UGHT TO BE THE MOST HONEST.

Judge Bennett of Portland says many of the policemen of the city are no better than crooks, that they take bribes right along for covering up crime, undoubtedly a fact. This is worse than some kinds of stealing. The meanest of all kinds of thieves are the ones who steal when being trusted. The robber who breaks into a house makes that a business; but the man who is hired by you for faithful work and then grafts you is far worse. Of all people in the world the official should be the most honest. According to Judge Bennett the police officials of Portland are the opposite.

WHISKEY A TROUBLE BREWER

Hardly anything else in the world will make a man stoop to beating his wife but liquor. Few things raise the ire of the public more than wife beating, and it ought to make men just as hot in the condemnation of the liquor business, whose principal mission is the causing of trouble in the world. Some good men when sober are bad when drunk, losing control of themselves and doing things they are ashamed of afterwards. One would think such a man would sit down and make a resolution with a rock on it to quit the misery causing habit.

FOR BETTER ROADS INTO ALBANY.

The commercial club has taken up the matter of the improvement of the public thoroughfares leading into Albany, appreciating the fact that good roads into a city means much for the business of the city. Farmers are going to go to the city most easily reached, when trade conditions justify it. A few hundred or even thousand dollars spent by the merchants of the city in the improvement of the roads will work wonderfully as a drawing card for the city, the same as money spent for railroads and electric lines into a city. They are great trade promoters. The commercial club has begun a movement that deserves the hearty support of Albany people generally.

THE BOYS MAKE THE MEN.

Boys do well to remember that every day they are building their future career. Of course they will be boys, but back of it all is the future man, and the characteristics that always stamp a man will be found somewhere in the boy. The writer has observed boys closely and seen them grow up, and this holds good as a rule.

In the newspaper business in a place like Albany one of the experiences is that of getting boys who will be faithful in the delivery of papers, doing their best, with all kinds of experiences, when papers are missed trouble being the result. Some make a good record and some a poor one, just as men do, through life, and the Democrat has found that anything else is impossible. All papers have the same experiences.

The boy does well who makes his standard the doing the best he knows how.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 48-34. Rain fall .08 inch. The river is 3.2 feet. Prediction: Rain tonight and Thursday, warmer tonight. The wind changed from the north to the south, and a small cold snap, reaching as low as 24 above has changed to another drizzle.

PAUL VS. PAUL MRS. HOLMES' BEST STORY.

Supreme Court's Decision.

The case of Paul against Paul before the courts for several years, was decided in the supreme court this week. Judge McBride rendering the decision. The verdict of the lower court, at this city, was reversed, the court holding that W. A. Paul, at 77 years of age, was capable of deeding his property to his son, W. S. Paul. In the suit G. M. Paul asked that the sale of the valuable Paul farm to W. S. Paul be set aside. Mr. Paul deeded part of his large farm to Mrs. Burra and the remainder to W. S. Paul, and then borrowed $4,000 from a Salem bank and paid it to the widow in order to have the matter hushed up, so recites the decision of Judge McBride.

The first act is laid in the beautiful mountain country of Massachusetts, in the little village of Slocumville. The rural types pictured in the book are all shown here. "Granny Nichols," "Joel Slocum," "Nancy Scovendyke," and all the rest of the Slocumites come to bid "Granny" and "Lena" farewell and to take away with them whatever "Granny" is inclined to give as a remembrance. The last three acts are placed in Kentucky, and the atmosphere of the play changes from the rural to the quiet elegance of the south. The three beautiful pictures of the Livingstone estates are shown and are indeed works of art in the scene painter's line. At the opera house Thursday night.
