Indicates Prosperity,

The big sale of 25 Short Horns and 100 Berkshires at W. O. Hudson & Son's of Tangent, yesterday afternoon, was a success, drawing a big crowd. The bidding was spirited and interesting. The Short Horns brought a fair price. One registered bull weighing 2100 pounds, went for $55, worth a good deal more. The Berkshires went high with many bidders. Hog meat is in big demand at a high price.

Though the terms of sale were six months at 5 per cent on sums over $25 nearly everything was cash, showing the prosperous condition of the farmers of the county. Diversified farming is putting them on their feet and is adding wonderfully to the value of the business of farming.

Prof. L. L. Baker returned last evening from Roseburg, where at a session of the board of that city late yesterday afternoon he was elected city superintendent of the schools of that city. There were about forty applicants for the position. Roseburg has made a splendid selection. Prof. Baker is a fine teacher, besides being a splendid man personally, and is in every way capable of handling the well organized schools of Roseburg. Albany will lose a superior teacher and an estimable family.

Harriman Owns the C. & E.

The Oregonian today says the sale of the Corvallis and Eastern to Harriman is confirmed, that A. B. Hammond at a meeting of the board in Albany on Monday tendered his resignation and J. P. O'Brien will probably be the general manager and that it will be operated as a separate line. G. W. Talbot is to be the vice president and general manager succeeding Hon. J. K. Wetherford and J. A. Shaw will retire as secretary, perhaps being succeeded by H. F. Conner, a native of Albany. Mr. Talbot left last night for New York.

Their father is 61 and mother 50. President Roosevelt should send them his biggest medal.

Jack Went Back.

Jack Allphin returned to Toledo this afternoon to look after the democracy of Lincoln county and straighten them out, also to be present at the coming term of circuit court, being bailiff, and a court at Toledo, without Jack would be like the play of Hamlet without a Hamlet. The Linn-Lane Line.

Dputy Assessor Earl Fisher was in Eugene this week to confer with Assessor Keeney in reference to the assessment of property along the new boundary line between the two counties. The formal survey has not yet been made, so the assessors have agreed upon what lands shall be assessed in the respective counties, a mutual affair easily adjusted between them, as it is known about where the line will be.

THE CHARIVARI

Must and Shall Stop Says the Chief.

Chief of Police McClain requests the DEMOCRAT to state that no more charivaris will be allowed in Albany. Hereafter they will be stopped and those attempting them will be arrested for disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace of the city. This is proper. They are nuisances and the worst kind of hoodlumism as often carried on. At the last charivari a serious accident occurred. The chief will be backed by the people of the city generally.
