Catarrh

The cause exists in the blood, in what causes inflammation of the mucous membrane. It is therefore impossible to cure the disease by local applications.

It is positively dangerous to neglect it, because it always affects the stomach and deranges the general health, and is likely to develop into consumption.

Many have been radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the blood and has a peculiar alternative and tonic effect.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Promises to cure and keeps the promise. It is better not to put off treatment—buy Hood's today.

DEMOCRAT PICKS

For Congressman of the First District. A. E. REMES.

Mr. Hermann is a capable man, but he is not a Democrat. He is not a Democrat because he is not a member of the Democratic party. He is not a Democrat because he is not a supporter of the Democratic party. He is not a Democrat because he is not a friend of the Democratic party.

The report comes from practically every place in western Oregon that there is a rapid and reliable growth. The Democrat can see very plainly that all the cities in the valley are going ahead in a remarkably healthy way. This fact means a great deal more than if only one or two cities were receiving the advantages of the progress of the day. It indicates permanent and continued advancement all along the line.

Tacoma and Seattle are having a very fierce fight over the reception to the President. They are bound to attract attention some way. It is quite possible that this is part of the scheme for the two cities to get some notice after the presidential party has passed the metropolis.

The Democrat is thoroughly for Albany, and whenever a by one, no matter who it is, jumps on the city, the Democrat will be found in the swim rescuing any calamity that may be directed this way. It believes in Albany, and has reason to do so, because it knows the situation pretty well and can see the splendid advantage of the city as well as understand its excellent business. A man may come into the city some quiet day and looking along the street declare that the place is dead, but the Democrat is too broad to judge of a town by a single day and looks to the business of a year. It knows something about the industries of the city and their support, so that it never hesitates to speak out whenever any one speaks unkindly of it. Not only is it familiar with its present condition, but it believes thoroughly in its future. Everything is bright in the right direction.

Tom Johnson.

The Commoner (Dem.)—The democrats of the nation may be pardoned if they give audible expression to the satisfaction they feel over Tom Johnson's victory in Cleveland. When it is remembered that Cleveland is the home of Mark Hanna and that Johnson's election menaced the business as well as the political welfare of Mr. Hanna, and when it is further remembered that all the financial and corporate interests of the city were openly arrayed against him, Johnson's victory becomes the more remarkable. It proves both that Johnson is popular with the masses and that they are in favor of the reforms for which he has labored. Cleveland's mayor is a brave fighter, an honest man and a good democrat. It is fortunate for the party that it has such a leader in Ohio—strength to his arm! His sturdy blows are weakening the republican stronghold.

Cleveland Recorder (Dem.)—It should be understood that there is to be a leader in the state this Fall who can lead the democratic hosts. The old ideas of expediency and what we call "tact" are to be cast to the winds, and there is to be a campaign of principles conducted from the opening to the close. It is to be an appeal to the people to stand up for their rights and make a fight against the hosts of greed. Every democrat who has held out to the opposition will be denounced and the promise will be made that the democrats who are elected next will be servants of the people. Equal taxation and special privileges to none will be the battle cry.

Dubuque Telegraph-Herald (dem.)—Tom Johnson has put a quietus on the reports of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for President. He says the movement is unwise and undesirable, and talk of nominating him "is a positive injury to what I am trying to accomplish here." "I do hope," he said to the correspondent, "that you, as a friend of mine, will discourage this in every way." Johnson's next campaign probably will be for governor of Ohio.

Let Mr. Hermann Explain

It will be difficult to convince any reasonable person that Binger Hermann was not dismissed from the Commission-ership of the General Land Office under two indictments.

For incompetency. For conduct unworthy of an officer of the government. The statements authorized by the administration since Mr. Hermann left Washington are plain evidence that his business methods were inadequate to the proper handling of the affairs of the important department which was in his charge. His successor, Commissioner Richards, has effected radical improvements, although he has been incumbent only a trifle more than three months.

However embarrassing the allegation of incompetency may be, it is incomparably more mortifying, or would be to most men of normal ethical conceptions, to rest under the aspersions of having committed acts that were not consistent with the high duty entrusted to him.

No word has come from him, nor any from his friends, as to the underlying causes that led up to his dismissal. Accused of mismanagement, charged with culpable conduct, he has permitted the allegations to pass unchallenged.

Often, this is good policy, even for a guilty man. But, in the present instance the people want to know just why he was dismissed. They naturally want an explanation. Mr. Hermann is a candidate for the peoples suffrages. He aspires to be retained in public office, the air of which he has breathed for a quarter of a century. He proposes that the people of Oregon invest him with the robes of authority to stand in the Congress and speak for them on public issues.

If Mr. Hermann has been unjustly accused, then let the accused man stand forth in the dignity of injured innocence and hurl back into the teeth of his detractors the defense of one whose official life may safely be discussed by himself.

If Mr. Hermann has been unrighteously attacked by his own republican associates, then let him say and how. If he has deserved what has come to him in the form of charges, then let the lash of public condemnation be laid on his back. Such lash can not be too sharply wielded.

A Farmer Straightened Out. "A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and he told me to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it." Says C. P. Rayder, of Pattons Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me." For sale by all druggists.
