The Way Albany Beat Salem.

The basket ball season closed in Aloany Saturday evening with one of the most interesting games of the year. The Albany high school girl's team most interesting games of the year. The Albany high school 'girl's team closed a victorious season by defe ating the large, well trained girls of the Capital Business College 16 to 7. The Albany girls all played a fast and strong game. The playing of Dollie Bending was remarkable. Though playing at guard she made five out of six field baskets thrown, transforming the Salem forward against her into a guard. The other basket was thrown by Ella Howard. Out of six tries at baskets from the foul line Alice Martin threw four, a very high percentage.

The two Salem baskets were made by Missee Ustrander and Girirden. Out of seven tries from the foul line Miss M. Mann threw three baskets.

The lineups were: Salem—Misses Ostrander and Norod forwards. B. Mann center, M. Mann and Girirden guards. Albany—Howard and McBride forwards, Eckert center, Bending and Martin guards.

A BATH

Because A Student Took a Clean IMPROVEMENT Shave.

Recently the boys in the class at the college of which Henry Vollstedt is one began weating small sideburns, with a penalty for cutting them off. To day Mr. Vollstedt appeared with them off, causing general consternation among his friends. His classmates caught on very quickly, and it was only a very short time before the sideburnless young man was conducted to the canal and plunged in, clothes and all, getting a live ducking, making him as high toned as a U. O. student. But it was worth the bath to be without the antiquated whiskers, and Mr. Vollstedt's mind is just as active as before. Now all the sideburns are off. This is one version, good enough. college of which Henry Vollstedt is
