Two Kinds of Girls.

A correspondent in an exchange speaks out as follows:

Recently the editor touched upon a most timely subject, that of the girl who works and the girl who gads. Every community has a type of each. The Daily—Delivered, 10 cents a business places, not only loses her self-week; in advance for one year, $4.0°.
By mail, in advance for one year $3, at end of year $3.50.
The Weekly—Advance per year $1.25.
The girl who gads and loafs around the business places, not only loses her self-respect, but the respect of others. The reason for her not having fitted herself for any special work in life, is not all ways due to her lack of interest in ac-guiring an education, but respect to The girl who gads and loafs around the quiring an education, but perhaps to ignorant parents who through lack of the proper kind of training and disci-pline, have let their girls grow up without any correct ideals of life and living. Some parents presume to know more about training of children than the Almighty, himself. Instead of "training of their children in the way they should go," they turn them loose to follow their own inclinations; as a gentleman said about a mother who had reared a bad set of children "She LOST.—A young fox terrier pup.

In Pacific Monthly, in Which Former Albany Man Figures

The leading article in the October number of the Pacific Monthly, just out is "Soapy Smith, a Bad Man and is "Soapy Smith, a Bad Man and is lister." Smith was a nortorious character in Alaska. With a gang he had been painting Skagway red, when it was proposed to stop him. Frank Reid, a former Albany man, in the effort came in contact with Smith, and the bullets began flying. Reid was hit, living several days. Smith received a bullet in his heart. He was in such disrepute that his body was buried in the woods. Everybody turned out to Reid's funeral. The story is well told, with illustrations, including pictures of both Smith and Reid after the shooting case in early days, at Sweet Home once killing a man named Simons, for which he was tried and acquitted.

Mr. Graham, superintendent of the O. R. & N. shops, Robert Menefee, a prominent councilman, and Dr. Davis, a son of L. M. Davis, who had the fun with the Journal, came up this noon to hunt pheasants, by invitation out on the big Parker farm.

The Open Season,

A good many Portland men are in the city waiting for the open season of Chinese pheasants tomorrow morning, when they will hike for the fields when they will hike for the fields around Albany. Those having friends in the country, have places spoken for. Those without friends will hunt anyway, and some of them if necessary use a little silvs: bait. The report is general that there are not as many birds as usual, that they have been slaughtered.

One man says the problem can be settled by doing away with dogs entiriely; but dogs are part of the sport. Perhaps a stricter law will be necessary, and more respect for the laws that operate.

not determine whether a range is cheap or dear. You want the best; that is the very first consideration.

The lasting quality is the main thing. Other points to be considered are: How much fuel does it require? Is any part of it likely to give out, to crack, break on warp? Does it heat up the kichen, or is all the heat put to use in cooking and baking? Will it wear well?

The "Quick Meal." Factory is 50 well equipped with latest and most improved machiney, that "Quick Meal."
