

A PECULIAR FIRE.

Deputy County Clerk Stellmacher went to the court house last evening about 7 o'clock, when upon entering the front door he smelled something burning. Going to the basement he discovered a roll of clothing left on a box by one of the painters painting the building on fire. As it was saturated with oil there was considerable fire, and there were other rolls of clothing and oil cans and painters outfits all around. Assessor Anderson was called and the two formed a fire department and turned a stream on through a hose that was convenient extinguishing the flames. A few moments more and there would have been a big fire.

George Allen Killed.

F. E. Allen received a dispatch from Stockton, Calif., last evening announcing the death at that city of an electric shock, of George Allen, a son who a few months ago was in the city for several weeks. He was an electrician and his death occurred while in the discharge of his duty, the particulars not being given. The remains will be brought to Albany for burial. The deceased was 20 years of age.

On account of the recent big fire electric wires were down all through the burnt district and young Allen undoubtedly while replacing wires was killed by a live wire.

The remains will reach Albany Saturday morning. During the forenoon the burial will take place with a short service at the cemetery.

Shot At.

One of a gang of four or five hobos in the city yesterday afternoon was disposing of cheap rings under different pretenses, or trying to, when the attention of Acting Chief of Police Ramsey was called to the matter. He proceeded to the depot, near where the men were. Upon starting after them they ran and refused to stop, when Mr. Ramsey took a shot in their direction. He finally headed them off and gave one of them a shoulder blow between the eyes, putting him out temporarily. Then he examined their satchel, but as there was no direct evidence against the men he allowed them to go, and they left southward.

"Other People's Troubles."

It is much pleasanter to look for "Other People's Money" than "other people's troubles," but the writer would look for trouble if "Other People's Money" company does not fill their contract as advertised. From all reports, negotiations are pending to that effect.

Hall Caine's Best Story.

Hall Caine's best story "The Penitent" which was dramatized for W. E. Nankeville, and to which this manager is said to have given a magnificent production, closed its long run at the Park Theatre, Boston, only recently. That the story of this charming drama has been profitable goes with out saying, and that its artistic triumph and its well-told story have touched that well-spring of emotion—the heart—was evoked nightly by many play-goers, many returning for a second, a third and even a fourth time to view Hall Caine's beautiful creation. As unlike "The Christian" as black is to white, "The Penitent" yet preserves all the marks of that gifted writer, and stamps him as an author of originality and fervid conception. There are many strong scenes in "The Penitent" that will live in the memory of its beholders, notably the scene at the altar, when in trying to forbid the marriage, the villain is confronted by a little lass whom he has wronged. As many as seven or eight curtain calls are said to have been received nightly on this scene alone. Another picture, strong in its appealing power, in the finale of the fourth act when the hero asks his newly-wed wife to believe in him. Visit the Albany Opera House Friday night and see a great play grandly presented by a cast of uniform excellence, and you will come away feeling all the better for having seen "The Penitent."

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the U. P. church last evening gave a delightful "sock" social. Each guest had been provided with a neat flannel sock, with the request that two cents be brought for each, size of the sock worn by those attending. The fact that there were a good many fifty cent pieces and even dollar pieces might imply some immense feet, but it was nearer the size of the heart.

Corvallis Gazette: Robt. Johnson was the "observed of observers" last Friday as he drove about Corvallis. He had been down at the big prune orchard and while there some practical joker changed the wheels on his buggy, putting the hind wheels in front. "Bob" appeared to be wholly unconscious of the change.

FRIDAY.

THIRTY COMING.

The DEMOCRAT man today received the following self explanatory letter, showing which way the wind is blowing: Mr. F. P. Nutting, Dear Sir:—

Very recently some one has sent me the New Year's issue of the Oregonian. I have read your letter published in it with a great deal of interest. I am looking up a company to visit your state, leaving here Dec. 1st, and hope to be able to have thirty in my party of our representative men. I have promised to do all I can to make the trip as pleasant and at the least expense I could for them. An arrangement is made for a good $1 a day house to stop at while in your city. My company will represent at least $500,000, some for pleasure, some for investment and some for home. I am also working up a colony to locate in your state. Will leave here about next February. Will be pleased to hear from you and your real estate men.

Yours truly, J. J. REASON.

Attempted Burglary.

During last night an attempt was made to enter the residence of G. C. Turler in the first ward. Clarence Turner heard a noise at his window and saw a man in the window, which he had raised, just starting to climb in. He cried out to him and the fellow fled. Rushing to the front door Mr. Turner saw the man, a short, thick set fellow running around the Flinn corner and disappearing. An empty telescope was found at the corner of the house evidently left by him.

PENDLETON.

Pendleton, Or., Oct. 8 1902.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—

Pendleton is still enjoying the clear and bright sunshine and considerable dust, cold nights and warm days. The threshers are about all laid up after a successful run, and a great many farmers are still hauling in their grain, but the majority of the wheat is now safe in the many warehouses and probably one half or two thirds of the crop is sold at prices ranging from 60 to 52 1/2 cents per bushel, and the farmers are all well satisfied with the results they have reaped from their labor during the past year.

The Rooster met Will Williamson, a former Albany boy on the street a few days ago and was surprised to see a large stout young man with a stubby beard all over his face and would not have known him if he had not made himself known. He said he had put in about 20 days picking up wheat after a combine and had also been pulling the strings on a six horse team hauling wheat for about three weeks.

The Rooster also met Mr. and Mrs. James Churchill of Albany Prairie, on the street last week. They were summoned here by telegraph to attend their son Fred who was very bad with typhoid fever at the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Sloan have sold out here and are all packed and ready to leave for Albany to reside. A fare well reception was given them last week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, which was a success as Mr. and Mrs. Peterson know how to entertain. We all hate to see Mr. and Mrs. Sloan leave Pendleton but Pendleton's loss will be Albany's gain, and like most of the web-footers that are here, would rather enjoy the wags than to have the sand pile up under their toe nails, and moss behind their ears is preferable to alkali dust in their eye brows and corner of their mouth. Loren Harris took in the Walla Walla Fruit fair, the 27 and 28 of Sept. After his first experience with a barber it was hard to tell which one of the boys he was when the barber got through with him, and Pearl hardly knew him and he has been receiving invitations to evening parties every day since.

The brick work of the Pendleton Hospital is about completed and ready for the carpenters. The stone basement of the Pendleton Academy is completed and is now ready for the brick masons. The stone basement of the Christian Church has been completed for some time and now most of the lumber is on the ground ready for the carpenters. Carpenters are all busy here now and the chances are they will continue busy all winter.

It is very dry and dusty here now. We only had one night's rain this fall and not a sign of a fog or Oregon mist. When it rains here it is a hit, no mist and when it blows it is no mist either. SAG ROOSTER.

Harrisburg.

From the Bulletin: Mr. E. F. Wyatt, of Albany, but recently one of Harrisburg's oldest and most highly respected citizens, came up on business last week, returning home Saturday.

Mr. Barney May on Tuesday purchased 75 bales of hops from Mr. Sam Dodge, living across the river, the price paid being 21 cents per pound. Mr. May acting as the agent of Faber & Neis in the transaction.

The marriage of Miss Estella Huston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Huston, to Mr. Walter A. Reed, of Walla Walla, Wash., took place at 11 o'clock, Wednesday, Oct. 8, 1902, at the residence of the bride's parents, about one mile east of Harrisburg, Rev. W. H. Wilts officiating. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the family were present. The young couple took the northbound local for Walla Walla, where they will make their future home.

Died, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 4, 1902, William McDonald, of organic heart disease, aged 62 years. He deceased left a wife and four step-children, Messrs. J. R. and Lee Cartwright and Mesdames Sarah Howard and J. Foote to mourn his death.

William McDonald was born in Scotland in 1840, and in his younger days, was a seafaring man. As near as we can find out, he came to Harrisburg about 30 years ago. His first employment here was on a farm for Mr. Walter Huston. In late years he followed the profession of a painter.

William McDonald was an honorable man in every sense of the word—one of God's noblemen.

There was an attendance of 968 pupils in the public schools of Eugene last Monday.

Some of the Italian strikers in Pennsylvania received 2,500 rounds of ammunition, a suspicious fact. These foreign strikers are the ones which cause most of the trouble.

Change of Milk Route.

The Booth Kelly Co. have bought the big A. D. Hylard tract of timber land in Lane county, consisting of nearly 20,000 acres, for which about $250,000 will be paid. It is tributary to the mills at Springfield and Harrisburg.

The Guard says there is almost no interest at the U. of O. in student enterprises, the monthly has no manager, there is no rosters club, about one fourth the students stay for assembly, in short there is evidently no snap to things.

A new circuit case is J. W. Onsieck & Co., agt. H. G. McKinley and R. B. Montague, on a note for $300 made Dec. 22, 1900, with interest from March 22, 1902. Attachment is made against the property of H. G. McKinley alone, on 162 acres of timber land.

At Prineville.

From the Journal: Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Oline returned Monday from an extended trip in the Willamette valley. They visited in Eugene, Corvallis and Albany.

W. H. Parker has retired from the management of the Journal mechanical department, and will leave in a few days for the Willamette valley, where he will visit a while before entering the state printer's office at Salem. Mrs. Parker is recovering from her recent illness and will accompany her husband to Albany.

Frank Ward came up from Corvallis Monday, and has accepted a position with the Adamson & Winick Co. as druggist. He is a son of Scott Ward of Ward's Hutter fame, and a native of Linn county. The editor of this religious weekly has hunted ducks on the farm where Mr. Ward was born—just hunted and nothing more.

Back From Lake County.

Dr. Adams, Mr. Littler and Mr. F. M. Pomeroy returned yesterday from Lake County, where they had been in the Godfather company to take up timber claims. Each of the former secured satisfactory claims. Mr. Pomeroy, though, did not file. The jokes were on Mr. Pomeroy. At Ashland a sign reading Salo was seen. Thinking it was a saloon Mr. Pomeroy visited it and found only pop and soda water, nor could anything strong be found in the non-licence city. At Klamath Falls Mr. Pomeroy called at the court house and asked for meals and lodging, thinking it was a hotel.

Settled at Last.

Peace reigns and the Leroy-Burggraf controversy is no more, and it is now authoritatively stated that "Other People's Money" company has rearranged its route so as to give one performance here. This has been a successful effort on the part of Manager Burgess to maintain his rights and to give his patrons an attraction of known quality and congratulations are due him. It is understood that the date originally contracted for will be played.

The new cuts for the Linn county pamphlet have been received, after some delay and the pamphlets will be printed as soon as possible.

The circuit court will have two prominent criminal cases, Oregon agt. Tyer and Venom, charged with robbing the Brownville Bank, and Oregon agt. J. H. Cooper, assault on G. W. M. Oamey.

Mr. T. H. Miranda last evening displayed at the Democrat office eight tomatoes which completely filled a good sized box. They were so enormous that he had them photographed and will send the picture back to the seed man. The eight weighed 11 1/2 pounds. Four of them each weighed 1 pound 9 ounces.

The remains of George Allen arrived in Albany yesterday and were buried in the Masonic cemetery at 10 o'clock, a short service being held at the grave. The account of his death shows that he was on an electric light pole at Stockton when he came in contact with a live wire and a stroke of 45,000 volts and was of course killed instantly.

Rev. T. O. Thorogian next Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian church will be formally ordained as a minister of the church. His headquarters now are Mounton, Grant county, and he preaches at five points.
