THIS MORNING SOME

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

The Hip Hip Hooray crowd, came in to town early in their special car, going down town for breakfast, spending the day in Albany. They appear at the opera house tonight in their college production.

R. E. Warner brought the Brownsville returns down.
 Dr. George Cathey, of Corvallis, returned to Portland to continue his medical studies.

Mr. Robin Nelson, of the U. O., went to Corvallis, to make arrangements for the program for the big U. O.—O. A. C. program, for the game to be played in Portland the last of the month. This will be the game of the year, a hot number.

Commissioner Russell came down from Sweet Home for the county court. Lawyer Newport came down from Lebanon to assist in the republican pie eating.

J. H. Ralston went to Seio on electric business.
 Ex-Postmaster J. R. Smith, of Lebanon came down.
 J. C. Devine, of Lebanon, went to Portland.

Fire Inspector Roberts came down from Lebanon.
 O. J. Mealey went to Portland on a business trip. He thinks there will now be a big boost for socialism.

George Finley came down from Crawfordville and went to Portland. He has stood by the democratic party through thick and thin, but looked a little dubious this morning.
 Prof. J. B. Horner, of the O. A. C., returned home after spending the evening with the encampment.
 J. F. Bain went to Salem on a business trip.

An Albany Party.

As told by the Corvallis Gazette:

A jolly halloween party was given at the Hammel home in Albany that was greatly enjoyed by all present. The decorations for the occasion were elaborate and in keeping with the elegant taste of the young lady assisted by her mother. Many novel features were introduced, among which was a musical entertainment by Dr. J. R. N. Bell, of Corvallis, who was a special importation for the occasion. They had a sort of gypsy play business that created lots of good old solid fun. Miss Vesta Wallace was the gypsy and Rev. Dr. Bell, Mrs. Merrill Hammel and Miss Carrie Danneman acted as judges. They elected the next president and the only thing left for the people to do next Tuesday is ratify their action. Miss Blanche proved herself a queen at entertaining her friends. Those present from Corvallis were Misses Grace Smith, Iva Elston and Ruth Avery, with Miss Carrie Danneman as chaperone. The Albany attendants were Isabella Young, Anona Dawson, Janet Dawson, Marion Anderson, Carolyn Cannon, Madeline Rawlin, jr., Mary Smith, Maggie Stevens, Elma Ohling and Nelson McDonald.

Proposed Damage Suit.

The Corvallis Times in a hot item says Director Angell of the O. A. C. is about to sue the manager of the Albany Athletic Club for damages for not playing a game of foot ball at Corvallis Saturday according to contract. The Club was guaranteed $80 and expenses and tickets were taken at the gate.
 Well, the fact is there is no Albany Athletic Club foot ball team

Catholic Mission.

The mission which is in progress at the Catholic church is drawing a large crowd. The series of lectures is given by Father McDonald, who is an able and persuasive speaker. The lectures will be continued until Sunday evening. The daily services are at 6 and 8.30 and 7.30 p. m. The public is welcome at all the services.

STOP THAT PAIN by vibration the greatest invention of the age. Don't fail to try free demonstration at Dawson's Drug store next week, and be convinced.

If you are in doubt as to what you want, come to the Oregon Market. Here you will find just what your appetite calls for.

COMMITTEES.

 To meet Portland train at Woodburn: P. A. Young, B. I. Dasent.
 On stunts for the banquet: Dr. M. H. Ellis, B. I. Dasent.

Married Men Won.

A bowling match at the Alco Club alleys last night, between the married and single men was won with ease by the married men, who were 98 pins ahead. Four games were played, five men to a team, as follows:
 Married.—Messrs. Flood, Stevens, Flynn, Frazier and Fortmiller.
 Single.—Messrs. Stallmacher, Archibald, Frank, Gibbons and Bilyeu and Besson.

Frazier bowled the highest game. Flood's total score, as usual, was big.

The Weather.

ELECTION NIGHT.

Things were lively down street last night. The streets were crowded. Dreamland had the streets blocked from Washington to Ferry, watching the unique advertisements on the white canvas and the election returns, which showed early in the evening that Mr. Roosevelt's man had won out.

By 6 o'clock there was enough in on account of our superior time advantages to know who was elected. The demonstration was less than usual.

Returns were received at the council chamber from the Postal, and at the Alco Club from the Western Union, and the Home Telephone people reported to any one who desired to know.

It was not a demonstrative crowd and the result didn't seem to enthuse the way it has some years.

Elegant Cups.

At French's show window may be seen several beautiful cup prizes for the apple fair. Three are of special interest, being offered by the interprising towns of the county, one by Brownsville for the second best county exhibit, one by Harriburg for the best box of Kings, one by Seio for the best box of Northern Spies.

Nov. 10, 11 and 12th are going to be great days in Albany, the apple center of the valley.

Church Bazaar.

The ladies of St. Mary's church will hold a Fancy Sale and Bazaar in the Armory Nov. 17, 18 and 19.

There will be a fine display of fancy work for sale, besides home made candies and other delicacies.

A fine musical program will be presented each evening. There will be a large assortment of holiday goods from which to select Christmas presents.

Presbyterian.

Prayer Meeting will be held tomorrow night as usual. Dr. Baird, the missionary from Corea will not be here as expected, for two or three weeks.

Apples, Apples, Apples.

Wanted by E. H. Rhodes, 10 car loads red apples. Call up Bell Phone Black 141.
