2 1/2 TIMES AS MUCH LIGHT FOR THE SAME MONEY

Tungsten Lamps Make Electric Light Much Cheaper

They have two and a half times the efficiency of the ordinary carbon lamp hitherto in general use. The filament is made of a rare metal called Tungsten, which holds an intense brilliancy at low cost. In shape and size the bulb is just like any other electric incandescent lamp. Why not try a Tungsten lamp yourself? Get one of the 40-watts and use it somewhere in your house in place of one of your carbon lamps. Then observe the great difference. Note the clear white light, exactly twice as brilliant and costing you one-fifth less for electricity. Tungsten lamps are destined to displace all others, for both store and house lighting.

A MUSICAL

CRITIC.

Both Lebanon papers have exactly the same report of the recent concert of the Albany College Trio, evidently having formed a trust, but it is a good one, and deserves a place in the literature of the valley along with the poems of Sam Simpson. Here it is:

The concert given by the Albany Conservatory of Music Wednesday night was a rare treat. Miss Adna A. Smith, soprano, in rich and splendid voice, charmed and delighted the audience.

The nightingales of sunny Italy and the skylarks of Old England were heard in her notes and the selections rendered. The witchery of her magic music charmed all ears.

Miss Emma B. Sox, pianist, in her instrumental renditions, showed the training and culture of long years. Indeed such was the skill shown that one felt that a master was at the keys, charming forth the matchless melodies rendered.

Miss Mary L. Blackwell, reader, captivated all. Her thorough and perfect imitations of old and young, gruff and gay, Caucasian and Celt, showed the genius of power in her selections.

That the audience was well repaid for facing the stormiest night of the season was evidenced in the appreciative applause and encores. Our people are learning that in Old Linn the products near at hand are worth while, for genius and art, schools under the great masters has enabled Albany College to possess talent equal to the best, wherever found. Midst clearer skies it is hoped to have these great artists with us again.

MISFITS.

Well the rain suits, after a sufficiency of snow.

The middle west is getting its dose of weather now.

Mr. Prosperity will have to show his hand this holiday season. The stores are full of goods.

One trust that ought to be busted is the paper trust. At least that is what the newspaper men think.

As long as there is a vestige of snow left the small boy will throw it. Snow is a weapon for cussedness.

The Democrat's suggestion that Albany have a night clerk at the post office is meeting with favor by the business men.

Two shows, both having big houses, in one night, indicates that Albany is getting big enough to take care of several things at the same time.

The Harrisburg Bulletin tells of a couple of men there getting six coons out of one tree, where it is generally a good hunt to get one coon. That may be good out there; but the record out on the Barns farm was seven, which is real cooning.

After a Divorce.

A new divorce suit in Portland is August H. Johanningsmier agt. Mrs. Carlina Johanningsmier, former Albany people for a while. They were married in February, 1907 in Illinois, and soon after came west, with the large family of five children of the husband, a widower when married. The stepmother, according to the complaint, has made things tropical for the whole family.
