THURSDAY.
A SUIT
involving over $20,000 Against the Albany Farmers Co.

An important suit was begun this morning, when Hewitt & Sox filed a complaint entitled: W. H. Goutra sgt. Albany Farmer's Co., a corporation, S. J. Archibald, Phillip Swank, Alfred Blevins, John Denny, J. W. Propst, Albert Barnes and Thos. Froman.
The plaintiff alleges that during 1907 and 1908 up to April 22nd he stored with the defendant 81,121 bushels of oats and during '08 68,281 bushels of wheat, which remains undelivered. That other parties having wheat and oats have withdrawn all but about 25,000 bushel of oats and about 4,000 bushels of wheat, whereas there should be on store according to the books of the company 60,887 bushels of oats and 22,861 bushels of wheat.
That the defendant company is insolvent, and that the director defendants with knowledge of the shortage have furnished money for and bought oats amounting to about 10,000 bushels, Westgate Bros., now being shipped, and it is alleged all of said wheat and oats will be shipped out unless restrained. That the defendants have had a knowledge of the insolvency for four months.
A receiver is asked, and an order restraining the shipping of any wheat or oats from the warehouse of the company.
The case involves $20,000 to $25,000 and it is said will be fought out, no doubt divulging some interesting things before its termination.

Not a Miracle.
A Portland paper recently published a somewhat sensational item about how Miss Lois Hoerner, of Los Angeles, formerly of Portland, miraculously recovered her health, getting from her bed and walking at once. Mrs. Anna Strom of this city today received a letter from her, in which she states that she simply has been wonderfully improved through the aid of Dr. W. J. Feter, osteopath, and that the story was greatly exaggerated.

Born in Portland.
On Oct. 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Murry, a girl, weight 13 pounds. All doing well. Grandpa and Grandma Luggler, of this city, are carrying their first experience as such, with becoming satisfaction.

Dr. M. M. Davis returned to Eugene today.
A big district fair is being held at The Dalles this week.

Rev. H. E. Honschuck, Presiding Elder, will preach at the Evangelical church tonight.
Judge McFadden, of Corvallis, went to Junction this afternoon to attend to affairs on his farm.
Mr. Ben Barker, of Waldport, on the Pacific, is in Albany, receiving medical treatment.

Another car load of gravel at the depot, and all the cement floors built. What is it for?
A new hand at the saw mill, Mr. Schuller, this forenoon caught a finger in a cable losing the end of it.
Rev. J. H. Cornwall, of Dallas, a former resident of Sodaville, was in the city this noon on his way to Ashland to attend the Synod of his church.

S. S. Train returned from the Bay, where he has been for some time. No salmon yet except where they are caught in nets.
W. L. Archambeau, of the Warren Construction Co., was in the city yesterday going to Eugene. While here he signed up for the Albany paving.
Mr. H. C. Chamberlain, of Independence, was in the city this noon on his way to the foot hills over in Benton county, to buy cattle for his Independence market.

The Democrat has received some fashion notes, in which in a very ingenious manner an advertisement is interwoven for some silk underwear. Never touched us.
Henry Warnock, of Silverton died at the Salem hospital yesterday from a gun wound. While hunting he tried to pull his gun through a fence. Strange that men will not use everyday common sense when hunting.
Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Scanlan, of Foster, came down last evening, Mrs. Scanlan in response to a dispatch that her father was lying dangerously ill at his home at Hamilton, Iowa, leaving on last night's train for that place.

J. C. Lowe, the efficient manager of the Home Co. at this city is preparing to go to Corvallis to reside and assume the exclusive management of the big exchange there. G. E. Sanders will have charge of the Albany exchange, a splendid man for the position.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hawkins, of Toledo, were in the city this noon on their way to Portland. Mrs. Hawkins is a member of the executive board of the Lady Macabees of the Pacific Coast, and goes to Portland every three months to attend a session of the board.
A man with a finger done up was on the street selling one cent lead pencils for five cents, saying that he didn't want to beg and so took this course to get some money. He should be working. Thousands of men work all the time with sore fingers.

Amedia Choquette met with a peculiar death, near Gervais this week. He had been smoking, when he threw the cigar into the bed of the wagon. It set fire to some straw and spread to a can of coal oil, which it reached and exploded, the contents scattering over Choquette, burning him to death.

THE NEW YARD
Will Take a thousand Cars of Gravel and Dirt.

The yard this side of the depot is covered with stakes, set for the new grade, indicating something of the large amount of dirt it will take to grade the newly arranged yard, reaching east to the oil tank. It is estimated it will require from 800 to 1,000 car loads, about twenty-five train loads for the big job, causing a transformation, when the yard is completed. The present stakes, though only cover the section this side of the old depot. Later the part south of the depot will also be filed and graded. Hence, the new depot is a small part of the improvement that is being made. It is all right, and will particularly be if it has a cement walk around it, but the great point is the fact that it is on the side of the yard where it belongs, and the yard will be a fine one.

His son is now at Harriman, in Eastern Oregon looking after some interests there. An effort was made to have him drop Iowa and come out here, but he seems too thorough an Iowa for that.
Sanford Lasselle, manager of the N. W. Fruit Association, left on a Portland trip. He reports excellent prospects for a good prune year, considering the small crop.

Confers With Mr Caldwell About His Hose Factory.

The session of the Albany Commercial Club last evening was devoted to a consideration of the proposition to establish knitting factory at this city. Mr. Caldwell presented the workings of the factory at length in a talk of an hour and a half. He is now running it on a small scale, but wishes to branch out into a good sized concern, for the purpose desiring $5,000 or $6,000 in stock to be taken by Albany people. He will put in his present small plant and cash amounting to about $500.
Messrs. Hamilton, Sanders and Blain were appointed a committee to investigate the matter.
Manager Dasant was directed to correspond with Manager O'Brien in reference to the depot platform and a letter went to Portland this afternoon in reference to the matter.

A Good Pointer.

The following is a red hot pointer for the authorities who have been permitting outsiders to sell buggies in Linn county, without a license, under the guise of taking orders, notwithstanding the fact the buggies were trailing along the road:
Fined $300 for the violation of the pedler's license law by Circuit Judge Bradshaw, D. V. Wright and H. M. Ogan gave notice of appeal to the Supreme Court. This is a case in which several local merchants filed information against Eastern concerns which sent buggy salesmen to work Wasco county territory without a license. $100,000 ENDOWMENT

Is the Mark Set for Albany College.
The report of President Crooks, to the synod of the Presbyterian church, in session at Ashland, is the most important one that has yet been presented, and contains matter which will mean big things for the college and Albany.
The college board of the Presbyterian church, with headquarters at New York, will grant $2,000 the coming year for current expenses, as against $1,000 last year.
Dr. W. S. Holt, D. D., representing the college, recently received the personal word of Rev. Dr. McKenzie, president of the college board, of New York City, that Albany college can expect from the east dollar for dollar, up to $25,000, in an endowment canvass in Oregon. $25,000 raised here, which will be done, will mean $50,000. The movement is being backed energetically by Dr. Holt, Dr. Foulkes and Rev. Marcotte. President Crooks expressed the belief that by June, 1909 we shall have $60,000 and by October $100,000. The plan is for President Crooks to be relieved of other duties and devote most of his time the coming year to the endowment, $60,000 anyway. $100,000 if possible. It will mean much for the future of Albany College.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zeys, of Portland, left for home after a Linn county hunt.
The platform was covered with hunters, one man with twenty or thirty birds. If Oregon has a game ward there has been no signs of him in Linn county, where men kill all the birds they please.
Small Crops and Big Prunes.
E. H. Rhodes has completed the drying of prunes at his orchard near Jefferson, having 60,000 to 70,000 pounds of the dried product, much less than anticipated, about a quarter of a crop. But the prunes make up in size most of them being about 30's. Prunes range in price from 4 to 5 cents according to grade.

Wore Three Buttons.

An Albany man in Portland recently met an old gentleman, wearing three buttons, G. A. R., Taft and Bryan. When asked what that meant he remarked: The first means I am an old soldier, the second that I am a republican and the third that I am going to vote for Bryan.
Albany College defeated Pacific University yesterday afternoon, after a hard contest, 5 to 0.

DUSTY STREETS.

Albany people are getting a good dose of dust, because the sprinkler is not running, and it serves some right, though unfortunate for others who wish to do the proper thing with the manager of the sprinkler. Because it looked like rain Mr. Kidder reports a good many withdrew their orders for sprinkling, not leaving enough to pay, one whole block withdrawing. Sprinkling is an expensive people should pay willingly. Instead frequently business men sometimes squirm out of paying, even after they have agreed to do so, making the job of sprinkling streets a thankless one and a poor investment for the owner of the sprinkler. Mr. Kidder may run it next year, but he is not very particular about it. It is not his fault the air is full of dust.

Playing Foot Ball.

The Forest Grove team of foot ball players of the P. U., arrived this noon by way of Portland, a fine crowd of young men, well trained in Oregon's Congregational college. It is said, though, that Coach Hahn is simply a track trainer, and not a foot ball man, at all. The game was called at 3 o'clock too late for today's Democrat.
The Albany team has been splendidly coached by Mr. Luck, and if they do not give a good account of themselves it will be due to other things. The Democrat expects to see them make a good record this season.

Died.

Elsie May, daughter of J. A. Stitt, of the third ward, who died Wednesday, was buried yesterday afternoon. Spinal meningitis was given as the cause of the death.
Johnny, son of T. E. Shepherd, died last night at the age of 3 years, and was buried this afternoon.

Born.

On Oct. 6, in San Francisco, to Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Harnish, a daughter, weight 7 1/2 pounds. All doing well.
The mother was formerly Miss Josephine Barnes of this city, and the new girl has the best wishes of many Albany friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harnish.
