Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Boone county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The one was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me. For sale by all druggists."

JOS. J. SMITH,

Graduate Kansas City, Mo., Veterinary College, Veterinarian U. S. Army, will practice Veterinary Medicine, Surgery and Dentistry. An expert at castrating. Office, (123) First street, opposite W. H. Worth's Drug Store. Residence, 214 S. Chapin street, Albany.

The Oregonian yesterday said: "The Pope is nearer death than ever before." Certainly. And so are all the rest of us.

Mr. Bryan mentions the Cleveland boom as a comedy. As a matter of fact that was just about the size of it, and the principal actors were republican politicians.

The Oregon moseback is already almost a thing of the past. There is very little mosebackism in the state compared with a few years ago. People are awakening to the spirit of the age and scrapping all the barnacles off.

This week a wealthy New York man committed suicide. He had had enough of life. Wealth is not what makes life worth the living. The happiest people in the world are probably those in moderate circumstances. Contentment is the only secret of happiness, whether in the home of luxury and wealth, or poverty.

The Willamette Valley base ball league this season has been a somewhat quarrelsome affair. While it has been the means of furnishing some pretty good base ball amusement for the people there have been a number of unsatisfactory things about it. It has not been run at all along the lines of the organization and original agreement, but has become a go-as-you-please affair.

Called An Icicle.

Some one back east has discovered that Judge Parker of New York state, who has been earnestly mentioned for the Presidency on the democratic ticket, is an icicle. Perhaps it is some redoubtable man who has made this startling discovery. It is a pleasing fact that after months of hunting this is the only thing that can be said about Judge Parker. Otherwise he is one of the ablest and cleanest men in the United States. In his home life he is said to be very exemplary, just the kind of icicle the world needs in the homes, a man who loves his wife and is faithful to her, and places his home life first. As a judge he is clear headed and honest. As a man on the streets every report is that he is very close to the people. And yet in great headlines the associated press is telling the people that it has been learned that Judge Parker, who recently made a trip through the south in an icicle and is entirely out of the race for the nomination for the Presidency. He may be out of the race, but the reason will probably be that he is too much of a man and not enough of a politician to run for the office. What ever the result of the mention of him for the highest office in the gift of the people it is a fact that we need more Judge Parkers.

Government Crop Reports.

The weather during the past week was favorable for the growing crops, as well as for haying, except that it was too cool for corn. Haying is now general, and notwithstanding considerable clover was damaged by the rains of the previous week, the hay crop bids fair to be an average one. Pastures are good, except in some southern sections, where the ranges are drying up and feed is becoming short.

Fall wheat continues to ripen nicely, and in some few localities its harvest has begun. The crop is lighter than usual in southern Oregon and in the Grand Ronde valley; it is below the average in the Columbia river counties east of the Cascade Mountains, but much better than the average.

Spring wheat continues to improve, and it is heading and filling nicely; the straw, as a rule, is rather short, but the heads are of good size and the berry promises to be plump and of a good quality.

Oats are doing splendidly and the crop will be above the average. Barley has a good color and the outlook is favorable for average yields.

Hops, potatoes, onions, sugar beets and gardens have made good progress during the week, and but few complaints are made of damage being done by vermin or other pests.

Fruit continues doing nicely; prunes and pears are especially promising; apples are variable; in some localities the late varieties are reported good and the early varieties poor, while in other sections good crops are indicated for both early and late varieties.

Whistling in the Stanchion Row.

ANNA STEEN.

Listen! Heard ye ever song more joyous
Like the blackbirds wild in ebriose?
Jim and Jack and Little Joe
Are whistling in the stanchion row.
Tiro' the cracks the lantern lights
A-gleaming.

And the milk in dinning buckets streaming
Mingles sound with long-drawn breath
of kine
Love's bright even-star hangs o'er the pine
And the week-old moon lies toward the sea,

Ever shaping in its light for me
Fancies of the future's mystery.
Black woods fling from tree tops glistery
With the young moonlight, the echoes sweet;
Fairies flit with clear notes far and fleet,
And with tears my eyes are trimming
For the moon-lit vision dimming
White Jim and Jack and Little Joe
Are whistling in the stanchion row.

Jim's a doctor, good and groff;
Jack's a farmer, kindly, rough;
Stanchiv to his ideals true:
Clear his life as his eye's own blue—
Joe, my curly-headed Joe!
Little boy, I loved you so!
Could you not have stayed, my boy,
Still my little brother boy?
Time, thou'et stolen him away!
Now the husband throughs he sways;
Councils rapt, obey his voice.
Son of power, and beauty's choice—
—Never more my little boy!

Time has warped my hair with gray
Cere has brushed the bloom away—
Girlish dreams of name and power—
Baubles but for life's short hour—
All have gone the self-same way.
Life has brought me more than they,
Fawes the world that once I fought;
Gleams the hill where once I wrought
But, tho' life is wide a thousand-fold,
Tho' all use and love my days unfold,
Oh, the joy and old-time bliss
Could I once again be "Sis"
Could Jim and Jack and Little Joe
Be whistling in the stanchion row.

Grafts.

It is generally safer to follow another's advice than his example.

Slender is a hornet; you must kill it dead at the first blow, or not strike it at all.

When you "strike oil," stop boring; you may bore clean through and let the oil run out at the bottom.

Many a young person has died old by living a long time after he was dead.

"Love is blind," is it? Why is it, then, that the lover can see twice as much in his sweetheart as the other fellows can see?

Wit without sense is a razor without a handle.

Human happiness is realizing that one wants the very things one has.

Do not encourage yourself in the use of luxuries. It is a short step from too good bread to plum pudding, but it is a mile walk up a steep hill to get back again to dry bread.

I notice that many "self-made men" are inclined to be a little too proud of the job.
