Should Be Hanged.

Some night riders back in Tennessee are to be hanged, which will serve them right. Sometimes it is thought a band of men may combine and do as they please in a community, overriding the rights of other people, taking law into their own hands, murdering right and left according to their own code. Every man has a right to trial by jury of his peers, and it is time courts of justice do as the Tennessee court has done, punish to the limit of the law. It is possible that there are cases of lynching where one feels like doing a little winking; but these night riders and such men are of a different kind of lawless character not to be tolerated anywhere. And lynching is not to be justified in argument.

Not Playing Fair.

A low lived game is being played down at Salem to defeat Gov. Chamberlain for U. S. senator. The opposition is not fighting on the fair, but is using all manner of underhanded methods, bribery etcetera, modern politics that are disgracing the country. A willing champion is found in the Oregonian, whose arguments are so childish and unreasonable a school boy would not be willing to father them. The people are back of Governor Chamberlain in a fight which means much more than his election as U. S. senator, but something which establishes a principle of justice and right in the matter of government by and for the people.

Different Kinds of Cold.

Cold weather is bad enough of any kind, but our Willamette Valley cold, with hardly enough of a breeze to move smoke, is tame compared with that of the middle east, where blizzards rage galore, and with much colder weather there is enough wind to blow the hair loose from an animal. And then how it stays on, month after month, a great contrast to our few days of mild windless cold. The trouble is, that here we are used to flowers and such things in January, and are entirely unprepared for anything under 20 degrees above zero.

A Back Scratching Affair.

The state legislature has started out in its old path, a back scratching affair. The plan seems to be from the jump off, even in the matter of important clerkships, committees etc., to trade, regular jobbery. The result is an uncertain service and poor laws, and it is no wonder the people invoke the referendum. Two years ago they did it in nineteen cases and generally won out, and they will do it again if the occasion demands it.

Cold weather has made business for plumbers and sleigh and cutter runners. Something has to move anyway.

Some legislators think they are making a reputation by jumping up and making all the motions.

Getting clerkships is often a matter of luck.

WANTED.—Plain sewing, at homes of the people. Phone Red 2271 Bell.

FOR SALE.—Brown's gasoline wood-sawing outfit. This outfit includes 3 saws, a 50-gal. gasoline tank, good top and a first-class leather belt. Good reason for selling. Price very reasonable if taken now. Machine 1 mile from town on Route 4. Geo. F. Brown.

LOST.—Somewhere between the depot and down town, probably on Lyon street, a purse containing $6 or $7, a bank book, and one or two other things. Return to Anna E. Baker or Democrat office.

WANTED.—A load of good hay. Address box 544, Albany.

Obituary.

Clara Bell Penland was born October 23, 1861 in Linn County, Oregon two miles east of the present site of Halsey. She was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church when about ten years of age and was an earnest working Christian all the rest of her life.

She was married to H. C. Davis, October 5, 1881, and to them was born two children, Carl H. and Elsie, besides she was a foster mother to her cousin, Amy Standish.

They resided on what was known as the Penland farm until the fall of 1899 when they moved to Eugene to give their children better school advantages, and to her great joy she lived to see them graduate from the University.

In the winter of 1902 and '03 she contracted lung trouble and after a valiant struggle to overcome it, she passed to her rest January 7, 1909, aged 47, 2 months and 14 days. She leaves to mourn, her husband, H. C. Davis, son, Carl H., who is in Rush Medical college, Chicago, daughter Elsie, foster daughter, Amy Standish, mother, Mrs. E. R. Quick of Halsey, two brothers, E. R. Penland of Halsey and L. E. Penland of Pendleton and a sister Mrs. P. T. Starr of Corvallis.

A short funeral service was conducted at her home in Eugene by Rev. Trimble of the M. E. church on January 8th 1909 at 10:30 a. m. The remains were then taken to Halsey where on January 9th the regular funeral service was preached by Rev. Trimble assisted by Rev. Stratford, pastor of the M. E. church and Rev. Van Winkle, a life long friend. She conducted the junior league for years and was considered the best junior superintendent in the state. Her life was devoted to others more than herself, and her work is continued in the lives of the girls and boys she has trained in the Sunday school and League.

"We live for those who love us
For those who know us true,
For the Heaven which shines above us
And awaits our Spirits too!"

S.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE OF CATARRH

No remedy that does not entirely remove the cause of Catarrh from the blood will ever make a permanent cure of the trouble. Just as long as the circulation remains contaminated with the impurities and catarrhal matters which produce the trouble, the mucous membranes or inner linings of the body will be kept in a state of irritation and disease. Sprays, lotions and other local applications will sometimes temporarily relieve the tight, full feeling in the head, buzzing noises in the ears, uncomfortable, stuffy feeling of the nostrils, and help to loosen the mucus in the throat; but Catarrh is a constitutional blood disorder and until it has been entirely driven from the system there can be no permanent cure. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by removing the cause from the blood. It attacks the disease at its head and by thoroughly purifying and cleansing the circulation, and ridding it of every particle of impurity, and at the same time enriching the blood, allows the inflamed and irritated membranes to heal, improves the general health, and stops every disagreeable symptom. S. S. S. reaches down to the very bottom and leaves no trace of the disease in the system. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.
