The People Say.

Here is a good one: Senator Fulton went to Oregon, and asked for re-election, and the people said:

"We want a change!" Senator Hansbrough went to North Dakota for re-election, and the people said:

"We want a change!" Senator Kittredge heard it in South Dakota, from the people:

"We want a change!" Senator Long asked the people of Kansas for re-election, and the people shouted:

"We want a change!" Senator Hopkins went to Illinois and asked for re-election, and two-thirds of the republicans of Illinois announced:

"We want a change!" Almost one-half of the republicans of Iowa, even when asked by their distinguished Senator Allison, replied:

"We want a change." The voice of the people is unmistakable. Wherever they have had a chance to speak, they have earnestly lifted their voices saying:

"We want a change!" That sentiment is sweeping the whole country:

"We want a change!"

A Scientific Game

Base ball has become such a scientific game that in the great leagues of the country the teams end the season neck and neck. In both the big leagues the three or four leading teams are only a few points apart, so close together that a fortunate hit may give one of the teams the championship. They are no longer one-sided. The editor of the DEMOCRAT remembers a tournament about thirty or more years ago when the Cincinnati red stockings came out so far ahead it was hardly known they had any competitors, winning nearly all the games. But that doesn't occur any longer. In all the U. S. this year there is a record of only one league in which the victor won 70 per cent of the games, in most of the leagues only a few over 50 per cent. It means that base ball is more of a science than ever before.

Make a Start.

Plenty of time yet this year for street paving and electric line building in Albany, and it should be done. Action is what is wanted now. Albany should get a move on, make a start, that is all that is needed. Just press the button, and time will take care of the rest. Give the city paved streets, and there will be a boosting of things in Albany never before seen. The cost will be nothing compared with the increase in price of property, created by the improvement.

Frozed Thoughts.

Teddy Roosevelt, Jr., has reached his majority, and will cast his first vote in November. If he craved notoriety like another well known person, he could electrify the country by his announcement of a purpose to vote for Bryan and Kern.

Count Tolstoi dares the Russian Government to take his birthday away from him.

The general impression appears to be so far the republican Presidential campaign has been almost as slow as a Philadelphia street car.

We don't remember ever meeting a girl whose shoes were not "a mile too big" for her.

The trouble with that imitation whiskey is that it doesn't produce an imitation jag.

FOR RENT.—Furnished or unfurnished rooms, with or without board, 728 E 4th street.

THE FLEA.

[An Ode composed by the Rev. Mary E. Norton, of this city, and published without her consent.]

Oh thou miserable flea!
Wherefore dost thou bother me?
Jumping, crawling all the day?
Do, I pray thee, get away.

Only just the other day,
I heard a learned doctor say,
He would all fleas bottled see.
Then in water'd boil thee, flea.

Oh, abominable flea!
Would we dinner take, or tea,
First one scratches, then another.
Shame on thee, tormenting bother.

Would we at night retire to rest,
First through every fold of dress
Hunt we must, through gather, seam,
But to meet thee in our dream.

Would we our morning toilet make
Then again we look and shake,
Vainly think we're rid of thee,
Gormandizer! Ugly flea!

There! I feel a dreadful nip,
Grab twixt thumb and finger tip,
Roll thee good, prepare to snap.
There! He's gone. Oh sad mishap.

I shake and look, but all in vain,
Flea I cannot find again.
Oh, that we a freeze might see,
That would fix thee, hateful flea.

Robbed of $25.

Statesman: J. McKinney, of Albany, was in Salem yesterday, much exercised over money which he claims to have lost in Portland Sunday night. Mr. McKinney states that he passed the night at an overcrowded boarding house, and that during his slumbers one of the other inmates searched his pockets and secured $25 and a ticket for Albany. Luckily he still had left thirty dollars which were in other pockets, and believes that his restless movements frightened the thief away. He did not notify the police, as he felt the chances of recovering the money to be slight.

Josh Coming.

"Uncle Josh Perkins" will undoubtedly attract a large audience on Friday night, when it is produced, as the piece has proven one of the most popular of all rural comedies that have been produced in recent years. While "Uncle Josh Perkins" has a most interesting plot, the lines are well written, the characters well drawn, and the action natural and not forced. To add to the production, H. H. Frazee has equipped it with a complete scenic environment, while the acting company is made up of the very best metropolitan talent and includes a number of well known local favorites.

WILLIAMS

Doing Good Work for Bryan and Kern.

Hon. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, came down from Lebanon, where he spoke last night to a large audience. A big crowd also greeted him at Scio, and there was much interest in his two addresses. Mr. Williams is an eloquent speaker, holding his audiences enrapt in the interest of his argument. He is fair and gentlemanly in his treatment of his opponents, but speaks to the point.

Mr. Williams reviewed the Roosevelt policies, and showed how under republican rule the government has been getting far away from the people. His argument on the guaranty of bank deposits was convincing. The government requires a guaranty of its deposits in the national banks, and the state does the same, why not a guaranty the same in the interest of the farmer and others. Mr. Williams handling of the trust question, showing how nothing had been done under republican rule, was masterly and unanswerable.

He is confident Bryan will be elected, the indications being strong everywhere.

SELECTING A NEW RANGE.

A range is not bought every day. A few dollars more or less in price does not determine whether a range is cheap or dear. You want the best; that is the very first consideration.

The lasting quality is the main thing. Other points to be considered are: How much fuel does it require? Is any part of it likely to give out, to crack, break on warp? Does it heat up the kitchen, or is all the heat put to use in cooking and baking? Will it wear well?

The "QUICK MEAL" Factory is so well equipped with latest and most improved machinery, that "QUICK MEAL" Steel Ranges are made more perfect and economical than any other Range, and in selecting a "QUICK MEAL," you get the best for no more money than what you would have to pay for the ordinary, cheaply constructed range.
