WAS IT A FIGHT.

The Democrat copied an item from the Brownsville Times, a very reliable paper, about a fight between B. S. Martin and Henry Ackerman, and then a denial by Mr. Martin that there was a fight. Now the Times says:

Will Mr. Martin be so kind as to publish—in the Democrat—his definition of a real fight? Mr. Martin and Mr. Ackerman may not have had a real fight, but when one man attacks another with a chair and attempts to knock him down, and the other fellow grapples with him, and throws him down, and in doing so cuts a severe gash in his head, and the combat so real that one man's wife rushes out into the street calling for help, and help arrives and puts a stop to the proceedings, it looks to The Times very much like a real fight should be reported as having taken place between Mr. Martin and Mr. Ackerman. To determine the question as to whether there was a real fight or not, the matter might be tried out in the City Recorder's court?

Five per cent more nutrition in the EHMANN OLIVE OIL than in any imported. Hence physicians prescribe it. Try a bottle and if it don't suit, bring back half a bottle or the empty bottle and its money back.

Yale Beat the Army.

WEST POINT, Oct. 17.—Yale defeated the Army at foot ball today. Score 6 to 0. Princeton defeated Virginia Polytechnic 10 to 4.

A Frightful Massacre.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—It is reported frightful massacres have occurred in Armenia. The Turkish troops have murdered men, women and children.

Stories in Action.

The presentation of Pocahontas at Wonderland last night was witnessed by the Democrat man with a good deal of interest, a realistic reproduction of a story familiar to every school boy. The large number who saw it were delighted with the offering.

Dreamland too had a live program. A Gypsy Girl's Love, in which the gypsy won out after a tragedy; the Mourner, showing the humorous experience of two bums who mourned fictitiously, and the Chieftain's Revenge, an old time Scotch story well reproduced, a vivid reminder of the stories of Sir Walter Scott. Lee Davis sang well No One Knows and What Will Your Answer Be.

Public Speaking.

R. R. Butler, republican elector, and H. M. McKinney will speak at the court house at 8 p. m. on Oct. 22. Senator Fulton will speak at Albany, Oct. 29th.

Get the Best.

About the most important thing in the world is flour, the stuff that makes the staff of life. The best flour that can be made is none too good, and that is considerable.

The best that can be secured is Johnson's Best, Albany.

It is made in the proper manner, and when it is up ready for the market there is nothing left to be done that could improve it.

When you call for flour ask for Johnson's Best, the product of an Albany industry.

HARRISBURG.

Bulletin:
Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Phelps have left Harrisburg and are located at Florence, over near the coast.

Eli Perkins and son of Eugene have purchased the Harrisburg sawmill of the Booth-Kelley people and are moving the machinery over on Coyote Creek.

Harrisburg is now without a dentist. This town affords a yearly business of $1,000 to $1,500 for a dentist. This is the best time of the year.

Mrs. R. A. Githens recently paid an even hundred dollars for a fine blooded calf. In developing a dairy business she may prove a rival to some of our prominent cattle men.

R. L. Weatherford and wife will return to Harrisburg in a couple of weeks and reside here this winter. They have completed their "sentence" at holding down a claim in the Siletz country.

One of the ropes on the ferry boat broke today about noon thereby causing incomers and outgoers much annoyance. The need of a bridge looms up larger than ever. Doubtless one would soon be built if the present busy feeling on the subject were kept up.

James McCartney was up from Portland last week and completed the sale of his farm of 305 acres five miles northwest of town, to the Brock brothers. Price $10,000. Mr. McCartney has owned this place for forty years but has resided on it but very little.

Lost in the Mts.

Postmaster C. L. Morris and Dr. Dale of Harrisburg were hunting in the mountains this week, when Morris got lost. Not returning Dr. Dale went after help and a searching party started out. Morris after a night in a drearying rain finally found his way out. He declared it the worst time in his experience. It is an awful thing to be lost in the mountains.
