THURSDAY.
A BUSINESS STRAW

Showing Which Way the Commercial Wind is Blowing.
At the close of business last night, for the first time in the history of Albany the resources of a bank passed the million dollar mark. The footings of the first National Bank showed over $1,000,000, something anticipated on account of the steady growth of business during the past few months. This speaks not only for the bank, but for Albany and business conditions here, for it means so much more money being circulated through the business avenues of the city. In short it means the best business conditions in the history of the city. Most of the money in the bank is not idle. It is going in and out continually in the business of the city.
The business of the other bank, it is said, has also increased in the same healthy way.
These facts are justified by conditions. The city has been gradually filling up, new people, well to do, have been coming here, and there are only a few empty houses in town, these hardly tenable. Merchants report a noticeable increase in trade and the prospects for the future are excellent.

Francis Coates returned this noon from a trip down the road.
A. W. Blackburn went to Corvallis this afternoon on a business trip.
L. A. Newton, of the Pacific States, returned this noon from Portland.
Mrs. R. D. Jennings has been in Dallas on a visit with her mother.
President Richardson, of the E. B. U., came over from Corvallis today.
J. E. Wyatt returned this noon from Portland, and his partner Mr. Weatherford left on a legal trip to Toledo.
Senator Lafollett has reached Portland on his lecture tour in the regular lyceum course.
John D. Rockefeller has been indicted in Ohio. Will he ever know it enough to feel it. Probably not.
Dr. Charles Lee, a prominent physician of Corvallis died in that city Tuesday night. The funeral service was held today.
Judge Harris this week fined F. M. Smith, of Marcola $200 for selling liquor illegally to the local option law. Better be good.

W. W. Rowell and Miss Emma Byers were married at Dallas this week. Mr. Rowell is not the Russ house man, but an engineer at Dallas, and the bride is a popular young lady of Independence.
A party of Oregon men will leave this week for Kansas City to attend the big trans-Mississippi congress to convene there Nov. 20. Among them will be Mayor Barney Way of Harrisburg.
Five men were indicted in Eugene yesterday for violation of the local option law: Nees Owen, Hermann Breyer, Frank Ware and Charles Mayew of Eugene, and J. T. Witter, of Springfield.

Saturday foot ball: Willamette and Multnomah at Portland, Washington and U. of O. at Eugene, Idaho and Whitman at Walla Walla. The big U. of O.-O. A. C. game will be at Corvallis Nov. 24.
Deputy Fruit Inspector C. H. Walker was in Lebanon yesterday inspecting fruit, and found it in good shape. Inspector Mr. Armstrong will take charge of the business in a few days. He will have to hustle to do as well as Mr. Walker has.

A good sized audience appreciated the merits of A Royal Slave, at the opera house last night. The costumes were elaborate and the acting good. A newspaper man was the hero of the story, and of course was an interesting character in the midst of happenings.
The west approach to the Sanderson bridge, which has been in danger for several days, is reported in place today. Whether it goes out depends upon whether the piling was driven deep enough to withstand the rush of the raging Santiam.

An Albany man in Portland yesterday says the street car traffic was in a demoralized condition. Not a car was running, even during the rush hour. Working men had to walk in from as far as St. Johns, rich and poor alike taking to their heels.
Thos. E. McKnight, a former Linn county young man, who has been teaching the past year at Jordan Valley, eastern Oregon, has been appointed deputy county clerk of Malheur County, and has moved to Vale to make his home the coming year.

Mrs. Castellane has been granted a divorce from her husband, the worthless Booi, who gets nothing, and hereafter will have to navigate without the Gould fortune. Mrs. Castellane has learned a lesson that should be a warning to American girls who can ever have an idea that it is a good thing to marry for title.
Miss Barbara Reason, of Portland, was in the city last evening, returning to Portland this morning. She has accepted a position in the dress goods department of the Ladies Bazaar, and will be here next Monday to begin work. She has been with Meier & Frank and is highly spoken of as a clerk.

Youngest K. T. in the World.

The San Francisco Examiner gives a picture of Ralph Robinson, of Eugene, a brother of Mrs. Dr. Vard Litterer, of this city, and says:
"Ralph D. Robinson, of the University of California, a junior in the college of social science, has attained to a position in the ranks of Free Masonry that gives him a unique place in the great order. He is the youngest Knight Templar in the world. The rise of this young Sir Knight through the Red and Black Cross degrees is one of the most rapid in the history of Masonry. Robinson received his commandery degrees in less than six months after his 21st birthday. Robinson is the son of J. F. Robinson, of Eugene, Oregon, grand recorder of the grand commandery of Oregon. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity of the university."

MARRIED.
Miller-Bennett.

Mr. Edwin Clair Miller and Miss Delilah Ann Bennett were united in marriage Thursday forenoon, November 15th, 1906, at the Congregational parsonage, Albany, Oregon, by Rev. G. W. Nelson. The groom's sister, Miss Gladys Miller and the bride's brother, Mr. W. J. Bennett, served as witnesses.
The groom, a son of Mrs. Ora Miller of Halsey and a native Oregonian, is a young man of splendid character, fine ability and industrious habits. He was for some time in the confectionary business at Halsey.
The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett of Halsey. She is a young lady of many accomplishments and winsome manners.
The happy couple will for the present live in Halsey but will soon move to Albany and make their home here. May the happiness and prosperity that worthy young people deserve, be theirs.

Salem on a Branch Road.

All trains now pass through Shelburn going and coming from Portland, and that town is now a prominent one on the main line of the S. P., with an operator. All trains from Portland are an hour late as a rule, the new route being that much slower than the regular line. For awhile the capital city is on a branch road running up from Woodburn.
This arrangement will last for several days yet, depending upon the character of the Santiam.

In the New Bussard Hall.

The Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors last night began arrangements for having a ball at the new hall in the Bussard block on Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 28, when the new hall will be dedicated and afterwards occupied by the two lodges as their meeting place. A new floor will be placed in, the best to be secured. The hall is well located and is bound to be a popular place for parties.

A Woman and a Cougar.

Mrs. Geo. Cover, who resides on the Metoles, near Bend, is a brave woman. She caught a cougar carrying off a calf, and frightened it away by screaming and waving her hands. The cougar followed her, preparing to spring upon her. Instead of running she waved her arms and screamed at the animal and finally got rid of him. Had she run, as most women would have done, the cougar would undoubtedly have killed her.

The Axle Broke.

John Goin, carrier on R. F. D. 5 was returning from his 28 mile trip, when his colt, a sprightly young fellow, became frightened at the myriad of trains filling the two yards, and suddenly like a flash turned sideways, breaking one of the axles off just inside the wheel, and the buggy went down and Mr. Goin out. But he held the nervous animal and no other damage was done.

That Stump Hauled Off.

People passing along Broadalbin street have wondered how the big stump, weighing about as much as an elephant, at the corner of 6th street, was going to be gotten away. The problem was solved today by Hughes & Knox, who got it upon a sled and, with six horses hauled it down to the river. The horses earned their money.

A Tall Chrysanthemum.

The Portland Journal last evening told about a chrysanthemum 5 feet 8 inches tall, and that was pretty high. Besides one at the home of M. L. Wilmot, at 106 South George street, it would be a dwarf. Mrs. Wilmot has one just 11 feet tall. That's up some.

On the Santiam

The Sanderson bridge approach continues to stand. The bridge is all right, only the west approach being in danger. The piling was six feet from the river, but this has been washed out and fifteen or twenty feet beyond, so that twelve feet is out of water formerly covered.
The river is falling rapidly, caused by cool rains, and this will mean the repairs of the Jefferson bridge within a few days. The road bridge is all right but big loads were stopped for safety.

ROYAL Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.
Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder renders the food remarkable both for its fine flavor and healthfulness.
No alum, no phosphate—which are the principal elements of the so-called cheap baking powders—and which are derived from bones, rock and sulphuric acid.

Frank M Muners to W A Ewing, 240 acres up 10 West 1 3000

Mortgages for $400. Satisfactions for $950.

A Fire Alarm

There was a fire alarm last night. The brewery whistle did the screaming. The regular fire bell alarm didn't work. Some one said it was box 45, but something else, no one knows much about it. It was, already a fire alarm system that was to raise insurance from 5 to 25 per cent, and was going to time very well. It proved to be a chimney burning out at the house of Andrew Sklar. It just burned out and the department went and returned through the mud and rain fortunately for nothing serious.
The property was insured in the home, J. M. Ralston agent, and the loss was promptly adjusted by Mr. Ralston at $15, caused mostly by smoke and water.

Moving to First Street.

Mrs. Nichol's is preparing to move her millinery store from Second street into the Mellwin Block recently purchased by her and her mother. She will use forty or fifty feet of the front and arrangements are pending for the rental of the rear part by the Commercial Coffee and Crocker Co. of the next door, whose increasing business demands more room. If done an opening will be made connecting the two departments.

A FREIGHT WRECKED.

Engine and Three Cars Off the Track at Shelburn.
Freight train, engine 1611, on its way through Albany to Portland by way of Shelburn had a wreck at Shelburn last evening. The rails spread at a bad place, and the engine and three cars went off the track, causing a general delay, glutting traffic this morning. As all trains have been going through Shelburn it played havoc with things this morning. The Cottage Grove local stopped here under orders, after taking north passengers to Jefferson, where a stub met them and took them on north. The Springfield train remained here for orders. In the meantime a wrecking crew cleared the track and now the Shelburn route with its light rails, is again ready for business.
Down at Jefferson the Santiam raised so high as to undo what had been done at the bridge, and there is no telling when rails will be gotten across. The prediction of some of the railroad men of a month's delay is likely to be verified.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Galloway Continues the Work of Department Number Two.

Judge Galloway resumed circuit court this afternoon after some difficulties, getting here by way of Jefferson, that far by rail, the remainder of the distance by livery, reaching the court house at 2 o'clock.
The first case was that of Viola F. Woods agt. Jos. L. Woods, for divorce, Judge Whitney appearing for the plaintiff and Weatherford & Wyatt for the defendant. The couple were married in Iowa in 1867 and came to Oregon in 1861, residing across the river for a number of years, until three years ago when the plaintiff went to Washington to look after some property. She charges the defendant with letting her do most of the supporting of the family, and with being lazy and trifling, so that she had to work out for a living, and with desertion. The case will take most of the afternoon.
Other cases for trial are Geo. M. Clark agt. L. S. Clark, for partition; F. M. West agt. M. T. Rowell et al to set aside a deed and McClain agt. the Mayor and councilmen of Albany.

J. R. Whitney's Residence Sold.

Statesman:--
Hon. T. B. Kay has bought the elegant home of State Printer J. R. Whitney, at 266 Capital street, and will move with his family there the last of this week. Mr. Whitney and wife will remove to Portland after the expiration of his term of office, in January. Mr. Kay has sold his old residence, on Thirteenth street near Chemeketa, to E. B. Sackett, who formerly lived at Jefferson, but who has been in Lane county. He is moving with his family to Salem. The price paid for the Whitney residence was about $5000. The lot is 70 by 142 feet.

Dallas is in the hands of tin-horn and the people are now protesting.
Mrs. Charles Kroeschel has been in Eugene on a visit with her sister.

A house being built at Springfield was blown down by the storm during Wednesday night.
The box receipts of Beach & Bowers minstrel show were attached at Roseburg Wednesday night for payment of the salaries of some of the men. The show is said to be on its last legs.

Three rich townships in the Silet reservation have been withdrawn from entry by order of Secretary Hitchcock. They are 8, 9 and 10 South, Range 11 west. This is the site of the Jones-Potter doings.

Mayor Schmitz and Abe Ruef were indicted in San Francisco late yesterday afternoon on five charges and the bail was fixed at $5,000 and $10,000 on each charge. Mr. Heney has kept his word, and will probably follow this with conviction.

The annual state convention of school teachers will be held in Portland November 26, 27 and 28. Several will attend from Albany. Those taking part in a very interesting program will be Supt. Hayes, on history, on the 27th, and President Crooks on the 26th and 27th.

Toledo Reporter: Conductor William Hoeflein is no longer seen with pipe or cigar. He awoke one morning with his "relief for tobacco" all gone. In fact the smoke of the fragrant tobacco is now offensive to him. He does not regret the loss as he is rapidly gaining in flesh since he quit smoking.

Tom Reeves and Hugh Saxon, the two young desperadoes from Portland who killed William Powell, an old peddler near Cottage Grove, yesterday plead guilty to manslaughter and will be sentenced tomorrow.

Lawyer J. F. Watts, who figured as attorney in the Froman case at this city a few years ago, has been arrested for hunting without a license, and is now going to tear the district attorney's office to pieces and send the deputy game warden to the pen. Watts claims to have a license.

J. M. Swans and L. N. Stewart, of Dallas, the surveyors, came out last night from the Santiam mining country, and reported general bad conditions from the heavy rains. Some timber had been blown down and the small streams were swollen beyond their banks.

When pave Court and State streets, Salem, will be ideal thoroughfares. There will be cross walks on each street. The streets are 90 feet wide and the sidewalks 18 feet on State and 14 on Court. 1250 feet on each street, equal to four blocks in Albany will be the distance pave, and bitulithite pavement will be used.
