PAVING COMPLETED.

South End an Eye-Sore As It Is.

The Warren Construction Co. yesterday completed their third contract, finishing up the south end, which had been left until the end, with the hopes that the S. P. Co. would do something on its street property; but they have failed to act, leaving the south end in a disgraceful condition. The little triangular piece should have at least been paved. Decency called for that much by some one, the S. P., if not the S. P. Co., the city, if not the city by the Warren Co. as a contribution. As it is it is a spectacle. The Southern Pacific might at least act promptly and give the street some kind of a filling and not wait until next 4th of July. The paving equipment is being shipped to The Dalles for use there during the winter. It will probably be needed here again in the spring.

The Freight Depot.

The blue print has been received for the new freight depot. It will have a ground floor office 32 by 24 at the end, to be on a line with the west side of Lyon street, and a warehouse, with six doors on each side, 192 feet 6 inches long, making a total length of 216 feet. New double deck stock yards are being built on the C. & E. half way to the round house, which will take two weeks, when the force of men will build the freight depot.

Stole a Bicycle.

A daring bicycle theft occurred Saturday evening, just before 6 o'clock. While Rev. W. P. White was looking out of the window a man rushed up to his wheel in the yard, jumped upon it and fled west, turning down one of the streets in another direction and was lost to view. No trace of the bicycle has been secured since. New tires and a new rim had just been put on it.

The Way the Alcos Beat the Eugene H. S.

The Aleo foot ball team defeated the crack high school team of Eugene, a splendidly trained aggregation of heavy weight youngsters. The score was 11 to 0, all made in the second half. In the first half the forward half was sorted to disastrously, and though Albany had the best of it a touchdown could not be secured. In the second half Albany rushed things, easily getting two touchdowns and were close to a third. One man was put out of the game by Referee McKinley, a rank move that did not help Eugene, for Sut Standish who went in played a star game.

Dooley at full back and the Driver boys at half played foot ball, and the line, though a little ragged at times was effective, Barnes and Schumate doing good work at the ends, Yates and Merrill at tackle, Ellis and South at guard and Flo at center.

Next Thursday Ft. Steven's big team will be there, which will mean a great game.

Apple Fair Will be a Hummer.

The apple committee was notified Saturday evening that Yamhill county will have an exhibit at the apple fair, which will mean something extra, making county exhibits from five counties: Linn, Benton, Lane, Polk and Yamhill. Linn county, according to custom, does not compete in the county contest, but will have some splendid displays. This will insure one of the finest displays of apples ever gotten together in Oregon.

Saturday evening the home coming committee met at the Club rooms, with Chairman E. W. Langdon presiding, F. P. Nutting secretary. The home coming program will be presented at the Christian church Friday evening at 8 o'clock, with several musical numbers. Judge Hewitt was selected to deliver the address of welcome.

At the depot Thursday noon Myor Rogers will respond to the address of welcome to be delivered by Postmaster Van Winkle, and in the evening Capt. C. L. Dick will speak in place of Chas. Galoway, unable to be here.

Zastrow Obstreperous.

Henry Zastrow, who was recently put off the place he had occupied near Lebanon, by order of the court, and the help of the sheriff, has gone back upon the place, barricaded the doors and proposes to stay anyway. The case has been an odd one from the first. When called in court instead of having a lawyer attend to his business Zastrow was always on hand himself to answer and tell what to do with it, running things himself. He will probably find out there is such a thing as law.

That Means Much to the R. R. Com.

An important decision was rendered by Judge Burnett this morning in the case of the State of Oregon against the Corvallis and Eastern, brought, asking for $10,000 damages for the failure of the railroad company to build a station ordered by the railroad commission. A demurrer to the complaint was filed by the defendant.

In overruling the demurrer Judge Burnett held that the R. R. Commission is a legal body and in creating it the legislature had neither exceeded its authority under the constitution or delegated to it any legislative powers. He said the act creating the commission provided that all rates and service should be reasonable and that all facilities and equipment should be adequate, and that this was simply declaratory of the common law. No legislative powers were delegates to the commission. They were simply appointed and instructed to investigate and ascertain what were reasonable rates and service and adequate facilities and equipment, and after pointing them out to the railroads and giving them an opportunity to be heard in the matter, order their maintenance. He said it was impossible for a body like the legislature to investigate such matters and that it was proper for them to appoint a commission to perform the work.

A Corvallis Capture.

Corvallis G. T.:—Chief Wells captured two or three quarts of Albany booze last night, but the man who brought it over for distribution jumped from the buggy and ran too fast for Wells to get him. The Chief got onto this bootlegger by following him over the city as he drove about in his drunken wanderings, and finally stopped him. At this time he jumped, abandoned his horses and ran down the middle of the street like fiends were after him. Wells stayed with the rig, searched it and found a couple of quart bottles and a pint, full, and a couple of pints largely consumed. He confiscated these and the rig was delivered to the stable which owns it.

Salem Backwards Deelared Intoxicating.

The trial of the case of Oregon agt. Fred Senders, charged with the violation of the local option law was completed last evening before the following jury: E. M. Burkhardt, T. O. Cheshir, W. S. Churchill, O. B. Cyrus, W. W. Green, Will Grimes, Ed. Holloway, A. J. Kirk, W. A. Long, A. C. Miller, D. F. Sturtevant and M. W. Yemoen.

The only question was whether the liquor, Molass, was intoxicating under the state law, and the evidence was plain that it contained more than 2 per cent alcohol. The jury promptly returned a verdict of guilty, on the second ballot, all but one voting guilty on the first ballot.

This morning Mr. Carson, representing the Salem Brewing Co., asked for a new trial and a change of venue, declaring that the jury was prejudiced, that of 23 examined all but four had voted for local option, and that the principal witnesses the sheriff and deputy sheriff Munkers, being also officials could not be depended upon for a fair jury on a special venire.

Judge Burnett promptly overruled both motions, mad on ground as soft as quick sand, and the trial of the second case was begun at once.

Grange Meeting.

On Saturday, Oct. 23rd, a regular meeting of Tangent Grange was held. Owing to the busy season and other reasons the attendance was not large.
