

MONDAY. DOUBLE GOLDEN WEDDING.

On Nov. 21st, 1893, in Umpqua county, Oregon, at the home of Mr. John Scott occurred a double wedding. His two oldest daughters were married to Mr. J. M. Merrick and Mr. G. H. Barges.

This very unusual occurrence was celebrated in a quiet way, only a few of the relatives being present. Besides the two couples were Mr. J. H. Scott, wife and daughter, Miss Cora of Sheild, Mr. Scott is a brother of the Mrs. Merrick and Mrs. Barges, and Mrs. Hobbs-Ryerson a sister, and her husband, of Dayton, Wash., and Miss Loree Barges also of Dayton. A sumptuous repast was spread.

The celebration of golden weddings does not occur often, and on occasion where two sisters are married on the same day and they and their husbands all live to see the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding is indeed rare. The old couples are in fairly good health and can tell of many incidents which took place in the pioneer days of Oregon. They all lived in Albany and many of the citizens of this place will remember them.

Both couples have raised large families of whom all that are living reside in Washington, but W. H. Barges, who, for a long time was conductor on the O. & E. R. R. who now lives at Ashland, Or.

Mr. Merrick and Mr. Barges were veterans of the Indian wars of 1855-8 and have lately received pensions from the government as pay for the services rendered so long ago.

People Turned Away

Scores of people were turned away from the evangelistic service at the Christian Church last night because of lack of room. Evangelist Lockhart preached a strong discourse giving his reasons why he is a Christian and a Christian only. At the close of the sermon five people took their stand for Christ. This makes fifty additions to the church during the past two weeks. Tonight Mr. Lockhart's subject will be "Excuses." A number are to be baptized tonight and a great service is expected. Mr. Hendersaker the singing evangelist will open the song service promptly this evening and will sing a solo. The best seats will be taken early.

R. B. Rice & Co. recently moved several homes in Corvallis, where they have more contracts. They also have the contract for moving the chapel and the superintendent's residence on the Steitz reservation. They are a busy company, backed by a splendid reputation for reliable work.

THE OLD LINNS.

Frank McConley, of Olympia, Wash., in yesterday's Oregonian, gave a very readable write-up on the base ball in the Willamette Valley, accompanied by an illustration of the Linn Base Ball Club of Albany, champions of Oregon in 1878. The same picture may now be seen on the walls of the brick office of the water works, as left there by Jim Foster, a member of the club. The Linn victories of 1878 were: Linn 37, Eugene 12; Linn 32, Jefferson 9; Linn 29, Post 2; Linn 20, Salem 17. Their only defeat was Eugene 27, Linn 25.

Phil Pattimore says the reason Albany lost the second Eugene game was because while a man was leading off second he threw the ball to Hawkins so swift as to crack his hand open, necessitating his going out of the game and a green hand going in. In those days Phil became so expert as to be able to catch a ball behind his back when thrown across the field, three times out of four. He is the only member of the club remaining in Albany.

The club was as follows: Phil Pattimore, now the champion blue rock shot of the valley, catcher; Frank M. McCullley, now of Olympia, pitcher and right field; Jim Foster, now of Washington, D. C., short stop; George Hill, now of California, first base; O. Hawkins, present whereabouts unknown, second base; Mack Monteith, now of Astoria, Portland photographer, left field; Rev. Stevens, now in business in Idaho, center field; Ed Clark, now a Portland dentist, right field and pitcher.

McCullley says: "In 1878 the Linn base ball club flourished at Albany, and they played teams at Portland, Salem, Jefferson and Eugene. They were defeated but once during the season, and that by Eugene in two runs. Linn defeated Eugene in the first game by a decisive score, and the latter refused to play the third game. Among the players of the Linn was Rev. Mr. Stevens, an Episcopal minister of Albany. He played a remarkable fielding game, and frequently made running catches that were more than sensational. He was fast on bases, a sure hitter, and in this day would make the professionals look to their laurels. But he could never be persuaded to wear the regulation knee-pants of the baseball uniform."

PLENTY OF CARS.

Agent Frank reports plenty of cars for shipment of anything from peanuts to lumber. Seventeen went up to Wendling to-day for the Booth Kelly business, where the side tracks have been full. Not cars but something else is the trouble. Seventeen loaded cars of lumber also arrived.

A one legged darkey put up at the hotel de McClain last night.

This is the last day of 1897 shooting Chinese pheasants, under the sanction of the law.

Several of the witnesses in the Logan case went home today. Logan, who was acquitted, will go home by the west side.

W. L. Hayward, of Berkeley, who trained Albany last year, has been engaged to train Willamette next year. Hayward is all right.

Three of the best foot ball men in the east are Oregon men, Capt. Smith of Columbia, Quarter back Rockwell of Yale and Thos. Hammond of West Point.

TUESDAY.

John Gony began business this morning as the regular carrier of R. F. D. 4.

The government weather prediction is: Tonight and Wednesday occasional rain, 11.02 inches of rain fall at this city during November as recorded by Observer F. M. French.

Mr. Gale Hill will probably be elected manager of the Albany foot ball team for next year, which will mean business.

Albany is the pruned center of the valley. Five car loads of the product were shipped to Albany last week from Lebanon.

PRICES—5c, 50c and 75c. Curtains up at 8:15.

RAILROAD TALK.

It was reported at the depot this noon that there is talk of the sale of the Corvallis and Eastern Railroad to indicate bonds for which have already been floated. That talk includes 3000 acres of timber land and the property adjoining Albany. That the promoter will be here this week to look into the matter. Railroad men are sceptical.

Chief Engineer Hanson, of the S. P., passed through the city this noon for Dunsmuir, Calif. He stated that he would return to Albany in about two weeks and lay out new yards at this city. Whether this also means the transfer of the depot to this side of the yards, as it should, is not known.

Hon. J. K. Weatherford and Gen. Sullivan, who have been in New York City, are expected home the last of this week.

Six Confessed Faith in Christ

The auditorium and lecture room were filled last night to listen to Evangelist Lockhart's sermon on "Excuses." The sermon was strong and many pronounced the service the best thus far in the meeting. At the close of the sermon six people confessed their faith in Christ, and a number of people were baptized. There will be baptismal service tonight, and at the opening of the service Rev. Lockhart will answer the question, "Is Sprinkling Baptism?" The sermon will be on the subject, "A Bible Conversion."

We Congratulate.

The friends of Rev. H. L. Reed have been in a flutter of excitement today over the announcement, made in letters to friends, of his engagement to Miss Elsie M. Dehman, a New York young lady, who was in the party that made the Palestine trip. Most hearty congratulations are hereby extended to both parties. Mr. Reed will leave Dec. 31 for Germany, where he will study a year, and the marriage will take place on his return.

A Small Wreck.

A freight train passing through Eugene last night was in such a hurry to get to a live town down this way that two of the cars were wrecked and thrown crossways of the track. This delayed the overland until 12:30 this afternoon.

Married.

Mr. Edgar G. Jenkins, of Seattle, and Miss Hela O. Stuart, of this county, were united in marriage, on Monday afternoon, Nov. 30, 1903, at the Baptist parsonage, in Albany, by Rev. W. W. Davis. They left for their future home in Seattle, where Mr. Jenkins is in the photograph business.

A Box Factory.

Roner Bros. have rented the large building of Robert Murphy, on Second street beyond Montgomery and will in a few weeks establish in it a box factory and wood working establishment, an important industry in Albany.

Born.

On Nov. 28, to Mr. and Mrs. William Peacock Jr., a son, W. B. Peacock's first grand child. Considerable cackling in Cloverdale.

Henry Kivros returned this noon from a Seattle trip.

Medford is raising a $3,000 bonus for a big lumber company.

Ed. McCune, of A. M. Reeves & Co. went to Portland yesterday on a short trip.

Judge Palmer returned last evening from a conference with Judge Scott.

D. Bussard went to Eddyville this afternoon, called there by the serious illness of his father.

Coach McFadden, of the P. U. passed through the city this noon for his home in California.

Mrs. Bates returned to her home in Corvallis this noon after a visit at the home of her father Rev. Morrill.

Miss Bertha Leabo, of Forest Grove returned home yesterday after a visit with Miss Frankie Payne.

Dr. N. B. Atty, who has been in business in Albany the past year, will leave in a few days for Seattle to reside.

The U. of O. have made a hit in securing W. L. Hayward as trainer for next year. They bid too much for his services for Albany to meet them. He is a fine trainer.

Besides J. R. Wyatt, the Portland Journal correspondent says Judge H. H. Hewitt and G. W. Wright are being mentioned for the office of circuit judge on the republican ticket.

Carl S. Dudley, wife and son, who have been visiting Mr. Thomas and family in South Albany, left this noon for Los Angeles and thence to their home in Buffalo, N. Y. Mrs. Dudley is a sister of W. S. Rialy.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Helm, are expected to arrive any time this afternoon on the way to Nagasaki, Japan, where they are going as missionaries. They will be invited to be present at the Missionary meeting at the Presbyterian manse tonight, and Mr. Helm will be in College at the prayer-meeting to-morrow Mr. Helm laid down a professorship in Princeton to take up his new work.

Frank Marchant, who has been at the Neeland hospital for seven weeks left last night for his home at Lone, Calif., being taken to the train on a stretcher, his legs being too weak for use. While tramping south he fell from the top of a car near Jefferson both legs being dislocated. He had been a railroad fireman for six years and was next in order for an engine when he allowed his appetite to get the best of him. He declares that hereafter there will be no "footlooseness."

MISFITS.

Some of Albany's broken hearts seem to be easily mended.

The Albany, who gets a toy pistol is requested to aim high.

Railroad talk is always to be taken with several grains of allowance.

The first leap year for eight years is nearly here, and the men are in danger.

The world needs less hair-splitting, more active Christianity, service for the good of mankind.

An eastern man has just gone crazy over breakfast foods. His brain evidently was of a mushy order.

The necessity for moving the depot to this side of the tracks continues as intense as ever. Get a move on, Mr. S. P.

There were only fifteen weddings in Linn county during November, a poor showing. The number is generally over twenty.

Of course the organ and hack factory proposition will go. The bonus should be raised in a day. Now is the time to show our mettle.

The Democrat reported Multnomah drummer's remarks that Multnomah could have defeated U. of O. over 20 to 0, and now the Register jumps all over the drummer for a touchdown in the mud. Great Heffelfinger, but this foot ball is a tough old game from the gridiron to the newspaper office.

Most anything can be figured out in foot ball. Nevada defeated the great Berkly team. O. A. O. defeated Nevada, and Albany defeated the O. A. O., therefore the Albanians are the champion college team of the coast.

Ho-o-ray, ho-o-ray, Let the bands play, And opposing gear From shore to shore.
