Greenleaf Having a Good Season.

You must hear him. This letter is one of many latones.

SAN LOUIS OMSRO, Cal., Feb. 12, 1903. Blanchard & Venter, (Lecture Bureau), L. A. Angeles, Calif. Dear Sir:—In reference to the entertainment given Monday night by Wm. Lee Greenleaf, I desire to say that the committee as well as the audience were delighted, so much so that we have already decided that Mr. Greenleaf shall be one of the attractions in our course next year on which occasion we believe standing room will be at a premium. In my opinion, after having heard some of the best impersonators of the East, Wm. Lee Greenleaf ranks second to none that I have heard. He is truly an artist and deserves the popularity he enjoys. H. H. KIRKBY, Pastor M. E. Church.

Mr. Greenleaf is sent to Albany by the Blanchard & Venter Company to advertise their talent. They hope to present a full course here next season. Mr. Greenleaf is one of the most popular. May 11.

AN ELOPEMENT.

An Old Man Runs Off with a 17 Year Old Girl.

Otho Hall, who has been connected with a second hand store opposite the Ross House, a widower with a large family, an old resident of the county, last evening eloped with Charlotte Maxwell, a daughter of Mrs. C. M. Maxwell, of Jefferson street, a girl of seventeen though looking hardly older than fourteen. It has been learned that they walked to Jefferson, where they secured a rig and drove to Aumsville, where they stayed last night. As the girl is over sixteen it is said there is no law that can reach them, though an effort is being made to capture the couple. Hall is said to have stated that they would get married on the ocean.

A Military Matter.

It has been known for some time that a complaint had been filed with Col. Yoran against Capt. Stellmacher of G Co. on account of a difficulty between him and Maj. Ellis during an inspection several weeks ago. The Captain was asked to resign, but yesterday formally asked of Col. Yoran a trial in regular form by a court, refusing to resign, and it is probable a court of three will be appointed by General Gantenbein for the purpose. In the meantime Capt. Stellmacher will continue in charge of the company unless the head officers should decide to relieve him of it during the disposal of the case. The matter has caused a good deal of comment as well as feeling among the members.

One on Walter Parker.

This forenoon F. M. Westfall was hauling off a horse which died this morning when he was killed by Walter M. Parker, the grocer, and asked to also carry off his mule cot which he said had died. The truck was backed up to the barn and the cot taken hold of for transportation, when he raised his head very much alive. In fact he was simply asleep.

PIERCE BEAR FIGHT.

Mr. Marcellus Armstrong returned this morning from Roseburg, thirty or forty miles west of which city, on the North Fork, he secured two fine timber claims for himself and family. He was accompanied by Fred Bateman as timber cruiser, and tells of a bear fight by Mr. Bateman, a young man of thirty three, which eclipses anything in the story books. Bateman was alone with his shepherd dog in the woods about three miles from Mr. Armstrong when the dog heard a noise and jumped through the bushes over some logs. Bateman followed and found himself up against a big black bear and her cub. The bear knocked him down and started to do him up, but the dog was same and got hold of the animal between the ears and held on for life, giving Bateman time to get out his jack knife and a fierce fight followed in which the animal was ripped so badly that she dragged herself off away and died. Mr. Bateman got one bad dig in the back, otherwise was not injured much. The cub was killed and Mr. Armstrong brought the skin home as a trophy. He will have it tanned and made into a rug.
