JACK'S TRIP.

Martinsburg, Ohio, Oct. 26.—We landed here safe and sound. On the way we stopped at the windy city. It has been almost 23 years since I saw this city, and there are many changes. The hills look the same as when I went to school here, but the people here then have changed wonderfully. Death has called many, others have moved away. Those who remember us wish to know why we look so young, and I tell them it is the beautiful Oregon climate, which makes one grow younger. Times are better here than I expected, on account of the natural gas that has been found, this being one of the greatest gas fields in the U. S. It is used for both fuel and light. A large company has the country leased for miles around, controlling the business. With all this it does not bring business up to Albany. I have not seen Oregon's equal since leaving. A good rain fell yesterday, the first to amount to anything since June. Everything was dried up and looks bad to one from Oregon.

CLOSING THE CAMPAIGN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Both leaders in the campaign are focusing their efforts of the doubtful states.

Taft is talking to big crowds in New York state and Bryan and Kern are touring Illinois. Roosevelt and other republican leaders indignantly deny Rockefeller's aid. They allege the Oil king is trying to injure them. Bryan and the Democrats are making capital of Rockefeller's announcement that he will support Taft.

The Academy Dedication

The dedication of the new Academy will occur Sunday at 2:30 p. m. An interesting program will be rendered after the brief religious rites are performed.

The public is cordially invited to attend the exercises and an opportunity will be given all of visiting the house during the afternoon. Owing to the difficulty in securing both material and labor the building is not entirely finished, but the large accommodations and modern equipment of the new Academy will be noticed by all.

The school begins its 22nd year with an attendance of 76 and the promise of an increased attendance.

The program will be: Selection by the Elk's Band. Song of welcome by Academy choir. Address by Most Rev. A. Christie D. D., Response of the Archbishop. Addresses by Mayor J. P. Wallace, Hon. J. K. Weatherford, and Hon. J. P. Kavanaugh, of Portland. Te Deum by St. Mary's choir. Selection by Elk's Band. Exercises at 2:30 p. m.

IT WAS A BOOST.

The Albany Commercial Club's representatives made a splendid show in Portland. The papers gave them splendid notices and the Oregonian presented their pictures. Albany continues on the map. According to the picture the following were actually in the crowd: Geo. Sanders, M. Senders, E. H. McCune, Bert Veal, J. V. Pipe, William Fortmiller, W. A. Eastburn, W. F. Hammer, William Eagles, Y. G. Freeman, Otto Lee, F. M. French, D. O. Woodworth, F. M. Redfield, Bury I. Dasent, W. M. Parker, W. A. Barrett, W. R. Hand, R. K. Ohling, J. C. Hammel, J. J. Collins, E. W. Langdon, Dr. W. H. Davis, David P. Mason and J. K. Weatherford. Two or three hundred firms agreed to send representatives, the proprietors themselves in most cases coming.

The Albany men report a fine time, and royal treatment, and believe the trip will prove a genuine boost for the city. The wholesalers and others met seemed to appreciate the visit, universally greeting the visitors with cordiality and assurances of good will for Albany and its prosperity.

William McMurray, of the Southern Pacific and Tom Richardson, Portland's booster, and the President of the Commercial Club are entitled to special mention for the manner in which they treated the Albany delegation.

Arrangements are being made for a big feed for the Portland men when they come to Albany on the 10th, to be given in the Alco Gymnasium, a fine place for a banquet.

The Journal, also gives a picture of the Albany crowd and a good writeup, making the affair conspicuous. The Albany boosters were certainly good advertisers.
