THIS MORNING FINED $100

News from Albany's Six Early Trains. The Result of the Peacock Case.

L. D. Curtis, a resident of Albany for a number of years, prominent in roof painting, left this morning for Iowa, Kentucky, West Virginia and Iowa, to look after some property he owns in Iowa, and to visit, and perhaps locate, just where he has not yet decided.

Mr. Alex Power, of Halsey, and W. B. Gilson, of Salem, returned from Lebanon, where they had been to attend the funeral of their brother-in-law, C. R. Butler, a popular resident of that city, which occurred yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. B. I. Dasent went to Portland on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leonard, went to Salem for a short visit. They have returned from east of the mountains, where they have been several months, Mr. Leonard doing bridge work for Mr. Harriman.

Joe Weickman returned from a Brownsville trip, and went to Salem. Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Griggs returned from Lebanon, and are the guests of Mrs. Fred Fortmiller.

Commander J. T. Apperson, returned to Oregon City. Rev. Douglas went to Stayton to assist in evangelistic meetings, the pastor being ill.

Will C. Farley went to Portland. Mrs. S. H. Goin returned to her home near Jefferson after a visit at the home of her father, W. W. Francis.

The case of the city of Albany against Al. Peacock, charged with maintaining a nuisance by keeping a place with liquor, was tried before Recorder Redfield this afternoon. W. R. Bilyeu appearing for the city and P. R. Kelley and J. R. Wyatt for the defendant. For the city, Sheriff Smith testified to finding a barrel and part of another in a room at Mr. Peacock's stables, which the defendant's attorney admitted was beer; G. M. Knox to hauling two or three barrels of beer to the place on three or four occasions, one addressed to P. Durenberger, and Mr. Like, a former employee, to there being beer in the room and on two occasions, upon Mr. Peacock saying it was alright, taking two or three men to the room, who drank and put some money on a shelf. A government internal revenue tax receipt for Oct. 1, 1908, to July 1, 1909, to "Al. Peacock, liquor dealer," was offered in evidence. The defense offered no evidence, and the court ordered a fine of $100.

Bail was fixed at $150 pending appeal, notice of which the attorney for the defendant gave.

A Sweet Day.

There was something doing yesterday down at the Churchill Candy factory. After 11 o'clock Mr. Churchill and his force of candy makers, manufactured 6 miles and 3,280 feet of mixed candies, about a million pieces in all. That was stretching things some, but the story is not stretched at all. This candy is to meet a large holiday trade here and elsewhere.

The Year Book.

Father Lane has begun getting up the annual Year Book of his church, which promises to be a fine affair. Besides the literary part, with historical and biographical sketches, there will be some fine illustrations, including those of the enlarged school building, the new home of the pastor, under way, and many others. A limited number of advertisements will be taken.

A Greek Student.

A new student in the Albany schools is a Greek boy, a fine fellow, Angel Mallios, aged 15. He was born in Athens, and is a son of a railroad employe here. He is in the fourth grade, a good student and a wonderful athlete. The boys all like the little fellow and his stay here promises to be a pleasant one.

We are closing all of our Hand Painted China, also our line of purses and card cases. FRENCH, The Jeweler.

Alco Doings.

The big gym class last night was put through a wand drill, at the Alco Club, by Prof. Luck, a fine thing, and the different apparatuses were used in sections. An indoor base ball court has been laid out and the boys and men are having any amount of fun with bat and ball. During the last month about twenty new members have joined the club, attracted by the splendid advantages of the gymnasium, one of the best equipped in the valley. Regular hours have been set aside for basket ball practice, which are strictly adhered to. From 4 to 6 and 7 to 10 or 11 the Alco Club rooms are live places, a big contrast to the ante-annex days.

Peculiar Coincidence.

In the A. O. U. W. Reporter, just received, in the list of deaths during November appear the two names of Dr. H. J. Boughton and Henry Ewert, the latter following the former. The two men joined the lodge within two months of each other, in 1879, the former first, and he was the examiner of the latter.

THE SMELTER MEETING.

Notwithstanding many other attractions there was a good attendance at the Smelter meeting at Bussard hall last night.

Blue prints of the proposed smelter and maps of the Gold Creek mining region were shown, giving a splendid idea of the situation there. Besides there was a good display of copper and gold ore from the mines, indicating the richness of the proposition, which were examined by those present.

Mr. Gadsden, of the smelter company gave a talk, comprehensive and to the point showing what is proposed, indicating what has already been done, following what the development of the mines and a smelter there will mean for Albany and this part of the valley. It was a satisfactory meeting, a booster for the important project.
