

THURSDAY
REMARKABLE SHOWING.

The O. A. C. announces several short courses, fine things for the young farmers of the country who cannot attend school regularly. They are:
Farmers' week, January 5-9.
Creamery January 5-15.
Dairying January 18 to March 27.
Horticulture January 11 to February 2.
Mechanic arts Jan. 11 to Feb. 20.
Household science and art Jan. 11 to Feb. 20.

The O. A. C. is making a remarkable showing: the per cent of increase the past 8 years has been exceeded by only one institution in U. S.; during the past four years by no other institution, and the increase the past two years is nearly double any other. The number of students in agriculture is only exceeded by three or four in the U. S., and the undergraduate courses are not excelled in the country.

High School Basket Ball.

The schedule of the high school basket ball league of this district has been made up. The cities in it are Eugene, Junction, Albany, Salem and Silverton, all having both boys and girls teams but Eugene, which has no girl's team.

A One Armed Spike Driver.

W. A. Thrift claims the honor of being the only one-armed man to drive a spike in the new street railway track, which he did to-day. Besides this he was the oldest one to do so, being over seventy years. He did it without missing a lick. Bet Ben Cleland couldn't do that.

Lloyd Pruitt came over from the Bay. Rev. M. C. Wire, P. E. arrived this noon on an Albany visit.

Mrs. Fish returned this noon from a visit with her son George in Portland.

Mr. Cliff Abram, of Eugene, returned this afternoon from a Linn county trip.

Mrs. N. W. Banck left this afternoon for Saginaw, Lane county, where she will reside.

Dr. E. A. Pierce, of Portland, has been elected president of the state board of health.

Eugene Shelby and W. E. Carpenter, two prominent W. F. officials, have been in the city looking after business.

F. H. Pfeiffer and family leave tonight for an extended trip to California. They expect to be gone about a month.

Dana Sleeth, a Portland editor, publisher of the News, has been indicted for libel, in accusing a man of being a land thief.

240 bales of hops were bought in Eugene this week by the Kola Neis Hop Co. at 5 cents. The seller is now busy plowing up his hop yard.

Wm. Pfeiffer leaves tonight for San Jose, Cal. He sold his interest in a telephone line from Dallas to Independence and Salem at a good profit.

M. H. Gibbons and George Prichard passed through the city yesterday morning on their way to Portland from San Francisco, and are now at the imperial.

Lebanon and Salem will have the first high school debate, at Salem tomorrow night, when the question of making the exclusion law apply to Japs the same as to Chnese, will be debated.

Governor Chamberlain is home from his eastern trip. He declares Oregon now to be the most talked of state in the union, the result of its modern laws, which it is up to the people to maintain, and particularly to the coming legislature to honor.

Rev. H. V. Rominger has returned to Portland to reside, after an absence of fifteen years. He has been at Laurel, Mont., for several years. He is a former pastor of the Congregational church here. He says there is no place like Portland and he now proposes to stay in Oregon.

Attorneys for Administrator.

BOOSTED
By the Portland Daily Journal.

It is announced from Albany that it is to have a milk condenser. The present capital is for a $24,000 plant, but it is hoped that enough may be added to raise it to $40,000. The valley city is to be congratulated. The achievement is a manifestation of that self help that is a fundamental for progress. It is a spirit to be fostered and that continued will build for a greater Albany.
The environments of the place are ideal for the new industry. A splendid agricultural area stretches away in every direction. The soil is as fertile as the climate is mild. An all year around green feed with its economy of effort is possible by use of vetches and kale. It is a possibility open to few spots in the union. The milk product of western Oregon is peculiarly favorable for condensing purposes. It commands the highest values, and is widely sought. No industry is a better agency for community construction and thrift making than is the condenser. It is an industry that refertilizes the soil instead of impoverishing it. The combined opinion of experts is that fruit and dairying is the ultimate destiny of the Willamette region. By that testimony, Albany should be pleased with its new activity.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

S. M. Garland came down from Lebanon to look after three probate matters, in which he is settling. He will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles to join his family who have been spending several months there at the home of Mrs. Garland's mother, Mrs. Kirpatrick.

Misses Rhoda Stalnaker and Nita Schultz returned from Brownsville, where they have been to attend the Howe Needham wedding.
C. H. Burggraf returned from Brownsville, where he had been looking after the new Odd Fellows' hall.
Cal Goddard returned to Mill City.
Mr. P. W. Spink left for Portland, where he will spend the holidays and perhaps longer with relatives. He took down a fine turkey for a family dinner.
Miss Ollie Landis returned from Brownsville, where she attended the Howe-Needham wedding last night.
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beeson went to Salem for a visit.
Mrs. W. B. Gilson, of Salem, returned home from Lebanon, where she had been called by the death of her brother-in-law.

At the Hotels.

J. B. Humphrey, Stevensville, Mon. Wm Driver, Seattle, Wash.
S. S. Myers, Shedd.
M. N. Richardson, Portland.
F. H. Coppitts and wife, down from Gold Creek.

W. T. Scott, Portland.
William Roberts, Pendleton.
H. Brown, Portland.

Track Completed.

The street car track was completed this afternoon into the car barn near the depot, and the trolley wire has been placed there ready for the juice. The car was expected today, but has not arrived yet. When it gets here the line will be ready for operation. The street car service has been missed and people generally will be glad to have the car running again, and in an up-to-date manner.

Secured a Divorce.

Lawyer Geo. W. Wright returned this noon from Salem, where he had been to try the divorce case of Mrs. Chas. W. Yankke, from her husband, a prominent liveryman and farmer. The Statesman says it was one of the most sensational divorce cases ever tried in the county. Mrs. Yankke secures beside the divorce $3,000 in money, $5,000 in real property, a driving horse and other things. There was no defense.

Want a Big Bounty.

O. J. Mealey is circulating a petition for a bounty of $25 on cougars and smaller sums on other varmints. The varmints, particularly cougars, are gradually killing off the deer and are a menace to them.
There are said to be 400 or 500 cougars in the state, and the case calls for something emphatic. The legislature will be asked to do the proper thing.

No Circumstance.

Independence Enterprise:
S. H. McElmurry returned yesterday from a visit of several weeks with relatives and friends in Western Washington. Mr. McElmurry says the cold here is not a circumstance to what it is in Washington. There was three or four inches of snow there when he left. He says he almost froze to death in that country.

J. C. Brown, of Shedd, in town today this week shipped six fine jerseys to the Catholic orphanage, near Oswego, for which he received $500.

One of the reports is that Mr. Bain who so recently bought the Vance corner, will erect a brick on the site and establish a bank there.

The game of basket ball announced to take place between Albany and Monmouth next Saturday evening, will not occur. Monmouth gave notice last evening it would not play. A member is sick, etc.

Milk Condenser Officers.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon the Albany Milk Condensery elected the following temporary officers: Henry Lyons president, W. W. Poland, vice president, H. G. Fisher manager, E. W. Cooper secretary and treasurer. On Wednesday, Dec. 23, a meeting will be held for permanent organization. The size of the plant is not yet decided upon.

An Albany Holly.

A holly tree in the yard of Miss Gard, it is said, will yield about $20 worth of holly this year. It is of the Austrian variety, set out 29 years ago by L. E. Blain and is a fine tree. At that rate a holly orchard would certainly pay. There is said to be a big demand in the large cities for the pretty spray.

The Finch trial began at Portland today.

Mrs. Nettie Kirkland is visiting relatives in Dallas.

William Ritchie returned from a Corvallis trip.

Father Butler, of Corvallis, went to Eugene on the afternoon train.

Willamette students are getting smart. A cow in the chapel and a few things like that testify to their erudition.

Rev. A. M. Williams, of McMinnville, and Rev. Knott, of Albany, went to Cottage Grove this afternoon to attend a called session of the Presbytery of the Willamette.

Several students of Yew Park, Salem, were dismissed yesterday for wearing loud socks, contrary to orders. It was a malicious, combined effort to have a loud time.

A Jap was arrested at Woodburn with a pint of nitro-glycerine, 12 pounds of dynamite, some fuse and a box of dynamite caps. He had about decided to blow up the pen.

Mrs. Fred Arnold entertained the B. B. A. A's yesterday. Each member was presented with a Xmas, souvenir and a delicious lunch. followed. Mrs. Ashby of Salem was a visitor.

Roseburg News.—W. J. Wallace, of Albany, transacted business in the city for a few hours Tuesday. He reports everything prosperous in his home city, the farmers having enjoyed excellent crops, while the merchants report a most flourishing holiday trade.

The cost of building the Oregon Electric Co's road and stations between Portland and Salem was $2,522,629.45. The gross earnings the first six months, mostly passenger business, were $65,240, net earnings $13,535.

An O. R. & N. west bound train was held up eight miles east of Portland at 8:30 last night, by four men, who cut the train in two and made the messenger open the strong box. They only got a small amount, though.

Dallas has gotten down to business, and easily defeated Seattle 34 to 15, Vancouver 43 to 6 and Winlock 34 to 4. They are on their way eastward. It is claimed the team that played Multnomah was not the champion eastward bound team.

The A. C. Ball New Year's eve promises the most notable social event. Strademer's orchestra, of Salem, has been secured for the occasion, and besides the ball room music, an opening program will be presented, in which there will be an opportunity to hear Roy Gesner, of considerable fame as a violinist. A quartet will sing and the orchestra give several numbers. That evening the Alco Club rooms will be closed to the members, and it will take $1.50 a couple to enter.

Lunceford-Mosher.

From a Los Angeles paper:
Mrs. Estella Mosher, a cousin of Mrs. O. H. Churchill, 2901 South Figueroa street, to Mr. Harry Walter Lunceford of this city, the ceremony taking place at the Churchill home in the presence of relatives of the two families.
Rev. J. Horace Malloys of Plymouth Congregational church conducted the service, and at its conclusion a wedding breakfast was served, the table decorations of pink roses and orange blossoms being especially attractive.
During the ceremony the couple stood in a bower of greenery in the bow window. The bride wearing her travelling suit of gray cloth.
While away on their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Lunceford will visit Santa Barbara and other points of interest, and on their return will reside in West Twenty-second street. Later they will begin the erection of a new home.
Mrs. Mosher is a former Albany young lady, a daughter of Justice O. T. Porter and sister of Mrs. H. N. Cocklerline.

Doing Business Without a License

One, J. J. Osborn, a native of New York City, of Buffalo, N. Y., was arrested this morning by Chief of Police Ries, for running a jewelry store on the streets without a license. He was hastening eastward, when the chief got in a delivery wagon and headed him off. Osborn had opened his store for business in the kitchen of the Hotel Revere, with the cook as a prospective customer, but he didn't bite. When examined in Recorder Redfield's office his stock of goods was found to consist of seven or eight spectacles, looking like gold, for which he had an Oregon City bill showing one dozen to have cost $1.80 and another $1.50, some cheap chains and lockets and a couple rings, one of which he said he had traded for. He had not sold anything, and agreed to leave the city at once on a hike, and this he did.

At Eugene he took out a license and did some business among the innocent people of that town. He had also been at Silverton. He seemed very much pleased at getting away without his goods being confiscated.
As he had only a little money this kind of business evidently is not a very paying one.

ALBANY AND EUGENE.

The inter-high school debates and basket ball games are now on, beginning today. Albany's part in it consists of a debate at Eugene this afternoon beginning at 2:30 and basket ball between the boys' teams tonight at 7:30. Eugene has no girl's team.

In the debate this afternoon the Albany high school was represented by Wilson Peery, Frank Bryant and Miss Cleo Weaver, bright students; and Eugene by Messrs Calkins, Morris and Collier, all young men. The question being debated is: Resolved that all institutions of the state for higher education be placed under control of a board.

The lineups in the basket ball game tonight will be: Albany—Stalnaker and Dooley f, Engstrom c, Bigbee and McDonald guards, Eugene—Koch and Watson f, Burton c, Mummy and Green g.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

Half of the old depot hotel was just far enough across the main track to be missed by the trains passing. Pete Ruettner declared it was the heaviest load he had ever carried.

Just west on a flat car was the new street car, labeled Portland, Eugene and Eastern Ry., a fine looking structure capable of holding a hundred, built for the traffic of the main line.

Sam Garland came down from Lebanon and left for Los Angeles by way of Portland.

Prof. Kent and J. C. Lowe came over from Corvallis.

The Lebanon debating team, in charge of Miss Johnson, went to Salem, where they will debate the Salem high school team tonight. Last year Lebanon had the winning team. It is hardly expected it can win twice in succession, but it will do its best.

Prof. J. B. Horner, Sam Hartsock and three other Corvallis men, returned home after an all night's session at the Elk's lodge. They rode the goat, and had enough bones left to carry them home. A class of ten in all went in, making the present membership here between four and five hundred.

J. W. Sherwood, state commander of the Maccaebes, returned north after an Albany visit. He believes the Maccaebes have a sane insurance, on stable grounds, looking ahead to the future, not satisfied just with the present showing of a present day.

Miss Beatrice Reed came down from Lebanon.

Masonic Election.

St. John's Lodge No. 17, has elected the following officers for the ensuing term:

J. S. Van Winkle, worshipful master.
C. C. Bryant, senior warden.
Geo. E. Sanders, junior warden.
E. D. Cusick treasurer.
Ed Washburn secretary, a position he has held for many years, now being secretary of all the Masonic lodges here.
W. E. Baker, tyler, now having filled the office for eighteen years.
C. B. Winn trustee.

For the Seattle Fair.

At the meeting of the Commercial Club last night the matter of an exhibit of apples, pears peaches and prunes at the Seattle exposition was discussed. The County court will be asked to look after it.

How the College Students Did Shakespeare.

The Merchant of Venice presented by the college students last night was a very creditable performance, ahead of most of the college entertainments, conferring credit upon the participants. A large audience appreciated it.

Founded upon Shakespeare's popular play it was given a foot ball cast and local sideshows of a humorous order.

Miss Willetha Wright took the part of Portia, with marked ability. Curtis Cole did well in the new version of the old money lender, Shylock. Nelson Wilbur was an excellent Bassanio, transformed into a foot ball player, but still the lover; Mr. Joe Barry was particularly good as Antonio, captain of the Albany foot ball team, well sustained by Virgil Calavan as Gratiano, his friend; Grover Birtcher made a hit as Launcelot Gobbo and was called before the curtain. The pretty parts of Nerissa and Jessica were well portrayed by Rhoda Stalnaker and Nita Schultz; Miss Lena Heinrich seemed cut out for the new character of the preceptress; Winifred McNair was just it as Mrs. Gobbo; Gladys Eaton was at home as Mrs. Antonio; Will Steel was right on top of the part of the science professor who examined the brain of Antonio and found nothing in it, which cleared him from Shylock's demand of a pound of hair next to his brain. Victor Yates fit in as a modern policeman in the old show; Carrol Cushman as the judge, and Eva Cushman did nicely as Polly, Portia's maid. And there you are, with a good word for all of them, which they deserve.

The music by the college orchestra, under the direction of Miss Hanson, deserves special mention. The sixteen amateurs gave a fine musical program, excelling many of the professional orchestras.

Local Minstrelsy at Roseburg.

The local minstrel show at Roseburg, managed by J. H. Hearde, in Albany last year, was a success. Some of the numbers have a familiar ring: "When the moon plays peek-a-boo," "Jasper Johnson, Shame on you," "Somebody lied," "How would you like to be my wife," "In Dahomey," "Cheyenne," "Keep Moving," "Lazy Moon," "Everybody was ment for some one," etc. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes made a nit with their stunts, a new one. Among the local performers were Messrs. Zucher, the booster, Hildebrand, Stubbs, Mathews, Wickham, Perman, Patterson, Kidd, Bellows, and Waldron.

Died at Corvallis.

Mrs. Phile, an old and highly respected resident of Corvallis, died last night, after a short illness, at the age of about 75 years, and a good citizen is lost to the world.

She leaves a husband and one daughter, Mrs. Conrad Meyer, of this city. Mrs. Schlosser, of Albany is a sister. She was a member of the Catholic church.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon at Corvallis at the family residence.

A Big Newport Deal.

News:
Monday one of the largest deals in Newport real estate was consummated that has yet taken place in the city. It was the sale of what is known as the Thompson Estate, situated in the Nye and Thompson addition. The purchasers are the Loomis brothers and C. E. Sheffield. The property lies chiefly in the neighborhood of Nye creek and includes much of the choicest property in Newport.

A Full Raisin Market.

The raisin market of Albany is well supplied, due to a large shipment received by W. B. Stevens from his farm, a ton of them, in twenty pound boxes. They have been selling for $1.50 a box, where the price is generally $2.50 to $3 for twenty pound boxes.
