Two normal schools in all the state of Oregon should support, one in western Oregon, that at Monmouth, and one in eastern Oregon, that at Weston.

Hons. W. R. Bilyeu, and F. J. Corbett have each had their pictures in the shape of caricatures published in the Portland papers and one is due in honor of Senator Miller.

Congress should be petitioned to put a revetment on the beach near the depot, which has been in great danger from the back water of the oceans of water in the neighborhood to-day.

One of the clerks down at Salem is Editor Curtis of Astoria, a former member. He has to have something. The Democrat man first saw Curtis in the presidential campaign of 1880 when he spoke through the state as a boy orator.

A good many of the members of the state legislature will spend Sunday in Portland, riding on free passes, and getting inspiration from metropolitan associations which will enable them to graft the dear people and make them think they are favored.

The bill creating the county of Stockman has passed the house. It should be defeated in the senate. Crook and Wasco counties have already been cut up too much. Every town up there wants to be a county seat, and the result is a continual itching for a new county.

Bills amending city charters are being rushed through on trolley lines, perfunctory affairs that should be attended to in some other way, so as to avoid august bodies like the Oregon state legislature being bored by monotonous reading of long charter amendments.

The military book giving the history and record of the Oregon regiment in the Philippine campaign presents the record of each member individually. Several of the Albany "boys" are recorded with having been in the guard house, but most of them have a clean sheet.

An Albany man tells of a blizzard back in Minnesota of so severe a nature that the next morning on the wind side of a house there was a pile of snow under the key hole blown through reaching from the floor to the key hole. Last night it rained so hard that there was a pile of rain under the key hole of the post office door reaching up nearly high enough for catfishing.

Johnson, the foot ball manager of the O. A. C. a few days ago sent a challenge to McMinnville for a game next fall, and said "I do hope you will beat Albany this year." By mistake he sent it to Manager Wallace of the Albany team, who returned it with "many thanks." Albany has also been asked for a game, but will have to await the intercollegiate schedule.

A New Engineer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Captain W. W. Hart, formerly local engineer in the Columbia River district, and who made the plan for opening the Columbia River by means of canals and locks, he was the Dailes and Cello, but who has for the past year and a half been on duty in the Philippines, has been ordered to Portland to relieve Captain William C. Langitt. Captain Langitt is ordered to Washington when relieved.

Guilty of Treason.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Colonel Arthur Lynch, member of Parliament for Galway, was today found guilty of high treason and was sentenced to death. When the trial was resumed today, counsel for the defense began summing up. There was no attempt to deny that Colonel Lynch supported the Boers, but counsel contended that his naturalization was in no way prompted by treasonable intent, and was solely for the advantage he would thus secure for journalistic purposes.

This Paper's Founder

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Jan. 23.—James O'Meara, who many years ago ranked among the foremost journalists of the Pacific Coast, died here tonight, aged 78 years. In editorial capacities he was connected with the San Francisco Examiner before it became a morning paper, with the San Francisco Chronicle and Portland Oregonian, and Portland News in the late '80s. He has been living here quietly for years. He leaves a wife and four children.

Three Women Killed.

New York, Jan. 23.—Three women were killed and five women and one man severely injured in a panic in Leopold Miller & Son's cigar factory on Crosby street today, as a result of a fire in an adjoining building.

Why Did He Change?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Men who are favoring the omnibus statehood bill and some democratic newspapers have called attention to the fact that President Roosevelt has changed his attitude on question of the admission of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. It is stated that a year ago his message was in favor of admission and that he is now opposed.

Three Men Killed.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 23.—Three men were killed and three seriously injured early today in the eastern end of the Wabash tunnel, South Side, by an explosion of dynamite, due, it is said, to some one turning on the electrical current without receiving the proper signal.

HOME AND ABROAD.

M. M. Peery has moved from Seio to Springfield, where he has purchased a drug store and will reside.

A subscriber at Halsey writes: "Halsey is changing postmasters, and there is a great kick all around."

A student of Columbia University is 5 feet 3 and weighs 89 pounds. If he can train down sufficiently he will be given the position of coxswain in the rowing crew.

W. T. Fogle has retired from the Prineville Journal, which he has sold to Black & Bailey, he declares at a loss of $1500, and he is now working in a barber shop in Prineville.

Mary F. Gibson, of Salem, has sued the Journal for $5,000 damages arising out of articles in the Journal in connection with a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Gibson against her husband and particularly in connection with the answer of the husband. The divorce suit has been decided in favor of the plaintiff, who having obtained redress against her husband now goes for the newspaper man.

Mrs. Priscilla J. Stafford died yesterday at Eugene at the home of her son J. M. Stafford, at the age of 84 years. She was a pioneer of 1852 coming here from her native state Pennsylvania. Her husband died in 1888. She was a woman of splendid character and attainments. Five children survive. B. A. Stafford, of this city, J. M., of Eugene, W. M., of Spokane, B. R. of Latah, Wash., and Mrs. B. E. Hervey, of Riverville, Wash.

Wm. Faber, the Albany brewer, yesterday purchased of W. R. Wing the property on the corner of avenue A and Fourth street, the consideration being $8000 cash. The lot was a frontage of 75 feet on avenue A, with a depth of 120 feet. The building is occupied by E. W. Riddle, who was granted a saloon license last night, and a restaurant, and the property brings in a good rental. The present price is a large advance on that paid by Mr. Wing last year.—Ashland Tiding.

It looks as though Corvallis would send a very small chorus to Eugene next May to assist in the musical festival that will occur there at that time. From present indications it would not be surprising if the local chorus gave up the matter, as there seems to be no interest or enthusiasm in regard to the festival. Great efforts have been made, but despite what has been done it seems almost impossible to get singers to attend rehearsals. The leaders have become discouraged over the outlook that we are informed they are on the verge of throwing the proposition up.—Time.

Eclectic Shorthand

Highly recommended by U. S. Circuit Court Judges:

From E. B. Sherman, Master, Circuit Court of the United States, Chicago, Nov. 22, 1901:
I have had in my employ since I have been a Master in Chancery of this court, stenographers writing different systems.—One of my stenographers writing the Eclectic system was with me 14 years, and her work was practically perfect. I have no hesitation in saying that in my opinion the Eclectic system, if employed by one adapted to stenographic work, will produce as good results as any system of stenography in use.

From Judge P. S. Grosscup, U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, Chicago, Nov. 19th, 1902:
I have observed the work of Miss Kate S. Holmes as a court stenographer, and pronounce her a very superior reporter, the equal of any I know. Miss Holmes tells me she uses the system called Eclectic Shorthand. I am acquainted with several other reporters who write the Eclectic system, and I know no better reporters.
