A Remarkable Victory.

The election of George E. Chamberlain, formerly of this city, for U. S. Senator, is one of the most remarkable events in the history of the United States, and establishes a new era in politics. Nothing like it has ever occurred before. It was a veritable election of a senator by a vote of the people. While Senator Bourne in a measure was elected that way the circumstances were different. This case stands out alone.

It is another step in the career of a remarkable man, whose success in politics has been phenomenal. Elected time after time with an overwhelming party vote to overcome, he has met the requirements of his different offices in a manner to commend himself to the people. Added to this fact is a pleasing personality, the ability to treat all men as he passes along the same.

As a U. S. senator he will be of immense value to Oregon, because he will be personally interested in every section of the state. He will have a standing there because of his ability to meet his fellow men on a level, and his standing in Washington will be unquestioned. The fact that he is not of the same politics of the party in power will not affect his influence. It is a fact that many of the most useful members of Congress have been men in the minority. In fact there is often an advantage in the fact.

Oregon is to be congratulated upon the termination of this remarkable campaign for U. S. senator, and, as well the state legislature is to be congratulated, for now it can get right down to business without being hampered by a long drawn out election, customary under the old system.

The people are to be congratulated, because it is a great victory for popular government. The result on the part of will take care of itself.

After the Cigarette

Senator Miller has an excellent bill introduced, one preventing the possession of cigarettes by a minor, as well as the smoking of them. It should pass; and yet it doesn't go far enough. Their sale in the state should be entirely prohibited. The cigarette is one of the boy's worst enemies, and it is a mighty poor friend of a man. It saps the life blood of the user, takes a whack at the heart and unfit the brain for effective use. The person who takes up the use of the miserable little things deliberately writes failure upon his life. Sometimes it is slow, but it gets there.

In the Interest of Marriage

A bill in the state legislature provides for the requiring of medical certificates before marriage. The bill will probably fail, and yet there is considerable merit in it. It would be a good thing for society if people seriously diseased were not allowed to marry. It might well at least reach some diseases in the interest of a better manhood in the coming generations. Marriage needs some safe guards, and it is possible such a bill as this is one of them. Nevertheless it is doubtful if the people are yet ready for stringent legislation on the subject.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Any chronic ulcer shows an unhealthy and impure condition of the blood. It is a diseased condition of the flesh at that particular spot, caused and kept inflamed and irritated by a continual discharge into it, of unhealthy matter from the circulation. No treatment can have any curative effect except a medicine which will renovate the blood and entirely remove the cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are sometimes helpful in reducing inflammation, cleansing the ulcer, or perhaps lessening the discharge, but such applications do not reach the blood where the disease germs are located and can never effect a cure. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation, drives out all impurities and morbid matter, and by nourishing the flesh with rich pure blood causes the place to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by beginning at the bottom, and rebuilding broken-down tissue, and supplying healthful, healing qualities to the blood, causes the place to fill in with new, firm flesh, while it steadily but surely effects a permanent cure. The ulcer can not exist when the blood is pure, and S. S. S. will thoroughly purify the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.
