

THURSDAY.

PICKING BEGUN

In the Cooper Yards. An Interesting Place.

The Cooper hop yards are a ten minute bicycle ride from First street, which enabled the DEMOCRAT man this morning to see the opening of the picking season. About one hundred were picking this forenoon, from the "youngster" of three or four to the gray haired man and woman, boys and girls, men and women. Among the faces were many which have been seen for several years, veterans in hop picking. With them are some bright new faces. They were picking for keeps this morning, for the skies looked unpropitious, and the cry of "Box full," were fast and vociferous. It was a good natured, happy crowd, and on a day like today was equal to the best outing in the world.

Picking hops is quite a neck. Some do from four boxes up, with apparent ease, while others cannot get above two boxes in a day try as hard as they may.

Ex-Sheriff Huston is again foreman of the yard, which suits everybody.

Mr. J. E. Cooper, general manager looks after the general details, and the proper drying and sacking under his direction means a good deal.

With hops approaching 25 cents first-class work means much.

It is said to cost 8 cents to complete the sacking of hops, so that everything above that is clear gain.

Hence every cent means $500 in a 50,000 pound yard.

Died at Condon.

At Condon, Oregon, August 27th, 1906, after an eleven days illness of diphtheria, Otto Hockensmith, age 28 years 11 months.

The deceased was well known and has a large circle of friends in Linn county, having been born and raised at Halsey, Ore.

On account of the disease being contagious the funeral and interment were at Condon. Besides his parents and relatives who reside at Halsey, he leaves a wife and one son, Lynn, aged 7 years, to mourn his death.

Letter List.

The following letters remain in the Albany, Ore., postoffice uncalled for Sept., 5, 1906. Persons desiring any of these letters should call for advertised letters, giving the date:

Mrs. Charles Allen, L. G. M. Baldwin, Geo. D. Burdick, W. D. Bevier, James Davis, R. Erickson, Guy Gaylard, Wernie Gaylord, A. J. Hall, J. J. Kala, Mrs. Emma Love Miller, Geo. Murray, Miss Juanita Murray, D. M. Seales, A. C. Turner, Miss Lizzie Will. S. S. TRAIN, P. M.

A Hop Yard Accident.

Mrs. B. F. Hunt, of Gates, was brought to St. Mary's Hospital last evening from Jefferson. She had fallen from a wagon at one of the hop yards, becoming unconscious, and was in that condition when reaching Albany. She is gradually improving with prospects of being up soon.

Fred Hockspier Home.

Mrs. Hockspier reached home last evening with her husband, coming to Lebanon in a hack and from there by cars. He was taken to his home where he is being cared for. His wounds are of a serious nature, but he will undoubtedly recover from them. He is unable to talk now, the injuries to his head preventing it.

Married.

John T. Loftin and Miss Fannie Bishop of Lebanon, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at the court house by Judge C. H. Stewart. They went to Portland on their bridal trip.

Rev. H. T. Babcock and Miss Edith Ketchum, of Salem, were married yesterday at that city, and came to Albany last evening on part of their bridal trip. Two splendid young people they deserve the best blessings of life.

Will Move to Frist St.

M. Senders & Co. have leased the store room recently vacated by G. A. Flood, on First street, into which they will soon move their insurance office and feed store, thus having both businesses together, with one office for both.

Today in History.

1578.—Francis Drake entered the Pacific Ocean. 1871.—Goldsmith Maid trotted a mile in 2:17, breaking all previous records.

Obituary.

Miss Dollie Wave Large the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Large was born at Seio Linn Co., Oregon Oct. 18, 1888. Died Sept. 3, 1906 between 7 and 8 p. m. at her parents home 2 miles North of Shedd. She was 17 yrs. 10 mo. and 15 days old. She leaves a father, mother, two brothers and four sisters to mourn her death; three sisters and one brother having preceded.

The funeral services were held in the M. E. church at Shedd and conducted by Rev. D. L. Fields the pastor. The text was in 1 Cor. 12: 31; covet earnestly the best gifts; and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way. That more excellent way was shown to be a life of love as illustrated in 1 Cor. 13.

The church was beautifully decorated with an abundance of flowers. A very large audience manifest their interest in a young life so prematurely cut down by the reapers sickle. She was well known and beloved by all.

The interment took place at the Pugh cemetery.

Left for Alaska.

Mrs. Frank Wood left this morning for Nome to join her husband and spend the coming winter. She was accompanied to Seattle by her son Roy, who will return and resume his studies in the U. of O. Mr. Wood has charge of a big dredge at Solomon. Mrs. Wood spent last winter in Alaska and got used to the cold weather not minding it much. The houses are built for it and the clothes worn are especially for the extreme climate, everybody looking about alike. An interesting thing is the fact that during the very cold weather everybody carries a small looking glass to see how cold they are, not able to tell from their feelings, but readily from the looks of their face.
