Tax Sale.

The sale of property for taxes under the law passed by the last legislature took place this afternoon with about fifteen persons present.

WANTS A DAM.—In the matter of the petition of A. D. Gardner et al for the building of a dam in the Santiam river for the protection of the Stayton bridge, the court agreed to prevent damage to the bridge by changing the channel of said river by putting in a dam and making a cut whereby the water of the stream will run in the old channel.

Capt. F. O. Stellmacher has been in Oregon City. Henry Huggins, the Great Northern rustler, is around. Prof. Orville Dinwiddie of Brownsville was in the city today.

P. A. Young, C. E. Sox and Phil Goodwin left early this morning for Doreauville on the Clabtree for a week's outing at the Young and Goodwin mountain farms.

We met our old friend A. J. Hunt at Albany a few days ago. He has lately returned from Kitson Springs, 50 miles south of Eugene, on the military road.

DIED

FARLOW.—On July 8, 1901, at Knox's Butte, Miss Lizzie Farlow, at the age of 42 years, of obstruction of the bowels. The deceased was a native of Linn county, a sister of A. and C. Farlow, and a woman of excellent character.

From the DEMOCRAT Jan. 1 to Jan. 14, 1887.

The draw on the O. P. bridge swung into place for the first time at exactly 11 o'clock Jan. 1, 1887, and the first train crossed the bridge Jan. 6.

Arven Roberts, a nine year old son of Mr. A. A. Roberts, and Jasper Wyman, a boy of about the same age, were fishing back of the old Foster warehouse when the former slipped and fell into the river.

Dr. J. L. Hill has returned from an extended trip to Texas.

Wheat, 72 cents.

Rails are now laid on the O. P. bridge and trestle to Thir street.

During 1885 the losses by fire in this city were $600 according to the record of Chief Engineer Hoffman.

Miss Mary Thompson has resigned as teacher in the primary department at the college. Miss Mary Montague, of Lebanon, will succeed her.

A prize debate for $100 will take place on Washington's birthday at Princeton College.

And now again we raise the cry "On to Boise City." 140 miles more is assured the coming season. Making allowance for the usual R. R. exaggeration it is safe to count on another 100 miles of O. P. track before Jan. 1889.

THE DEER LAW.—The open season for deer commences July 15 and ends November 1st. It is unlawful for any person to take, capture, kill or destroy in any open season more than five deer.

The deer and fish over on the Yacnats are hereby warned to look out. Prof. J. M. Martindale and family, Rev. J. B. Holmes and family and Miss Loretta Stewart, of this city, and Rev. L. F. Stevens, of Corvallis, left this morning for that popular resort with a big load of guns and eatables.

The regular meeting of the WCTU will be held tomorrow afternoon 3 p. m. at their hall.

A sky rocket which accidentally took a low sweep into Hopkins Bros., window was a $85 celebration. These rockets are capricious concerns.

A change has taken place in the running of trains on the Oregonian branch of the S. P. Under the new schedule the evening train from Albany and Woodburn will only go to Coburg, where it will remain over night and return in the morning. The Wendling train, which has been running to Springfield, will run to Coburg and connect with the Albany and Woodburn train.

A Newport dispatch says: The steamer Roberts, which arrived from Sitka, brings word of the total destruction by fire of Meyer & Kyle's cannery and warehouse, at Florence, early Friday morning. The fire was discovered about 1 a. m. Before the fire company reached the scene the flames were beyond control. By hard work and a favorable wind the adjoining buildings were saved. The cannery and warehouse were insured for a small amount.

The following from an Eastern Journal is about a former well known Northwest man:

Leo Fairchild, a popular newspaper writer and lecturer of New York City, was recently brought out from the press of the Lee Publishing Co. a volume of poems, entitled, 'The Trippler's Yow.' The book has received unstinted praise from the leading newspapers of the country, the New York Times declaring that 'it should go on every Omar shelf.'

Margaret Barry's Recital.

Margaret Barry captured an Albany audience at the Presbyterian church last evening in one of the most delightful recitals ever heard. 5 feet 10 1/2 inches tall, very graceful, with an expressive and beaming countenance, and a voice that is not only sweet, but full and strong, Margaret Barry is an ideal elocutionist.

A better pleased audience never more reluctantly left an entertainment, and many did not go until they had expressed to the charming elocutionist their appreciation of the pleasure she had given them in the splendid recital of the evening.

The reception at the church in the afternoon was well attended and was a pleasing affair, so satisfactory that it was desired that a special class in physical culture be organized, and it is possible this may be done for three days of lessons.

Oakville

This place was well represented at Albany the 4th.

The farmers are all busy in the hayfield this week.

Mitchell brothers, of Tangent were in our town last week with their wood saw and now we are prepared for cold weather.

We enjoyed the celebration from a social standpoint for on that day we saw many of our friends from all over the county. Among others we met, W. W. Crawford of Tallman, Oscar Dillie of Sheeds, T. E. McKnight of Tallman, also Mr and Mrs T. R. McKnight and Miss Mary McKnight, all of Tallman.

A friend said to us on the fourth: "Did you ever take a young lady to a celebration and feel as if the sidewalk was too narrow for you? Did you ever take a respectable young lady into a large crowd and then light a cigar and puff smoke in her face?" We asked why such things came into his mind, his reply was "This is the 20th century."

Wheat harvest will soon be with us again and it will be the best crop that has been harvested in five years. The farmers are well pleased for many of them used all of last year's crop at home and had no more than they needed.

LITTLE ROCK BUD.

The base ball members of the A. O. U. W. of this city, are anxious to play the members of any other society in the city. You will have to hurry.

Haying has progressed rapidly, and much of the crop has been safely secured. In most portions of the Willamette valley it is extra heavy, while in the Coast region and eastern and southern Oregon it averages less than usual.

The fall grain harvest has begun in a few places in the Willamette valley and the crop is extra promising, while in eastern Oregon the few hot days of the week, following as they did a protracted cool and windy spell have been unfavorable, and the grain is not filling as well as usual, and the opinion prevails that in Umattila and the neighboring counties the crop will be somewhat short of former expectations.

Spring wheat, oats, barley and hops are everywhere doing nicely. Corn has improved, and late potatoes are making good advancement. Albany, Linn county, J. S. S. Powell.—Fore part of week cool, latter part warm; beneficial to all crops. Some early rain being out. Haying in progress; crop excellent. Gardens making good growth. Corn and vine crops growing nicely. Potatoes looking well.

CARD OF THANKS.—The undersigned desire to express their sincere thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted them and extended sympathy during their great bereavement.

MRS. WILLIAM FRUM and CHILDREN.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.—A class in physical culture is being organized and arrangements have been made for three lessons under Margaret Barry. The first will be given tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock, at the residence of S. S. Train, and all desiring to enter the class should be present at this time and secure the excellent advantages of the class.

A few more days and the hay will be in out of danger of the rain.

S. N. Steele & Co., yesterday shipped 7,000 pounds of cherries to the Eugene cannery, the biggest shipment ever made from this city.

J. G. Crawford secured some of the finest street scenes ever obtained in Albany during the 4th of July parade, both of the parade as a whole and in sections. Just the thing for souvenirs of the day.

The Corvallis Gazette devotes eight inches to the visit of the six year old son of T. W. Dilley as Uncle Sam to Albany on the 4th and the splendid part he took in the parade, the center of attraction, of how he saw the prize fight across the river against the wishes of his father, and didn't have to be carried to bed after thirty or forty miles ride.

Delegations from the Corvallis and Albany lodges, Knights of Pythias, will attend and participate in the big field meet to be given by Belmont lodge next Friday at Bangs' Park. It has been suggested that the business houses close in the afternoon of that day to allow their employes to attend. A large number of visitors is expected and it promises to be a gala occasion.—Eugene Guard.

Lebanon. From the E. A. : B. F. Kirk, of Albany, is visiting his folks near Sweet Home. He will work in a barber shop at Newport this summer.

J. A. Fiach, the prominent young lawyer and newspaper man of the county seat, and Prof. A. B. Hoag, of Albany College, spent Saturday in Lebanon.

On account of professional duties, Dr. Lamerson was unable to go to Sweet Home on the Fourth to deliver the oration at that place. We learn that it was quite a disappointment to the people of that section. He was also unable to get anyone to fill the appointment for him.

Harry Boyle returned last week from San Francisco, where he has been for several weeks. He did not go East, as he intended. His brother, who was expected home from the Philippines, did not come, but remained in Manila, where he has accepted a good position.

Three men who had met with accidents called on Dr. Jones for treatment last Wednesday. Edwin Palmer was grinding a soya, when a piece of the grindstone flew into one of his eyes, making a painful injury. F. W. Fairside was bitten in the hand by a cat, and his hand swelled up and got very sore. W. W. Irwin cut his hand with a razor while at work in his barber shop.

G. R. Rutledge, who lives in Benton county about five miles west of Albany, city had a serious runaway in his last Friday evening. He was coming into town with his Ride-man stallion, Trinity Boy, hitched to a cart, when the horse got scared at a sky rocket touched off by someone near the Menzies corner, and dashed up Main street, kicking and running as fast as he could. Although Mr. Rutledge bounced several feet high at every crosswalk, he kept in the cart and made a manful effort, to check the horse until in front of W. J. Booth's store, when on account of the horse kicking off the footboard, he lost his balance and fell off. He fell forward, over one of the wheels, striking on his head, and was also dragged a short distance. He received some bad cuts on the head, which bled very freely, but, very fortunately, considering the fall he got, was not seriously injured.

A Sustaining Diet These are the enervating days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the Day of fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained, and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic,—say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and I will wish any doubt avert much sickness at this time of the year.

The Awful Grasshoppers.

"The time has come when I have got to look for some place of abode besides Nebraska," writes Elmer Thompson, of Freedom, Nebraska, to a Corvallis friend. The letter is dated June 27th, and further says:

"The bugs and grasshoppers took my rye and wheat. The hot winds have blown steadily for four days and are steadily blowing. I never saw it so hot. I am writing today to find a place to ship my stock to be sold. There is no sale here for anything. I will say nothing about the hard times that are now staring us in the face, to one like you, who has hitherto gone through Nebraska droughts. It is hard to be compelled to almost give belongings away, but it is the best I can do. I do not propose to winter here. I hope to get away by the 8th of July, and many others in the vicinity will do the same. We are all coming either to Idaho or Oregon. I shall come alone, and send for my family after I have seen both states, but some of the others will take their families with them."

PICNIC EXCURSION.—The U. F. Sabbath School on next Friday, July 12 will give a picnic excursion to the front on the C. & E. Those outside of the school desiring to go can secure tickets of G. S.
