CAR SHORTAGE

Will Cause Curtis Lumber Co. to Shut Down.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw, of the Curtis Lumber Co., went to Portland this morning on a short business trip. Mr. Shaw reports a continued car shortage. While the Company is able to get cars for its Oregon trade, the companies being afraid of the reciprocal demurrage law, it is almost impossible to secure any for outside shipments. The claim is that the cars are all being used for fruit and hop shipments, etc. The Company now has on hand 8,000,000 feet of lumber, 400 car loads, representing over $100,000, completely filling its yards. The result is the Company has decided to shut down until there is relief, and will do so in a few days, putting a large force of men out of employment. It will of course start up whenever car conditions are better.

J. H. ROBERTS

Dies of Heart Disease in Portland.

Mr. J. Harvey Roberts died yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock at his rooms in Portland, of heart disease, with which he had been affected for several years. The remains will be taken to his former home in Iowa for burial, accompanied by his wife and boy, their only child.

Mr. Roberts was about 45 years of age, and had been in the railroad business in different capacities from the age of fifteen years, several years in the middle west. He came to Oregon in 1890 and accepted a position as train dispatcher in the C. & E. office, then at Corvallis, coming to Albany when the head office was moved here. He was an efficient employee, genial and well liked by all knowing him. He was a member of the Elks.

A Sermon in the Play.

The great and successful comedy, "A Message from Mars" will fill an engagement here on Monday, Oct. 28.

Horace Parker, the hero of the comedy, is a typical egotist. He believes that the many must toil, that the few must have only the pleasures of life, and he includes himself in the latter list. His fad is astronomy and especially the study of the planet Mars. His sweetheart, tired of his egotism, breaks her marriage engagement and leaves him reading an essay on Mars when suddenly a messenger comes from this planet with the task of reforming what he says is the most selfish man on earth. The Martian leads Parker willfully into the streets where the snow is deep, and instantly transforms him into a very poor man. In an instant he is divested of his fur coat and appears in the garb of a tramp and makes him give away all the money he has to an unfortunate but deserving woman. There is a great sermon in this play.

It is a Fact

The Oregon Market is rapidly coming to the front as a place for Quality. The consumer who is particular about his food will take the best, which is the cheapest in the end.
