THE WOODILL MYSTERY.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Advices from the scene of the Woodill murder indicate, according to detectives, that Eastman and the woman might have been old friends. The idea that she was murdered by another woman is scouted. She was buried by the county today. Robbery may have been the motive as a man resembling Eastman pawned the jewels here similar to the ones missing.

New Tennis Champion.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, of California, won the women lawn tennis championship of the United States, defeating Mrs. Bergrer Wallace of New York, the former champion.

Stolen Goods Found.

The goods stolen several weeks ago from the stores of McCully & Sturtevant and Cross & White at Halsey, have just been recovered in a peculiar way. A man convicted at Roseburg for the robbery of a post office in Douglas county, while in jail just before being taken to the pen this week confessed to having had a hand in the robberies, telling where the goods were, part near Roseburg and most of them in a hay-stack near Halsey, a couple gunney sacks full, and they were found just as reported and returned to the owners.

Corvallis has made a contract with the Harriman people for advertising and will boat likewise.

BAD ALLEYS

As Well as Unsightly Bill Boards

Editor Democrat:—
Admitting that bill boards are by no means an ornament or pleasing sight to admirers of a beautiful city, they certainly are far from being as unsightly and disgraceful as a filthy and stinking alley as the one in block 7 in the hub of the Willamette Valley. There are other alleys in the city that are far from being a model of cleanliness but that one in particular takes the cake from one year's end to the other. A city ordinance exists prohibiting depositing trash of any kind in the streets or alleys, but our city officials who are paid by the city to look after this matter certainly are not doing their duty and drawing pay for something they do not earn. I would say here that clean-up day is a good thing as far as it goes but it don't go far as it comes to seldom to do much good. It would simply remind one of a person taking a bath once a year, that may be better than taking no bath at all but such a person would be a poor sample of cleanliness, and so with the city that has its annual clean-up day. As soon as every man, woman and child requires the habit of making every day in the year clean up day may we look forward to a clean city and no sooner.
CHAS. PFEIFFER.
