THURSDAY.

SCOTLAND

Is Remembered by the Bible School.

The discussion yesterday afternoon on the college and university teaching in connection with the church was led by the able pastor of the Presbyterian church of Eugene, Rev. Mount, and was decidedly interesting.

Rev. Robert McClain and others spoke out very plainly on the subject of evolution, leaving no doubt as to the standing of this Bible school on the subject.

One of the most entertaining things of the school was the address last evening at the M. E. church, by Rev. Jeanette Ferris, of Sheridan, on Bonnie Scotland in song and story, in which she showed her appreciation of the splendid things Scotland has done for the literature and song of the world. The world admires the Scot because of his sturdy character, so splendidly portrayed in the literature of the country.

This afternoon Chas. A. Phipps led the S. S. talk, a very important one and Mrs. Ferris gave another splendid Scotch talk, gaining Ian McLaren as her subject, telling of his splendid stories and work.

Tonight at the M. E. church the address will be worth the attendance, by Rev. Robert McClain, with illustrations, on Porto Rico. Rev. McClain was in the missionary service there several years, and hence is alive with experience.

Tomorrow will be bird day.

Capt. Kuhn went to Lebanon this morning.

The Misses Alexander of Stayton are visiting with Miss Maggie Shea.

Morgan Watson, of Eugene, passed north this forenoon for Portland.

Mrs. T. G. Hopkins returned last night from a Salem visit.

Dennis Merrill went to Harrisburg last night on timber land business.

Mrs. J. J. Collins and children left yesterday for Seaside for an outing.

Mrs. Anna Farrell is visiting at the home of the father, Mr. Frank Farrell.

W. L. Maris left last night for Spokane to take a chance in the big land drawing.

Rev. Tracey, of Lebanon, was in the city last evening on his way home from Portland.

Mrs. William Huston left yesterday afternoon for home after an Albany visit of several weeks.

The Misses Anna and Helen Schultz are spending the week with Miss Gladys Dorgan at the Dorgan farm.

R. D. Mitchell, of Crabtree returned home to-day from Montana. He declared Paradise is best place he was in.

J. G. Crawford has been getting out some berry post cards that are splendid things for sending east, regular boosters.

Miss Pearl Stevens arrived last night from Aberdeen, South Dakota, on a visit with her former school mate, Miss Elsie Bain.

Miss Chambers, daughter of F. L. Chambers, of Eugene, returned home last evening, after a visit with Miss Zona Haight.

W. B. Sherman, a leading timber land dealer of Grants Pass, passed through the city this forenoon for northern points.

Miss Ella Simpson, of Oakland, returned home this afternoon accompanied by her cousin, Miss Wheeler, daughter of Ed Wheeler.

Mrs. Edna Bennett, of Corvallis, came over this noon on a visit with her sister, Mrs. Grefox before the latter and family leave for California to reside.

Mrs. Fred Mueller, a former Albany lady, is lying critically ill in Council Bluffs, Iowa, where she went several months ago on a visit with relatives.

E. J. Davidson and family have returned from Nome, where they have been several years, and are the guests of W. H. Bowman. They were here three years ago.

Mrs. F. M. French left this afternoon for Portland on a visit with her only grand-child, Lillian Emma Williams, whom she will see this evening for the first time.

Col. Roosevelt this week killed a hippopotamus cow and bull. The natives were terrorized, but the Col. stood his ground, and with his trusty rifle laid the fat fellows low.

Miss Lorane Bliton, daughter of the editor of the Mail, and Miss Isola Eubanks, daughter of the proprietor of the Rex Grocery Store, of Medford, arrived today on a visit at the home of J. P. Roberts and family.

Miss Carrie Moon, Chico, Calif., arrived this noon on a visit at the home of her uncle G. C. Moon. She was here five years ago, and the many friends she made then will be glad to have this visit from her.

The Oregon R. F. D. men will hold their seventh convention in Corvallis July 3-31. Paul A. Lindsay, of Georgia, the national president, will be present, also Tom Richardson, and of course, Johnny Gorns and the other Albany carriers.

Following are some new people at the summer Bible school: Rev. J. V. Milligan, Portland; Mrs. Chas. A. Park Salem; Rev. Jameson, Brownsville, Rev. G. A. M. Lilley, Clatsop Falls, Crook county. Rev. Lilley was also present last year, coming with his family across by the Lebanon Wagon Road.

W. M. Parker has just added a fine Moberg electric coffee grinder to his well equipped grocery and bakery; also a typewriter for his numerous side issues, such as the 2500 and A. O. U. W., the business of which goes through his hands.

The Pythian Sisters this afternoon were having a picnic in Hackleman's Grove, a delightful place for one, a liverdow of Albany ladies, with baskets well filled. J. L. Irvine took them out in automobile, and will bring them back making Mrs. Kelley's headquarters for operations.

MEETING OF A. C. CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Albany Commercial Club last evening was well attended. This was about what was done:

Secretary Van Winkle read a letter from Wm. Bigwell Wells asking for a Linn county display to be sent east to numerous state fairs, and stock shows.

B. J. Hecker was appointed a delegate to the 20th Trans-Pacific Congress at Denver Aug. 21.

A mortgage and loan company wanted various informations about water projects, etc.

The matter of delegates to the big National Irrigation congress at Spokane Aug. 9-14 was left to the president, who will appoint some one wishing to be there at that time.

The cherry fair excursion was reported a success, also the Innes band concert.

There was considerable discussion about the cannery subscription, and the making up the full amount, though the subscription signed up was only part.

The old committee, Messrs. Barrett, Collins, Miller, Tomlinson and Eastburn were appointed a committee to collect the old subscription and as much more as possible.

The progress of the new booklet was reported and the pamphlet gotten out for emergency was shown being ready for distribution, a neat affair from the office of C. G. Rawlings.

A letter from the postmaster at Riverside, Wash., completely vindicating the new manager of the club was read.

Arrangements were ordered made for securing the Linn County front, now at the Salem fair grounds, for the new rooms of the club in the Albany State Bank building.

Messrs. Eastburn, Tomlinson and Bean were appointed a committee on fruit for the jars recently given the club by Linn county, to be filled by them for display at the new club rooms.

The matter of distributing inquiries among real estate men in a satisfactory manner was discussed and left to the officers of the club.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

John Sandstrom left for Nome, near where he will resume mining operations. He has been around Nome for six years. He reports a wonderful falling off in the output, it being about a third what it was at one time. Mr. Sandstrom once got in the papers for making a 50 cents a pan discovery, but it didn't pan out that way after all. Once he walked over a claim that produced $4,000,000 thinking it worthless, leaving it for others.

J. G. Will, Bert Stevens, Harry Schlosser and Ed. Rortmiller, four of Albany's liveliest young men, left for Detroit and further into the hills for fish and an outing.

Among the passengers going to the Bay were Mr. Fred Holm and family of Portland. Mr. Holm has been a carrier in Portland for 16 years, one of the veterans on the force.

Mayor J. C. Mayer and seven other Linn men left for Spokane to file for chances in the big land lottery, having been struck with the prevailing fever.

Grant Pirtle went up the C. & E. after some wood.

Rev. Floyd Dorris arrived from Gordfield to join his family for his summer's vacation.

Banker P. M. Scroggin and family of Lebanon left for Seattle to attend the fair.

J. A. Warner went up the C. & E. with his surveying outfit.

Stanley Hammell left on a business trip up the C. & E. Saturday he will go with the boys to Camp Clackamas.

General Ruol Custer left for Breitenbush Hot Springs, where he will spend some weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Acheson left for Portland to secure special treatment for Mrs. Acheson.

New Grange Hall.

Money is being raised for a new grange hall for Harmony Grange, to be erected at the intersection of the Lebanon and Jefferson and the Albany and Seio roads, a splendid place for a hall. Albany men have been coming to the front today with suitable subscriptions for the worthy object.

White Slavery.

Rev. Guy Phelps, of Portland, spoke last night at the Christian church on White Slavery, giving some startling and very interesting facts. This is one of the vital themes of the day, and people do well to be in earnest in the consideration of it.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 90-49. The river 1.6 feet. Predictions: Fair tonight and Friday.

Galveston had another freight yesterday.

Crook county has four new post offices: Nye, Held, Barnes and Fife.

Dr. C. Mackey was stricken with paralysis at Salem this week. He formerly resided here.

It is reported that neither the Corvallis nor Brownsville cannery is running this summer.

The Portlanders have secured an Indian named Pat May, Irish name but full blooded Indian, and he hits 375.

Albert C. Thompson, a Portland drummer and John Ernestine Louise Fisher were married at Eugene last evening.

RUMBLES.

Interesting News from the Rails.

During the twenty-four hours previous to 12 o'clock noon thirty passenger trains registered at Albany. Among them were three extra sections of No. 16 and one of No. 14 bound northward, some of them Elks, others with many going to the fair and elsewhere. It made things decidedly lively at the depot, and necessarily trains were late.

One Albany party went to the depot four times before striking the right train bringing the person wanted.

On the end of one of the trains was a car labeled: "Department of Commerce and Labor. Bureau of Fishers," being a government car.

During the 24 hours named, 311 cars in all, besides the engines, passed through the city, three or four miles of solid train. This included freight trains.

Speaking of freight a man watching the busy crowd in the Albany freight depot, remarked: "I was just up at Eugene, you folks here handle twice as much freight as they do there."

The Albany stock yard is the distributing point for this part of the valley, nearly always occupied.

The baggage room is already too small. It should have been at least twice as big.

The Coming Meet.

The board of directors of the Albany Fair Association met last night and furthered the arrangements for the coming race meet September 2, 3 and 4. The fine list of entries was published some time ago, and means a decidedly fast affair.

The matter of a new grandstand was discussed; but it will depend upon contingencies. Messrs. Baily and Simpson were appointed a committee in reference to it, and will report at a meeting on tomorrow evening.

Arrangements have been made with E. J. Arnold the show man for some special attractions during the races and between the heats, including a balloon race. Arnold will also have his shows down street evenings during the three days provided the license is remitted, in exchange for which he will do the advertising for the whole business races and shows.

Albany Day.

This is Albany day at the Seattle fair, and the world will please take notice at the merits of the hub city of the Northwest. Under the arrangements Mrs. E. E. Payne, a pioneer resident of Linn county, and one of Albany's best citizens, is hostess.

Several Albany people are present, among them Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Blain, residents of the city for over half a century, at least Mr. Blain has been, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Irvine, both born here, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lyons, old residents of the valley, Dr. Londa B. Gray, and Bert Crawford, both born here, and others. So that the city has been represented in an emphatic manner by real Albatians.

It is possible that some people at the fair may not know that it is Albany day, as they knew it was Portland day, when 6,000 went over from the metropolis, but we have done our part, even though mildly.

Will Sing at the Fair.

Seattle, July 22—Madame Hellstrom-Oscar of the Royal Opera in Stockholm, the foremost prima donna of Sweden will sing at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition on Swedish day, July 31.

Madame Oscar is accompanied by Herr Scar, her husband, a noted baritone. The musical exercises of the day will be a feature of the exposition. A chorus of 300 voices will take part, representing the United Swedish Singers of the Coast.

Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota, the idol of the Swedish people in the United States, will be a visitor on Swedish day.

At the Hotels.

Mill Improvement.

The Albany Mill and Elevator Co. has just finished installing some new machinery, whereby they have increased the capacity of their mill 33 1/3 per cent. This was made necessary on account of the rapid increase of their business during the past year. In addition to this they expect to further increase their output by running day and night as soon as the new crop of wheat is ready to mill.

Rev. W. P. White returned this noon from Newport.

Mayor P. Stuart and Mrs. Ollie Burns were married at Prineville this week. The latter is the widow of Chas. Elkins.

Miss Barton, head milliner at Harrison store, passed through this forenoon for Portland. Later she will go to San Francisco to be with the wholesale houses awhile.

Everett Cummings of this city and his cousin Bally of Portland, who has been visiting here, left this noon for Eugene visit; they were joined by a sister of the latter.

BUSY.

Second street now has some re-pavement, the first section at Lyon street being sanded.

Very few of the men on the first paving contract are seen on the street now, there being almost a complete change, except in the head men. Several came this week from Eugene.

A couple men who have been in all the towns from California reported Albany and Grants Pass the best places they have been in, chuck full of business. In Eugene they were told Albany was a flag station, and now they think Eugene is a town of liars.

Hamburger 10c on a funny looking little building on wheels, will make people passing through Albany take notice and realize that this hub has taken on city ways.

New cement walks all around town, some down in the east end, though not required by ordinance.

Mrs. Cara Nelson, of McCloud, Calif., has returned from a visit to Washington, and will soon return to her home. McCloud is owned entirely by the saw mill company, and has a population of 1500, the company practically running everything.

PORTO RICO

Told About and Illustrated at the Bible School.

At the M. E. church last night Rev. McLean of Grants Pass, gave an illustrated lecture on Porto Rico, one of the treats of the Summer Bible School. The pictures shown were taken by Mr. McLean who had charge of the church at San Juan for six years, with a common $5 kodak, but were excellent ones and very entertaining ones.

Porto Rico, one of Uncle Sam's new possessions, is 1881 miles south east of New York, and is only 36 by 100 miles in size. The great products are sugar, coffee and tobacco, with pineapples increasing. Since the U. S. took possession of it there has been a striking change, with less illiteracy, better homes and new methods. The imports and exports of the island have increased from $10,000,000 to $50,000,000 a year. The population is twice that of Oregon, while we have counties larger than the whole island. The natives share in the government, as much as they are fitted for. There are two houses, the lower with sixty, being elected by the people, the upper, of eight being appointed by the President. The school children are bright, perhaps more so than Americans, except in mathematics. There is a flag on every school house.

The classes this morning were conducted by Rev. Geselbracht on the Gospels and Rev. Phipps on S. S. work.

This afternoon Wm. L. Finley is to give his illustrated talk at the central school building on common birds, and tonight at the M. E. church will give another one The Trail of the Plume Hunter, deserving a packed house. He is great.

Phil and Anthony Baltimore left for Detroit with their guns and fishing rods for an outing. Also some very ingenious wheelbarrows they had made, with bicycle wheels, easy running, interesting affairs, which they called the pelicans.

Dr. W. H. Davis went to Yaquina to see young Toner, ill with typhoid fever, the boy having a hard time of it. He went to Seattle with the O. A. C. boys and contracted it on the trip.

Rev. W. T. Wardle came down from Lebanon, one of the valley's fast growing towns. Prices around that city are high in the air, the same as nearly everywhere else.

Detective Reilly was looking around. Dr.
