Great Northern Election.

Dr. A. J. Hodges, returned yesterday morning from Eugene, and continued to Portland, after his Zombro colt.

The new mill was shipped from San Francisco on the 17th and was expected in Eugene yesterday. It will be taken at once to the mines, where everything is ready to install it at once and it will be set to running night and day, giving the mine a capacity of at least 75 tons of ore a day, perhaps more on account of the softness of the ore.

Killed Two Deer.

F. M. French returned last evening from the ocean where he had an enjoyable week's outing. In company with D. and M. Bussard and W. H. Holman he made a trip down the coast twenty miles south of the Alsea, where they killed a couple of fine buck, some of the venison from which Mr. French brought home with him.

Licensing Opticians.

Dr. C. W. Lowe, the oculist-optician, passed through the city this morning on his way to Portland. The Dr. had heard about the proposed ordinance requiring a license from opticians, and declared it would be unconstitutional unless local opticians are also licensed.

Decided in Favor of Mrs. Mansfield.

The Telegram: Judge George this afternoon handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the well-known suit of Hattie E. Mansfield against Claud H. Mansfield, which was tried in the Circuit Court two months ago. The plaintiff was awarded a one-third interest in the defendant's real estate, the costs and disbursements in the case and the custody of the two children.

Mrs. Mansfield therefore gets one-third of the famous Breitenbush Hot Springs, in Marion county, 14 miles from Detroit, the terminus of the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad. This, it was claimed at the trial, was the purpose of the suit, as Mrs. Mansfield now has an undivided interest in the property, which is regarded as very valuable. The litigants formerly lived in Albany, but the plaintiff now makes her home in Portland.

The Blue River Road.

Mr. A. Jack McClure, superintendent of construction on the Calapooia wagon road being built into the Blue River mines, went to Portland this morning to attend the fair. Mr. McClure reports good progress on the road into the mines, which promises to be needed in a very marked manner by a big traffic with the mines. His plan is to make a good road or none at all. He isn't merely building a trail but he is putting in a good road, so that a trip into the mines will be an easy thing and a pleasure. It will be possible to go from Albany into the mines in a day, where it takes two days by the Eugene side.

A Malheur Pamphlet.

F. K. Churchill, the business printer is just completing a big contract of about 20,000 pamphlets for Malheur County. It contains 20-25-30-40-50-60-70-80-90-100 pages, displaying the resources of that prosperous county well. The work has been well done and reflects credit on the rustling printer who secured the contract and did the work. Getting a contract like this past Portland is certainly a feather in the cap of the Albany printer.

A Congressional Candidate.

W. I. Vawter, of Medford, a prominent candidate for congress on the republican ticket, was in the city to-day. Mr. Toozo and Mr. Huston have been through the valley some and it is entirely proper for Mr. Vawter to be out among his constituents, while taking his summer outing. When the votes in the direct primaries are counted Mr. Vawter will be up towards the top if not on top.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

By Cuticura After the Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced

EIGHT DOCTORS

And Many Remedies Failed to do a Cent's Worth of Good

"I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and break. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none did me any good, as my hands were so bad when I got through doctoring as when I began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, I often felt like giving up my position. Before I started to work I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. In fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, that is all over now.

CURED FOR 50c.

"After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a 50c. box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I used any, and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment."

WEDNESDAY.

MISFITS.

A Mixture of Things and Thoughts

About everybody is going to the circus. These modern canvasses are difficult to climb under. Manager Hall had better set John L. to sawing wood. The irrigation congress has gotten down to irrigation. The water melon is now king and the peach the queen. Those Illinois earthquakes need to reach up into Chicago with more force. A piece of vanity: the man who lifts up his pants to show his decorated hosiery. The Sellwood woolen mill project has tumbled. Paper mills are more easily built than real ones. The heading, "Glimmer of Hope" of course refers to peace negotiations. Mighty little prospects of peace, though. It is now stated for a fact that the Salem flax mill was burned by the Eastern trust, as it would have reduced the price of twine and other linen products over half. A darky yesterday afternoon gave a guitar and song concert on First street. Before doing so he had a boy bring him a snipe from the street, which he coolly put in his mouth and prepared for use, not a very neat opening number.
