News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

She requested the Democrat to extend her thanks to Albany people for contributions for the home, and will appreciate further subscriptions after the rush of the holidays.

25c to Portland.

The Home Telephone Co. makes the change to a 25 cent rate to encourage a large volume of business, and to meet a demand for such a rate that will get results.

An automatic equipment is to be installed at once on the Albany switchboard, that will enable the local operator to get your Portland party without calling a Portland operator, thus obviating the occasional and annoying delays.

For a School Levy.

The voters of Albany should attend the school meeting at the central building at 7:30 o'clock tonight, held for the purpose of voting a levy for the running of the schools of the city, the coming year. This is an important thing and calls for a large attendance.

The Blain Clothing Co. Albany Oregon

IN THE MAIL.

A couple clippings, sent anonymously. One on the gable about Ingersoll, from the Oregonian, pronouncing the stories of his recantation as Christian lies, and the other about Worcester, Mass., reversing itself changing from dry to wet. Nothing new about either, and how well they go together, infidelity and whiskey, companions.

A prospectus from Scribner's, with the Roosevelt articles the most conspicuous. Scribner this month will tell about Roosevelt's first hippo, how Kermit got his first leopard and the pets at the Juja farm. These days it is interesting to watch how the big magazines hustle for specialties that shall startle the world and make the public take notice.

The Daily Examiner with a striking article by Garrett Servais telling how the sun is a gunner, and shoots out great projectiles of electric storms, etc. Occasionally we get hit, causing striking changes. But there is lots these astronomers don't know.

Down From Electron.

Mr. Chas. A. Sears, superintendent of the big power plant at Electron, Wash., arrived this noon on a short Albany visit with his folks. He reports the Albany people at Electron happy and contented. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson like it there. George Sears is to be married to Miss Potthoff, a fine young lady residing in a neighboring town, on the 31st, when Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sears of this city will be present.

A Palmist in Town.

Opposite the Russ House. Any thing you want to know she will tell you. Will remain only a short time.

Boy Wanted.

At once to carry the Oregonian. Easy rout, good pay. See Ben Clelen.

CHRISTMAS PERFUME - One of the daintiest presents a young lady is a fancy package of nice perfumes. We are showing a fine line. 25c to $5.00. BURKHART & LEE.
