

The W. G. M. S.

Emma Dean Anderson, a missionary in India for twenty-four years, one of the most prominent missionaries of the United Presbyterian church, spoke last night to a large audience. The picture she presented of India's degradation, with its false worship of all manner of things, its infamous licentiousness, polygamy, farce of a divorce law, etc. show the need of Christian teaching. Even now India is in the rut of centuries ago with its wooden plows, and ox threshing, with no hopes of redemption except through Christianity. The work being done by the missionaries was comprehensively portrayed. This afternoon a reception was being tendered the delegates and those entertaining them at the home of Rev. White. Tonight the convention proper will begin at 7:30 o'clock, opening with a prayer service, lead by Miss Elizabeth Irvine, first vice president, the opportunity of the age. The president, Mrs. A. N. Porter, will speak on the responsibility of opportunity. The officers will be presented, committees appointed and a social hour had. The work of the convention will then be attended in sessions at 8:30 to 12 and 1 to 5, with evening sessions devoted to more public topics, to which all are invited. Another crowd of delegates arrived this noon, and most of those heretofore given are now in the city. The DEMOCRAT will give a full report of the convention.

The Western Women.

The June edition of this magazine published at Portland, just out, will be of particular interest to Albany people. Among the many articles in this special number several are by or about Albany people. Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway tells about a busy life, Rev. J. A. Hanna has an article, Dr. Rovia Alexander gives a sketch of her father an early Albany physician. Mrs. L. A. Nash tells about the women workers of the Episcopal church, and Mrs. Henrietta Brown writes about her friend Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney, and Mrs. E. M. Wilson of the Dalles an early Albany teacher tells an incident occurring on a trip to Yamhill county, taken from an old diary.

Grocery Store Attached.

The store of Walker & Snyder, on Main street, was attached this morning by Sheriff White in the suit of R. L. Sabin, representing Portland creditors, for $541.15. Mr. Walker had just sold his interest in the store to Mrs. Simson, an old lady, who recently received some money on insurance, it is said under the statement that there was nothing against the property. The property is valued at about $2,900. The case makes it unfortunate for the present owners, entirely innocent and both supposing all debts were paid.

W. O. W. Decoration.

Notwithstanding a heavy rain the Woodmen of the World observed their decoration services yesterday according to program. The exercises were had at the grave of Lake Dorris, the last to pass away. Three others in the city cemetery and two in the Masonic cemetery were decorated in the pretty flowers of the season. L. L. Swan made a short address in memory of the six members who had died.

Senator Jones came over from Toledo today. J. A. Shaw left for Portland this afternoon. Miss Minnie Merrill went to Portland this afternoon. Mrs. A. T. Riggs, of Dallas, returned home this afternoon. L. E. Hamilton went to Portland this morning on a business trip. G. W. Wright went to Salem this afternoon on legal business. Postmaster Stewart of Halsey went to Portland this afternoon. Mr. Elmer Conn, of Salem, returned home today after an Albany visit. Mrs. Maggie Shupe David left for Shaniko this afternoon on a few days trip. Mayor Elmore, of Brownsville, was among the prominent Brownsville men here today. Mrs. U. G. Hayne and son, of Astoria, arrived this noon on a visit with Albany friends. Banker J. S. Cooper, of Independence, was looking after his Albany property today. Dr. Davis, of Corvallis, Oregon's leading oyster raiser, was in the city this afternoon. Lawyer A. Tussing, of Brownsville, is looking after the Warner habeas corpus case this afternoon. Mrs. M. E. Brink, of Prineville, joined her husband, Judge Brink, here this noon. Tomorrow they will leave for home. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tweedale and A. W. Bowersox went to Portland this afternoon to the grand lodge I. O. O. F. Rev. Bower went to Salem this afternoon on a two days visit. He was accompanied by an old eastern college mate, Rev. Adams, of Wabashburg. Jefferson Review: M. McAlpin was down from Albany yesterday endeavoring to secure a license to open a saloon in this city. Messrs. Dalgleish and Withers, of Lebanon, returned this noon from the day where they had been to secure residences for the summer. Mrs. Ball, of McMinnville, passed through the city this afternoon on her way to Jefferson, where her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Cusick, is ill. Mrs. Aubright, of Halsey, returned today from a trip to Corvallis. Mrs. Aubright is the mother of Mr. E. Tyler, now of Salem. Miss May Pollock, of Dallas, arrived this noon to train the members of the girls and seniors of the college for a singing commencement exercises.

A Case of Forgetfulness.

The DEMOCRAT Saturday evening told of the theft of a pan of several articles left by J. B. McFarland in the warehouse of S. E. Young & Son. Not finding them Mr. McFarland purchased duplicate articles of all of the things and went home. In the evening it was learned that Mr. McFarland had himself taken the things from the warehouse, brought them around on Second street and left them in a wheelbarrow in front of the store of the Stewart & Sox Hardware Co. and gone off to attend to some other business, forgetting the fact.

John L. Sullivan Coming.

The DEMOCRAT is informed in a letter received from Tacoma that John L. Sullivan will appear in Albany in the near future. He has a monologue, which is declared to be a surprise to those not familiar with the fact that Sullivan can talk. A boxing match with big Jim McCormick, who is said to be a comer, is a feature. At one time the most talked of pugilist in the world a great many will be curious to see the big fellow. Sullivan will be here June 21.

Promptly Paid.

Mrs. Effie May Poindexter desires to extend her thanks to the 2500 for the prompt payment of the policy held by her late husband, amounting to $1658. -Socio News.

A woman and seven children, the oldest about 7, arrived this noon on their way from Toledo to Junction. The government weather prediction is tonight and Tuesday partly cloudy with showers. The river is 3.5 feet. The Ladies Lewis and Clark committee today shipped another fine assortment of Linn county roses to the exposition.

Mrs. Florella Turner has begun the erection of a residence adjoining that of her home on Ferry street. It will be rented. Marvin Turner was at the school picnic at Porter Slate's Grove Saturday, with a fine stand of ice cream and other good things to eat and did a good business.

Grandpa Crawford, the Apollo among the Albany barbers, went to Portland yesterday, and his fellow artists report is expected home with a bride.

Lowell Tweedale, formerly of this city, now with Bille Taylor, the confectioner, of Salem, and Miss Mable Calvert, a clerk in Taylor's store were married Friday evening.

Mr. William Fortmiller returned Saturday evening from his eastern trip. Besides attending the general assembly of the Presbyterian church at Wilona he paid a visit to the Atlantic cities and then was at his boyhood home at Newark, N. Y., for several days.

W. W. Francis, Hon. J. K. Weatherford, E. J. Seeley, Hon. Barnes, Henry Kirsch, John Robson, P. C. Anderson and H. C. Chamberlain left today for Portland to attend the grand lodge I. O. O. F., which will convene in that city tomorrow.

W. B. Gilson, after inspecting many places from the North Pole to Goldfield, Nev., has decided to settle in Salem. He has purchased the six chair shop of Ryan, on Commercial street, and will move with his family to that city tomorrow to reside. A good barber and a rustler.

Zombro, 2:11, said to be the best stallion on the coast, will pass through Albany tomorrow morning on the fast freight, for Portland, where he will be the coming season. Two of Linn county's best colts, owned by Dr. Hodges of this city and A. W. Blackburn of Lebanon, are Zombro's, and show their paternity.

A big picnic was held on Saturday at the Porter Slate Grove near Tangent. Several attended from this city and report a pleasant time. The Ball Plains school received the prize of $5 for the best drilled school. Flossie Thompson received a prize of $2.50 for the best recitation by a pupil under 12 and Mabel Archibald for the best over 12 years of age. G. W. Wright delivered an eloquent address.

The Linn County Pioneer picnic will begin the annual programs on next Wednesday at 10 a. m., when the address of welcome will be delivered by Rev. Hollingsworth with a response by C. E. Walker. The Philomath College quartet will be present all day Thursday and Friday. W. E. Yates will deliver the annual address, on Friday Hon. Walter Toze will speak. Every day there will be contests of different kinds and band concerts.

THE W. G. M. S.

Of the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

A RECEPTION.

Last evening from three to five o'clock, a reception was held at the pastor's home, in honor of the delegates, the ladies of the congregation and the hostesses from the other Albany congregations. The belated trunks must have all arrived, judging from the very handsome gowns and bonnets which were in evidence at this reception. Promptly at 3 p. m. the guests began to arrive. The first comers stayed to the last, so that there must have been over two hundred ladies in the spacious rooms at one time. Amid the chorus of voices, introduction would have been hard to give, but as each lady came, her name clearly written on a card, and the card pinned to her dress, no introduction was needed. Nearly every state had its representative and Colorado shook hands with Pennsylvania and California greeted Iowa and so on, till ere departing time came, all were friends. The beauty of the floral decorations was a constant source of remarks, especially from the Eastern delegation, to whom the roses of Oregon are a revelation. Under the direction of M. S. Dr. Beers, some of the Albany ladies together with the guests of the parsonage, had been busy all forenoon, and the result of their labors was eminently satisfactory. The parlor was given over to pink roses and vines; the music-room looked cool and inviting with its white roses and green ferns. In the hall were the beautiful variegated branches of the elderberry and peeping from among them the snow-white blossoms of the Dentzia, while the newest post was surmounted by a basket of white roses. In the dining room where dainty refreshments were served, a jardiner, filled with magnificent cloth of gold roses adorned the center of the table, while white carnations tied with tiny lavender ribbons formed the favors which were pinned on the ladies as they left the room.

THE CONVENTION.

The Twenty-second Annual Convention of the Women's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church of North America was opened at 7:30 o'clock in the evening with a prayer service, conducted by Miss Elizabeth Irvine, first vice president, with music lead by the large church choir of this city. Prayer was offered by Mrs. J. M. Marks, daughter of one of Oregon's early missionaries. Miss Irvine spoke of the wonderful opportunities made possible by modern invention and convenience. Prayer was offered by Mrs. T. J. Wilson of Eugene, and Mrs. W. W. Spaulding of Seattle, Anthem by the choir quartet. Miss Irvine spoke of the birth of the United Presbyterian church in Oregon and the fitness of the present convention here. A letter was read from the youngest child of the association, Oklahoma, sending greetings. The president of the association, Mrs. A. N. Porter, of Norwood, Ill., then spoke on "The Responsibility of Opportunity." The need of work for the master not only in foreign fields, but as well in our own land, among the freedmen, the Indians of the agency and all about us, was made plain, and woman's responsibility in bringing those in darkness out into light was presented with force. The closing motto: "The women of all lands for Christ." A song by the church chorus. The President introduced the workers of the society present: Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson, Xenia, O., senior editor of the Missionary Magazine, present at nineteen of the conventions; Mrs. S. M. Kelso, of Xenia, O., also of the Magazine; Mary W. Porter, secretary for 17 years, the grandmother of the convention; Mrs. McDonald of the orphans home; Mrs. R. A. Elliott, the freedmen's secretary; Mrs. N. Wiley Stevenson, editor of the Junior Magazine; Mrs. J. B. Hill, the treasurer, of Pittsburg, Penn.; Mrs. Mary Clokey Porter, the friend of the boys and girls, who always says give; Miss Elizabeth Caughey, literature secretary, and Mrs. H. C. Campbell, secretary of the work among the Indians. All full of bright thoughts. The roll was called and responded to by the regular delegates. The following committee was appointed: Credentials:—Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Mrs. Eva Livingstone, Mrs. J. C. Low, Mrs. Laura Wilson, and Miss Minnie Quay. The session closed with benediction by Rev. T. J. Wilson.

TUESDAY MORNING.

After morning worship, which was led by Mrs. D. E. Wherry of Pawnee Presbyterian, and the report of the credential committee, followed by the roll call, the forenoon was taken up by the reading of reports. Mrs. MacDonald read the report of the Secretary of the Women's Board, Mrs. Samuel Youard, in which touching reference was made to the death of Mrs. Dr. Reid, who had so long and faithfully served as foreign secretary. Miss Caughey, the literature secretary, followed. She gave such a tempting list of the wares she has to offer for sale in the rear of the church, that surely her heart would be made glad during the convention by many sales of the leaflets and missionary books recommended by the Women's General Missionary Society. The treasurer's report, always rather dreaded as a dry affair, was so gracefully prefaced by the secretary, Mrs. J. B. Hill, that she had the closest attention of each member of the convention. Her remarks took the form of an eulogy on her predecessor, Miss E. J. Sloan, who for 17 years had served the society as treasurer. The total receipts for the year for all purposes together with the balance on hand from last year, amounts to $116,197.86. The disbursements $107,297.72. An interesting discussion followed this report as to the best method of sending in the monies to the general treasurer. The conclusion arrived at was that to send at stated times, either monthly or quarterly, made the least work for the treasurer as well as making it easier to pay the salaries of missionaries on time. Mrs. H. C. Campbell followed with her report of the Finance committee. A system, by which needy congregations can secure a loan at a lower interest than it would be possible to get at a bank, from the funds of the General Missionary society. The interests on these loans is used for running expenses of the society of the board. During the opening hour Mrs. Gibson, of Portland, told of what the Travelers Aid committee of the Y. W. C. A. is doing towards safeguarding young women during the exposition. At the suggestion of the President it was decided to have a memorial service in honor of Mrs. D. R. Reid at 9:15 Wednesday morning. This afternoon's proceeding will appear tomorrow. The program tonight will be a good one. Mrs. Mary Clokey Porter will lead a thank offering service and Miss Kate A. Hill of India, will deliver an address, and there will be a pleasing song service. CONVENTION ITEMS. This is the rose convention. The number of hosts who think they are entertaining the pick of the delegates is only less than the number of delegates who think they have the very best of hosts. How the Albany Juniors look at us. Small boy—"Aw these delegates don't know nothin'; one of them was looking at a dandelion and she said, 'aint that a daisy!'" At the opening session, the roll call showed 104 delegates entitled to vote, the largest number ever reported at the opening session of a General Missionary Society. Miss Emma Dean Anderson addressed the children in one of the public schools and told them about the children of India. She so aroused their appetite for missionary news that they sent for Miss Cora Dickey this morning, to tell them about Egypt. An excursion to the Pacific ocean on Friday is being discussed. No umbrellas are needed this morning and the sun is making such gallant efforts to dispel the clouds that we hope that the only thing which calls for criticism in Albany, the weather, is going to fall into line and smile upon the convention. Some very attractive and suggestive exhibits are made by Mrs. R. A. Elliott of work and pictures from fifteen freedmen schools; by Emma Dean Anderson of articles showing the wearing apparel and customs in India, a splendid exhibit, and by Miss Armstrong of work from the Warm Springs Indian Agency. Fred Elliott, the printer, went to Dallas today. Dr. C. W. Lowe went to Corvallis this afternoon. Frank O'Neil returned from California this afternoon. Rev. J. E. Snyder, of Brownsville, went to Portland this afternoon. Miss Bertha Wilkins, of the college, left this noon for her home at Bandon. Miss Anna Flinn left this noon for Eugene to remain during commencement. Joel Huston, of Harrisburg, is visiting with his brother, Ex-Sheriff Huston. N. H. Wheeler returned to Woodburn yesterday and didn't forget his suit case. Mayor Johnson of Corvallis, was in the city this morning on his way to Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Orin Judd, of Detroit, were in the city this morning on their way to Portland to attend the fair. Dr. Tracey Parker, of Oregon City, returned home yesterday after a visit at the home of his father C. C. Parker. Mr. Ralph Robinson came down from Eugene this morning on a short trip, which will be appreciated by another personal. Bishop Christie and Father Brusso, of Portland returned home this noon after a trip to Albany in the interest of the church of this city. Mrs. A. B. Slauson and two girls arrived this noon from Washington and expect to spend the summer here. Mr. Slauson will arrive in August and have charge of the exposition library until the close of the fair. Mrs. E. E. Goff and children left this afternoon for their new home at Hood River, where Mr. Goff has been several months. Their new residence there is not yet completed, but will be in a week or two. Mrs. Libby, one of the delegates to W. G. M. S. convention is accompanied by her son McLean Libby, of the Washington Observer. The DEMOCRAT also acknowledges a call from Mrs. Dillon, of Coreopolis, Penn., whose husband is a newspaper man. Mr. and Mrs. Greer and Mr. Keyes of Denver, have been in the city the guests of C. C. Parker and family, and left this morning for Portland and the exposition before returning home. Mr. Parker and Mr. Greer for several years were fellow express conductors in the middle west. Mrs. J. W. Fleu, wife of the superintendent of the money order department of the big Minneapolis post office, left for Portland this morning after a visit with her former Minneapolis friends Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ho man. She is one of party of eighteen doing the coast and the fair. EXECUTRIX'S NOTICE. Hood River went dry by 40 votes. Several Oregonian canvassers are in the city. Last night at the home of Mr. Nelson Frances, Kate, Vera, Vesta and Adele held a weeping party over the departure of Miss Adele for Hood River. Some additions to the Linn county exhibit are some immense Logan berries raised by Dr. Starr and some wheat raised by Robert Douglas, which is 6 feet 9 inches tall, higher than Mr. Douglas.

H. A. Wicks, of the Red Crown Mill, residing on Baker street, was awarded a free ticket by the Linn county committee for a trip to the Lewis and Clark fair, for the best cabbage presented for the display. 10 1-2 pound cabbages from December planting is pretty good.
