ALBANY DRESSED BEEF CO.,

First St., opposite Blumberg Block. Choice meats of all kinds. A place to trade.

Labor day was generally observed throughout the United States. It proved to become a popular holiday.

An Improvement Society is in order at Albany. Call it whatever you wish, but it should be a push club with all the people of the city as members, determined upon building up Albany.

In view of the fact that it will be two years from November before the presidential election adorning any one for the nomination is very much out of place, and is a policy against the best interests of the country.

The war maneuvers back east are an education in the war spirit, and in this respect are not particularly a good thing for the young of the country. The spirit of the day should be one in the interest of peace. Progressive civilization should have less of militarism, and it is not a good plan to make too much of a display of it. Even if this country does see fit to make a thorough preparation for emergencies it is not necessary to have a grand stand out of it.

The counties of Oregon generally may well look to their bridges and roads. They should be placed in first class condition and kept that way. Good roads and bridges will mean a great deal to the future of the Willamette Valley. It is believed that we are entering upon an important era and that the future is bright for the upbuilding of this country to proportions far beyond the present undeveloped conditions. General improvement should be the order, not only on the part of the counties, but the state, cities and people generally.

The gambling spirit has taken hold of the east, and it is stated that more betting has been done this year than ever before, particularly on horse racing. One man risked $100,000 on his horse coming in first in a bunch of over twenty fine animals. It has even invaded the lawn tennis court. In the national tournament at Newport $50,000 was wagered on the result between Dougherty and Larned. It does not particularly indicate prosperity, for people of the betting class have always had plenty of money for the purpose, but it indicates an increase of the spirit, no doubt developed from the gambling spirit involved in considerable of the money making of the day.

An effort is being made to make it appear that the trusts of the country are up in arms against Roosevelt, but this is being done for political effect. The trusts know Mr. Roosevelt thoroughly, and are very familiar with his position during the recent session of Congress. They are not frightened. They appreciate the fact that a congressional election is approaching, and that the republican candidates are in danger unless something is done to stem the tide, and these speeches of the President are a part of the program. The trusts know who their friends are, and are not at all disturbed except on paper for political effect. A blind man can read between the lines.

World's Fair Notes.

The Congress of trap shooters of the world at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1904 will be the largest and longest shooting tournament ever held anywhere. The main feature of the tournament will be a competition for the inanimate target championship of the world. Among the many interesting achievements of human inventive genius accomplished during the decade which has elapsed since the World's Fair at Chicago, and which will be seen at the World's Fair in St. Louis in 1904, there will be the wireless telegraph, the automobile, the airship balloon, the wireless telephone, the transmission of light by wire and the telephoning from railway trains and trolley cars in motion.

A Texas cotton planter will grow two acres of Egyptian cotton for experimental purposes, samples of which will be sent to the World's Fair at St. Louis. Egyptian cotton is being used extensively for the manufacture of imitation silk. The fine arts exhibit of Great Britain is to be controlled by a committee of the Royal Academy. Arrangements for this exhibit are being made by Sir Edward John Payne, president of the Academy. The foreign office will facilitate the industrial exhibits.

The weekly is $1.25 per year in advance, $1.50 at the end of the year and thence up to $2 for accounts running three or more years. The Daily by mail is $3 a year in advance, $3.50 at the end of the year. It is payable at the office. There is a 25 cent advantage in paying in advance. Subscriptions should at least be paid at the end of every year and as prompt as other accounts.

The Panama Canal.

The total length of the Panama canal will be 46.6 miles, including an extension of 3.1 miles through the Bay of Panama.

The summit level will be from 66 to 103 feet.

The route of the canal lies wholly in Colombia.

Negro labor is obtained from the British Antilles.

An excellent hospital has been established near Panama.

A good railroad exists at the present time along the entire route.

M. de Lesseps' plans contemplated the expenditure of $120,000,000.

At present a force of about 2,000 men is at work on the construction.

A tide-level canal was planned by the directors of the first company.

The time of transit for an ordinary vessel will be from eleven to fourteen hours.

There are no volcanoes, even extinct, within 180 miles of the route of the canal.

Nearly 4,000,000 cubic yards of earth have been removed for experimental excavation alone.

The present concession allows until October 31, 1910, for the completion of the work.

The receiver of the company appointed by the French courts has never been discharged.

The shareholders in the first company when it went into liquidation numbered over 800,000.

Good housing accommodation for from 15,000 to 20,000 laborers already exists along the line of work.

The Isthmian Canal commission estimated the cost of the work of completing the canal at $184,233,355.

The first survey of the present route was begun by employes of the de Lesseps company in February, 1851.

The original company formed by M. de Lesseps was known as La Compagnie Universelle du Canal Inter oceanique.

Beri-beri and yellow fever are among the epidemic diseases which have appeared among the workmen at various times.

The government of the United States, if Panama is selected, will pay $40,000,000 for the plant and all concessions of the Panama Canal company.

The temperature throughout the region of the Panama canal is that of the tropics, seldom varying during the year from the mean of 79 degrees Fahrenheit.

The canal is owned at the present time by the Panama Canal company of America, which is organized under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital of $30,000,000.

About two fifths of the entire stock has been completed, and sufficient experimental work has been done on the remaining portion materially to lessen the construction.

Part of the property offered to the government by the company is all but about 1,000 shares of the capital stock of the Panama Railroad company, a corporation of the state of New York.

At Culebra, where the deepest cutting is required, and where a disastrous cave-in occurred, the excavation completed and the borings made, show that there is no longer any danger from pressure.

Grafts.

All days are Sundays with the real Christian.

The greater the heart the less room for malice.

Debt is the bait trouble uses to catch suckers.

Only our neighbor's children are too worst in the community.

Politics is dirty business only when clean men refuse to take part.

Never put off until tomorrow what should have been done yesterday.

Men who plunge headlong into trouble usually attribute it to destiny.

The tongue of slander works on a pivot and is run by vacuum pressure.

The man who is not interested in politics is not interested in good government.

There are only two good days on which to worry—yesterday and tomorrow.

The man who gets there is the man who has to be told when quitting time comes.

The man who quits a good work because his motives are questioned, never gets very far.

Some people offer up their prayers just like they order a bill of goods from the store.

No man is poor if he is blessed with the sight of a baby's face at the window when a day's work is done.

You can always tell what a man really is by the way his children act when they see him coming home.

When you have to go to work at 7 a. m. it's for wages; when you can go to work at 9 p. m. you get a salary.

Some men think they suffer from dyspepsia when the truth is that they are suffering from an increasing disposition.
