Kaleidoscopic Scenes.

Jerusalem and the Crusades is the spectacular novelty of Ringling Broth-ers' World's Greatest Shows this year. Twelve hundred characters are concerned in the portrayal of this vividly interesting story of the Crusades, and more than 2,000 costumes of richest fabric and artistic design are worn in the kaleidoscopic scenes. A ballet of 300 and a singing chorus of 200 are incidental features. The music, classic in character, and especially written for the huge production, is rendered by the largest grand pipe organ, and the only portable one, ever made, accompanied by a selected hand of 50 soloists. All the exciting pastimes of the middle ages, jousting tilts, sword combats, spearing competitions, athletic explsits, squestrian feats, and many other exercises of daring and skill, are thrillingly fillustrated in a huge tourney to celebrate the departing warriors.

This wonderful circus will exhibit Albany, Thursday, Sept. 1.

Admission tickets and reserved numbered chairs will be on sale at Ringling Brothers' downtown ticket office Burkhart & Lee's Drug Stone, show day at exactly the same prices charged in the wagons on the show grounds. cerned in the portrayal of this vividly in-

Stop, Look both Ways, and Listen

A railroad company paid a heavy 'awyer's fee for the best notice of warning against crossing the tracks carelessly. The boyt was the warning. It is a good thought for other places in life. Young people, preparing to launch out upon life, ought to stop, look both ways, and THINK. You can not expect to succeed in life without an education, such a one as you can secure at nominal cost, and in pleasant and helpful surroundings at
