THE FAIR.

A good many enjoyed the festivities of the Catholic fair last night, and were of the Catholic fair last night, and were given all kinds of opportunities to invest their money for a good cause, a novelty being an auction in which 5 cents was paid for a bid for a rug, the last bidder getting the rug.

Mrs. Scott made things hum at the country store and the other booths were well taken care of also.

Miss Courteis, the charming niece of Father Datin, or Brooks, was present active in helping to raise money for the fair.

Apple Land to be Resold in Tracts

The Linnhaven Orchard Company has now decided, in order to hold the entire tract, to sell a limited amount of stock to residents here in Linn county. The amount of land taken over by the incorporation is large but everyone thinks the amount none too large. At the last meeting of the Commercial Club someone said that Albany needs two things—more factories and the subdivision of large farms—both will bring people here. The resale of Linnhaven will bring into Linn county 300 or 400 new families. Wealth will spring from a soil now in a low state of cultivation. The tracts are situated on second bench rolling land and are conceded to have the best fruit soil in the valley.

It is the desire of the Company that the profits arising out of the sale of these fruit tracts should remain in Albany and Linn county and tderefore the directors wish to sell the remaining stock here in the city. tract, to sell a limited amount of stock
