follow the flag to Porto Rico, but that the Chinese exclusion act does. But it seems quite probable that if the interests having control should decide that Chinese cheap labor is what they want in Porto Rico they will find that the Chinese exclusion act is a company for the constitution several thousand miles in the rear of the flag.

According to the Supreme Court decision congress has a constitutional right to pass unconstitutional laws whenever manifest destiny demands it.

The La Grande Chronicle tells how one Willamette Valley man has made:

Prof. J. B. Horner, head of the department of English in the State Agricultural school, is in town today shaking hands with old friends. The Grande Ronde valley and the older inhabitants Prof. Horner knows far better than any late comer will ever be able to know them, for he spent his boyhood here, when the settlement was in its infancy. He came in '02. He herded cattle on the Sandridge when there was not a farmhouse in sight. He hauled the poles for long lines of worm fence down these canyons. He helped make the brick that went into the first buildings of La Grande. And to get money for his education he put in many a day's hard work for the farmers whose heads are now gray.

Prof. Horner's love for and understanding of the Grande Ronde will appear in his description in connection with the girlhood biography of Ella Higginson in his book on Oregon Literature.

Appropos of his book, Prof. Horner stated this morning that he would, in response to demands from the publishers, amplify the text throughout and add much interesting matter, making it a larger and more serious treatment of the great subject of Oregon lore. The new book will certainly be eagerly awaited by all who have read the old.

Rev. Johnson, who recently delivered the baccalaureate sermon at the commencement of the O. A. C. is a success. He has been offered the pastorate of a Boston church at $5,000 a year and a Brooklyn church at $4,000, but declines and will remain with his present congregation at $2,000. He already has a reputation and recently contributed an article to the Independent beside articles from Cardinal Gibbon and Andrew Carnegie on the subject of capital and labor.

At Capital.

SALEM, June 21.—All the bids for the Soldier home improvements rejected. New specifications are prepared. A Sunday fire destroyed A. A. Hawks warehouse. Loss, $500.

A Strike Mob.

COLUMBIA, S. J. C., June 23.—The Southern Railway shops in this city were attacked at 3:30 o'clock this morning by a mob of several scores of men. No damage to property was attempted except to break through the high fence surrounding the yards. The strikers were waiting the non-union workmen, and made for a car in which 20 were sleeping. A man whose name is said to be Meyers was on guard. He fired both barrels of his gun into the crowd, receiving himself a .32 caliber bullet in his forehead, but the skull was not penetrated. The mob fired a great many bullets into the car in which the men were sleeping. None of the non-union men were wounded but after they had been dragged out of the car they were pretty severely handled.

Fatal Flood.

BLUFFFIELD, Va., June 23.—This section has just been visited by a flood, the extent of which in all probability will equal or exceed that of Johnston in 1889, so far as the loss of property is concerned.

The little town of Keystone, with a population of 2000, seems the greatest sufferer, practically the entire town being washed away. It is now certain that the total list of the dead from one end of the Elkhorn Valley to the other will reach 200.

A full list of the names of the victims cannot be ascertained at this time. Hundreds are missing, having taken to the mountains to escape the fury of the flood.

Invading Cape Colony.

LONDON, June 25.—Lord Kitchener has sent no report of the Waterkloof mishap. Recent events in Cape Colony seem to prove the Boer invasion of that country to be serious. A letter to the Daily Mail, dated Cape Town, June 5, confirms the pro-Boer report and says the invaders number anything from 7000 to 10,000; that they are swarming all over the eastern and midland districts and getting recruits and horses.

COLUMBUS, June 23.—Most of the leaders and many of the delegates are here tonight for the Republican State Convention, which will convene in this city tomorrow afternoon. The convention will nominate for second terms Governor George K. Nash, Lieutenant-Governor J. A. Caldwell, Attorney-General John M. Sheets, State Treasurer J. D. Cameron and J. W. Johnston, the latter for member of the State Board of Public Works.

Insurgents Surrendered.

SANTA CRUZ, June 24.—General Caillies surrendered here today with 650 men and 500 rifles. The oath of allegiance to the United States was administered to the ex-insurgents. Colonel Caballero, who fled to the mountains with a portion of his troops, likewise surrendered. Caillies did not sufficiently control the populace to bring in all the insurgents in his district.

Hanna Running Things.

COLUMBUS, June 24.—The Republican State Convention to nominate candidates for Governor and other state officers met here this afternoon. The feature of the brief session was the speech of United States Senator Forsaker, the temporary chairman. The vital issue was not in the convention proper, but in the election of a State Central Committee. The delegates representing each of the 21 Congressional districts met separately, and a committeeman was named for each district. The result was a decided victory for the so-called Hanna men, for they made a clean sweep.

AP riled Fire.

PORTLAND, June 05.—Fire last night destroyed a block of warehouses and business buildings bounded by East Hawthorne, East Madison, Water and First streets, involving a loss of about $60,000.

Principal losers are: Dr. James Surman, $35,000 on buildings, insurance $12,000; Parlin & Orendorf Company, agricultural implements, $15,000 to $20,000; the H. C. Albee Company, machinery, $7000, insurance $9000; S. & L. Friedman's storehouse and second-hand machinery, $2000; J. D. French, stables and furniture, $2000; P. Bruner, Baltimore saloon, $1000; Baltimore House, $500, M. E. Heacock, blacksmith, $500; The Hammond Manufacturing Company $400, and other light losses amounting to about $1000.

The West Virginia Flood.

ROANOK, June 24.—The following short statement made tonight by Jons of the general officers of the Norfolk & Western Railway, summarizing the flood situation in the light of the latest dispatches, was given to the Associated Press:

Restoration of the telegraph line develops that the damage by flood through coal fields was exaggerated. The loss of life will not exceed 60 or 70 and the damage to property, including repairs to the railroad and coal properties, will not exceed $300,000.

Fifty Bodies Found.

BLUFFFIELD, Va., June 24.—Details of the fearful flood in the Pocahontas Top Flat region are slowly drifting in, and fully bear out the fears early entertained as to the havoc wrought by the storm. Fifty bodies have been found. Thousands of people are homeless, and it is feared many are without food. There is little hope of sending the sufferer's succor until railroad connection is restored.

A New York Storm.

UTICA, N. Y., June 24.—A rainfall approaching a cloudburst caused at least $30,000 damage to New Berlin Sunday night. Rain had been falling some hours, and finally came down in great torrents. A reservoir at a mile west of the village gave way, and its contents swept down on the village. A farmer living near the reservoir had ridden ahead, warning people of the danger, and they vacated their houses. Two buildings were swept away.

A Hanna Ticket.

COLUMBUS, June 25.—The Republican State Convention here today broke the record by completing the work in three hours. Following were the nominations: Governor—George K. Nash, Lieutenant-Governor—Carl L. Nipert.

Supreme Judge—J. L. Price. Attorney-General—John M. Sheets. Clerk of the Supreme Court—Lawson Emerson. State Treasurer—Isaac B. Cameron. Member of the Board of Public Works—W. G. Johnston.

Big Bank Failure.

LEIPZIG, June 25.—The directors of Leipziger Bank announce that, owing to the stoppage of the Dresener Credit Anstalt in consequence of difficulties in discounting bills, the Leipziger Bank is compelled, in the interests of its creditors, to suspend payment temporarily. The capital of the bank is 48,000,000 marks.

A Seattle Murder.

SEATTLE, June 25.—At 5:25 o'clock this afternoon John W. Considine, one of the proprietors of the Standard gambling-house and the People's Theater, in this city, shot and killed ex-Chief of Police W. L. Meredith. The shooting occurred in Guy's drug store, on the corner of Second avenue and Yeeler way in the heart of the city. Considine was also wounded slightly in the head by a ball from a double-barreled shotgun in Meredith's hands.

Big Shooting Event.

WALLA WALLA, June 25.—The 17th annual tournament of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest began here today with over 100 cracked marksmen from all over the Northwest in attendance, and the best of weather. Some excellent averages were made at the traps. The Multnomah medal shoot, the big event of the first day, was taken by Gust of Portland.

A Train Wrecked.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 30.—A special to the Sentinel from Peru at 2:30 this morning says: West-bound passenger train No. 3, on the Wabash Railroad, ran into a wash out at Cass, 16 miles west of here, 12:30 o'clock this morning, wrecking the engine and five cars. It is rumored that 15 persons were killed.

ALBANY, Ore., June 25, 1901.—In pursuance of general orders No. 29, all members of "G" Company are ordered to be present at their Armory, Wednesday June 26, 1901, for muster and inspection. This is the regular quarterly inspection and every member must be present. In accordance with Order No. 30, Hdqrs 4th Regt., an election is ordered to be held this same evening, Wednesday June 26, 1901, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the discharge of Captain Sears. By Order of F. C. Stellmacker 1st Lt. Comdg "G" Co.

Minister's Mistake. A city minister was recently handed a notice to be read from his pulpit. Accompanying it was a clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the matter. The clergyman started to read the extract and found that it began: "Take Emp's Balm, the best Cough Cure." This was hardly what he had expected and, after a moment's hesitation, he turned it over, and found on the other side the matter intended or the reading.
