

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR SPECIALS

We still find that we have quite an assortment of our regular muslin stock which is slightly soiled and to make room for our large spring stock we have decided to close out the entire lot at Half Price. This is one of the lines we had out during the sale. There are some excellent values, and remember they are all going at

HALF PRICE

Also to close out the present lines SUITS and MILLINERY we will continue to sell at HALF PRICE.

NEW WHITE GOODS

Just received a beautiful line of new white materials in Lawns, Dimities, Organdies, and new barred and striped effects. All prices. See them at

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Judge McFadden came over from Corvallis this noon. Mrs. Olin Stalaker went to Halsey this afternoon for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Way returned this noon from a Newport visit. Mrs. Frank Ward, of Salem, arrived this noon on a visit with relatives. Mr. Jos. Elkins, of Lebanon, was in the city today on a visit with his brother Jas. Elkins. Mrs. Stephanie Schuecker returned yesterday afternoon from a visit with Eugene friends. Mr. Harry Chase, of the Spaulding Lumber Co. is lying critically ill with pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crowder and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Simpson, of Portland, arrived this noon, called here by the critical illness of the father of Mr. Crowder and Mrs. Simpson, Mr. S. W. Crowder, a prominent pioneer citizen, now almost eighty years of age.

WRECKED ON THE WAY.

E. E. Rooklidge and family arrived this morning from Tacoma, bringing a car load of household goods. They also started with a horse or two. On the way they had a very live experience. At Castle Rock the freight met with an accident and Mr. Rooklidge's car was turned completely over, and things were broken to pieces, as well as the car. The goods were placed in another car and the journey continued, after the railroad company had made a settlement for the things. Mr. Rooklidge, an experienced printer and linotype man, has bought the Pierce place of 21 acres across the Willamette, which he will cultivate, intending to give up the printing business.

Billiken Postals at Meiser's. Billiken drives away the blues. Get one at Meiser's. Lost from the Library "Sailing Alone Around the World." Who has it. Dr. Lowe the well known eye specialist will be in Harrisburg Wednesday Feb. 3, Junction City 4. Don't fail to have him test your eyes for glasses, 19 years experience. After an extended discussion of the proposition the subscribers to the condenser stock, last evening adjourned until Saturday, February 13, to complete the required subscription for the stock. Tomorrow is the day of prayer for colleges, and it will be observed at Albany College. Rev. Harry H. Pratt, of Portland, will speak at the chapel at 10:30 on Faith and at 7:30 on Christ in Our Modern Life. Mr. Mercer, of the National Y. M. C. A., gave a splendid talk to the college students this forenoon. A man who once sowed many wild oats he speaks from a striking experience and gets close to the boys.

Nothing the Matter With Oregon.

(By Rev. W. T. Wardle, of Lebanon.) Land of the cloud-mists, of emerald green, Kissed by the fairies with garments sheen. Land of the rain, genial, welcome and warm, Where cyclone nor tempest ere give us alarm. Land of the flowers, of ferns and of moss, Where farmers fear not for crops, nor for losses. Land sought by ships flying flags of all nations, To gather our fruits and grains for their rations. Land of great rivers, cascades and of pools, Whence come from old ocean the salmon in schools. Land of huge ranges, sun kiss'd and snow clad, Whence tumble the trout streams rushing and mad. Land where the deer flies from cougar so bold, Where bear makes its lair in fir trees so old. Land of the grouse, of pheasant and quail, Of wild duck and pigeon, of teal and of rail. Land of Royal Ann cherry, of berry "Magoon", Of apples and peaches, of pear and of prune. Land of great hopfields, with trellises green, Where old folks and children, and lovers are seen. Land rich in silver and copper and gold, The quartz mill so mighty, the placer so old. Land where the health giving rain-mist is sought, Where vigor increases, where cures are wrought. Land of the cedar and pine, the hemlock and fir, Woods dense and mighty, where winds seldom stir. Land intersected by Cascade and Coast Range, Where flow the Willamette, the Columbia so strange. Land with its hoary sentinels of snow, Keeping faithful their crys't o'er valley below. Land where the East and the West clasp their hands, Project new endeavors, weave closer their bands. O beautiful Oregon, let me utter thy praise, Let me speak of thy glory, let me love thee always. I love thy great ranges, thy tiniest rill, The cataract's music, the rains that distill. I love thy green meadows, thy emerald glades, The wealth of thy forests, the depths of thy shades. O beautiful land, with sunshine and haze, Let me love thee forever, in thee end my days.

and Lincoln, is another which should be closely scrutinized before it reaches the approval of farmers and dairymen; as it is exceedingly costly and would be avoided to such an extent, that it would be of little or no benefit. Besides such a law would have a tendency to drive many small dairymen out of the business. A FARMER.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:

I think farmers had better carefully examine Senate bill No. 3 introduced by Johnson of Benton county, and see if it does not contain many objectionable features, which are sufficient to cause it to be defeated. Farmers want good roads, but such as are named in this bill certainly would be very costly, and few of the people who would be taxed to build them would receive any benefit from them. The object of such state roads are certainly calculated for the benefit of automobiles, and farmers would not care to be taxed to build a highway for the benefit of the people who live in the towns. A road eight or sixteen feet wide would hardly allow an automobile to pass a wagon or other vehicle after the farmer had unhitched his team, which many would be compelled to do before it would be at all safe for them to go by. Such bills as this and many others which have as little or less merit, should be strongly opposed by farmers, as they have the largest part of the money to raise for their maintenance. House bill No. 41, by Jones of Polk
