Proposed Jewish Massacre.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30.—The League of Russian Writers has issued an appeal to the Russian people to unite in the name of their consciences and self-respect to prevent the Jewish massacres which, they say, are beyond doubt being prepared in Southwestern Russia for Eastertide. The appeal says that it is not fancy but fact that the police and gendarmes are arranging to loose the Black Hundred upon the members of the poor, helpless race.

The Roaring Creek Dam.

Considerable has been in the papers about the blowing up of the Larwood dam on Roaring Creek, in this county. According to a person familiar with the situation the dam has been practically out of use for a good many years, and was an obstruction to the getting of logs down the Creek, which was evidently the incentive for the explosion. Considerable money has been spent on the Creek. Now there is an effort being made to get the exclusive control of it by reason of keeping it in condition for the logs.

MISFITS.

A Mixture of Things and Thoughts

Base ball, the best and cleanest of all games, will soon begin. Some people don't know the difference between taffy and bread and butter. The ballot this year will reveal some interesting things after the primaries. Strange how many men are imperturbed by their friends to run for office. Oregon apples $10 a box in New York. How does that sound. There's money in sound apples. Pat Crowe is lecturing on Christianity. It will take Pat a long time to satisfy people of the genuineness of his conversion. Judge Harris passed through the city last night on his way home from Corvallis, where he attended court. He has no opposition so far for district judge. He has become a very popular judicial officer acceptable to everybody. The republicans have W. L. Tooze from Woodburn and the democrats Perce Cochran, and the republican papers seem to be treating both alike in the interest of the republican party.

The Jefferson Review is an emphatic advocate of woman's suffrage. It declares that a man doesn't deserve a wife who doesn't think she has as much sense for voting as he has.

The warmest candidate in the whole bunch is Cochran of Woodburn, who is running for congress on the democratic ticket. He is having more fun out of it than all the rest put together.—Salem Statesman. The fun is all he will get.

The Democrats of Linn county will give Chas. V. Galloway a splendid support for the nomination for congressman. A young man of scholarly attainments, worth and reliability, he deserves the nomination, which he will undoubtedly receive, when he will make a campaign that will be a credit to his party.

Held an Audience Spell Bound.

Arrangements were made last night for the appearance of Frederick Warde in Albany under the auspices of the Elks. The following from a Los Angeles paper is a sample of the notices of his readings: Mr. Warde is absolute master of his subject. He is as a speaker majestic in the extreme, scholarly in the presentation of the subject and delight ul in style. For two hours he held his audience spellbound, absolutely fascinated with his power of delineation, his subtle and delightful criticism, his magnetic oratory and graceful delivery.
