THE MINE WORKERS

Factions United Under Mitchell.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 17.—The mine workers voted $5000 for the relief of the Western Federation officials accused of the Stuenenberg murder. Mitchell advocated it. The move unites factions and enables Mitchell to present a solid front to operators.

Great Anarchist Dead.

CINCINNATI, March 17.—Johan Most, anarchist, died at noon at the home of a friend here.

Indictment Stands.

CALDWELL, March 17.—The court denied the motion to squash the indictments, and overruled the demurrers of Moyer et al.

Tom's Mandate.

BOSTON, March 17.—Tom Lawson wires the President requesting him to stop the use of the public's funds by banks to support Wall street speculators.

Mr. Ben Hendricks' Success.

There is much that is novel in the performance of Mr. Ben Hendricks in his favorite play "Ole Olson." Heretofore the Swedes have been depicted in the same manner as that brand of stage Irishman so often seen in knee breeches and green whiskers, but in "Ole Olson" Mr. Hendricks reveals the other side of those quaint hardy norsemn and lays bare the nobleness of their character. It is really the best work that Mr. Hendricks has ever done and the genuine enthusiasm of his auditors prove he is a success. He will this season make a feature of his singing and has six new songs to delight his hearers. The tour under the management of Mr. William Gray, embraces the entire California circuit and the receipts have so far justified the wisdom of the venture.

A Good Company.

Corvallis Times: Eckhardt's Ideals began an engagement at the Opera house last night, with "A Fight for Honor" as the bill. The play was full of pretty comedy and all parts were well sustained. Mr. Blanchard as Dr. Chumley was a good piece of character acting, while, as two tramps who always hopped up at the right time to protect a blind mother and daughter, Mr. Eckhardt and Mr. Richardson were excellent. The company gives at popular prices a performance as good or better than many of the high-priced attractions. At Albany for three nights beginning Monday.

Nothing in It

The report that Hon. M. A. Miller had been quarantined at his home in Lebanon, is absolutely without foundation. Mr. Miller telephones that there are no new cases at all in Lebanon. He did not attend the debate as a judge from other reasons. He does not propose to be quarantined this early in the election and besides will probably be elected senator by a good majority.

The School Census.

The census of school district No. 5, embracing the city of Albany, has been completed by the clerk, J. L. Tomlinson, and is as follows: males 565, females 562. Total 1127. The total for last year was 1196.

MISFITS.

A Mixture of Things and Thoughts

May Ireland have her rights. Here's to the memory of St. Patrick. Binger Hermann will know how he stands. The Filipinos continue to be civilized with bullets. St. Patrick's in the morning and all day. Minnesota will now please take its weather back. The grass is lush and lusty in keeping with the day. The Longworths are said to be getting along all right. The Oregon apricot crop is said to be ruined. Where is it any way. Secretary Taft is hesitating about squatting down in the supreme court for life. A suggestion to debaters: Talk to the audience, let the "honorable judges" take care of themselves as a part of the audience. An Albany fan writes to the Telegram that if Gray's Harbor plays base ball, as stated, it will have to be on a raft. Lawyer Hamilton is knocking things right and left back in New York, and the insurance men are trembling lest he tells all.
