latory attachment is just ut. See one

Not Much to Discuss.

The tariff question hardly needs discussing any longer. People generally agree that there needs to be a revision, and that it should be in such a way as to strike trust goods hardest. There is no longer any question that the whole trouble with the trust business is the tariff. The trust has been built up by excessive tariff rates, and it is as natural as the flowing of water down hill. Just before the big national election there is somewhat of a stagger at making the people believe the republicans will do something for a tariff revision, and even Taft makes promises; but there is nothing in them. Congress runs the tariff, and Congress is trust governed, and will be so long as the present administration remains in power.

Deserve to Be Welcomed.

Athletic Day at the state fair is in order, with a general welcome to the three Oregon athletes, who brought fame to the state by their performances at the great Olympic games. They deserve it on account of their own achievements and as well because of the high standard of their sportsmanship. The Salem Statesman suggests that they be given a special welcome at the fair. Why not do it in the shape of an athletic day. They have brought fame to Oregon, showing to the world what a state small in population can do, wonderfully endowed by nature to produce the best type of a healthy athlete.

Hurrah for Bryan and O'Brien.

Of course Mr. Harriman did not say "Three cheers for Bryan," but he did for his able manager, O'Brien, whose name sounds the same if one fails to hear the O. A very capable official Mr. O'Brien deserves to be cheered.
Mr. Bryan also is a gentleman who deserves to be cheered, a man of remarkable ability, of absolutely clean record, a christian man who stands for something in morals as well as in po-itics. His development has been steady and emphatic, now a man of world wide reputation, with a standing among the nations of the world.

Frenzied Thoughts.

There is no such thing as "Too Much Johnson" for Minnesota.

Good old Mother Holland, with a shingle in her hand,

A magazine writer says that American cities have no distinctive smell of their own. Tarry a bit in Pittsburg, stranger; spend an hour in Chicago; sniff the malted breeze of Milwaukee.

If Capt. Hains finds time hanging too heavily on his hands, he might study Harry Thaw's expense account.

Mr. Chafin promises, if elected president, and Congress refuses to pass a national prohibition law, to call out the militia and the standing army and enforce prohibition in every inch of territory under the American flag.

Having helped Mr. Barstow to win a seat in the senate, Mr. La Follette can count on at least one enthusiastic listener the next time he makes a nineteen-hour speech in that body.

Color-gravure Picture.

Rawlings has a lot of color-gravure pictures shipped him by mistake and is advised to get his freight out of them.
See the window display and come in and look over the assortment. Choice for 5 and 10 cts.

Fresh Chinook salmon from Yaquina Bay at the Metropolitan.

Johnson's Best Flour at all the stores $1.30 a sack.

SPIELERS

Make a Live Evening for Amuse- ment Lovers.

The carnival opened last night with a good sized crowd on the grounds. It was a live place for a few hours, the cries of the spielers adding to the interest. There are five shows, all having their special interest. Perhaps the one that took the most is the Crazy House, where one has fun galore, and people outside know it from the laughing; the result is a general curiosity.
Then there is the electric theater with some fine moving pictures, Dixie Land with some excellent singers, glass blowers always worth more than the price of admission, as an education, and Ozama among the snakes.

Mangel's high dive at 9:45 dropping into a tank of water and fire, was sensational enough. This will be a free feature every night.

It is an orderly well behaved company of show people. The grounds are well arranged, and the attractions will no doubt offer much during the week for amusement loving people.

IN THE MAIL.

A striking offer from Springfield, Mass., of $500 for the best article on the best plan for advertising Springfield as a city of homes and a favorable location for manufacturing. Springfield was organized in 1636, but was not incorporated as a city until 1852. Now it is trying to move.

A forestry bulletin telling about Uncle Sam's inventory of natural resources. So great are they it will certainly take an expert to add them when compiled.

The regular statement of the public debt sent out by the government, for August, showing $1,786,442,021.86, with available cash amounting to $189,890, 138.67, evidently getting along pretty well.

An opportunity to deal in patterns that fit, giving them with subscriptions.
This really belongs in the misfit column.

A copy of the Mahn Messenger, a little pamphlet production, which tells how to advertise. Here are a few exclamations points:
Advertising sense brings advertisers dollars.

To avoid criticism; say nothing, do nothing and be nothing.
The best advertising is the naked truth propelled with just enough wording to forcibly convey the idea.

Great Sin" next Monday Sept. 14 when ordinary ability.

The play is one of great human interest and reaches the right spot being clean in construction and full of excellent and bright comedy and there is a pretty love story handled in a new way by the author.
