BOOSTING A SMELTER.

Messrs. Paul C. Gadsen and Arthur Langguth, of Portland, have been in the city making arrangements for a conference with the Albany Commercial Club, in reference to the proposed smelter to be established in the Gold Creek mines. Mr. Gadsen is of the Wilson Gadsen Co., who are building the custom smelter mentioned, and Mr. Langguth is the fiscal agent of the three mines, the Electric, Gold Creek and Freeland Consolidated, whose ores the smelter will handle.

The gentlemen believe in the prospects, or they would not have selected this location in preference to several others, which they have done. Another reason is that the ores contain the ingredients necessary for the proper working of the smelter.

This smelter will prove a wonderful booster in the developing of mining along the Cascades, and whatever does this at this place is going to be of particular value to Albany, the natural distributing point for these mines. It is an industry that deserves support.

Apples Here Already.

Fruit Inspector Armstrong, of Salem, came up today with fifty or sixty boxes of choice apples, splendidly packed for the apple fair, all of which will be shown, some entered. Monday will be a busy day getting the exhibit in shape.

GRESHAM, Nov. 7.—Safe crackers blew up the safe of Lewis Shattuck, a merchant, and secured $150.

How the Chinese do Things.

One of the most realistic things given for a long time is the Chinese story at Dreamland, for which tonight will be the last time to see it. It shows Chinese life and at the same time presents a live story. The mishaps of the famous minstrel Lou Dockstader is about as funny a business as one sees, at the same time showing an interesting feature in the life of the minstrel, with some added fun. A large crowd enjoyed it last night.

A Doctor Arrested.

Dr. G. W. O'Donnell, of San Francisco, has been arrested for the death of Vesta Van Vleck, a former Salem girl, only 18 years of age, the result of an operation forbidden by law. The young girl had run away with a young man named J. H. Gibson. It was claimed the operation was for appendicitis and so reported to the girl's folks at Salem, but it seems it was of a more serious character.
