FIERCE RACE WAR.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 15.—Thousands of soldiers are patrolling the streets, and apparently have the grasp on the situation, following the wild riot of last night in which three whites and one negro were killed, more than seventy were injured, several of whom may die. It was started over an attempt to lynch a negro who assaulted a white woman, but who was spirited to Bloomington, where he is held in jail. Despite the seeming quiet today it is feared rioting will again break forth to-night. The negroes have fled to the woods and other towns, but are endeavoring to get others of their race to join in an attack on the whites.

Attracting Attention.

Dr. Booth of Lebanon was in the city yesterday looking after his patient, Mrs. S. H. Elliot, at the hospital. Her case reported by the Democrat several days ago, is attracting considerable attention, a rare one. In an operation in Oklahoma the absorbent cloths were left in, causing an obstruction which made this operation necessary. For surgical carelessness the Oklahoma operation certainly is remarkable.

AUTOS PASS IN THE AIR.

The morbid-minded originator of circus thrillers has just come to the front with the masterpiece of his devilish imagination in the shape of an act styled "Autos that Pass in the Air." It is the feature this season with the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth. It is the Dante's Inferno of circus sensations.

The new "Terrorizer"—and it merits the name—is performed by two slender French girls, the La Raque sisters. Each in a separate automobile, they plunge simultaneously from the dome of the canvas down a narrow single track set at angle of 45 degrees, leap a yawning gap, during which one car turns a complete revolution around the other automobile, and land with a crash on a narrow platform, one car immediately behind the other, their previous order reversed.

One automobile is red, the other blue, that spectators may be able to follow their separate mid air maneuvers.

THOUGHTS

For Saturday Night.

The national campaign is attracting a good deal of attention. Most of the fight seems to be along lines to create prejudice rather than serve as real argument. The game of modern politics is anything for votes regardless of truth.

The biggest railroad man in the country is now in Oregon, not physically but from an executive and financial standpoint, a man who does things, regardless of congresses. Great is Harriman.

A religious fanatic down in Los Angeles this week beheaded his own son killed his daughter and then tried to commit suicide. He had the graves and headstones already. That is not religion but lunacy, one of the burdens religion has to carry.

A writer this week declares that a man can be rich without money. Real wealth is more than property accumulation.

People have begun going home to rest up after the strenuousness of a Summer's outing.

Reports from all the towns of the valley show a general progress, an improvement that is not merely local, the kind that indicates the most.

Rawlings has the best line of loose leafbooks on the road from St. Louis. See him before placing your order.

The Democrat a few days ago in mentioning a blind pig item credited it to the Albany correspondence of the Oregonian instead of the Telegram, from which it was taken.

O. P. Wolcott, in the millinery business here for five or six years has sold his store to Mrs. Broadhead and Miss Savoy, recently of Sedalia, Mo.

On a Siletz Cruise.

H. E. Clemens and H. Evans Roberts, two prominent members of the Portland Rowing Club, in the club's uniforms went to Toledo this afternoon, with their canoe, and from there will go up the Siletz for a fishing cruise down stream. Rube Saunders was also on the train and bought the boat for his own use after their trip.

Millinery Notice.

Mrs. O. P. Wolcott has disposed of her Millinery business in Albany this day and all outstanding accounts due her to be paid to her Portland Store, 442 Washington St.
