MEISER & MEISER Come and see us

And now---

We wish you the merriest of Christmases—and hope that the coming New Year will be, in all ways, the happiest you have known.

And we extend to each and all of our customers our heartiest thanks for the kindly co-operation which has helped us to make the past year the most eventful of any since our doors first swung open—and for the evidence of appreciation, and good old-fashioned friendship that have made the hard work of buying and selling so enjoyable during the year that is ending.

Chambers & McCune

DOINGS OF THE WORLD.

The charivari record has just been beaten at Prineville, with fourteen for Editor Kennedy of the Review.

Portland's Christmas giving is estimated at $5,000,000, but it is just guess work. That would make an average of $25 for every person, rich and poor, in the city, which is a good deal too high.

After January 1st all liquor packages will have to be marked, under a new U. S. law, showing what is in them, whiskey, etc., which it is said may interfere materially with the business.

Mr. C. H. Walker has returned from Klamath county, where he organized three granges, the first in the county, with a good deal of interest in the work. When he left yesterday morning the thermometer was 8 degrees above and they were putting up six inch ice. Albany people are doing well.

Accident on the C & A.

The Alsea road had its first accident this week when the caboose jumped the track and turned over. There were three passengers on board. Mrs. Washington Howard was bruised some, and Edward Williams and A. M. Taylor, jumped, escaping injury. It was caused by frozen mud higher than the rails.

Manipulating the Rope.

Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, as Terry and Schultz, the cowboy and girl, are giving a neat number at the Empire. Terry is an expert with the lariat, doing some rare stunts, and Schultz sings well and assists in the lariat throwing. It is worth seeing, and a large crowd enjoyed it last night. They will appear again tonight and tomorrow night.

The Oldfields.

The Oldfields made good at Dreamland last night, presenting some fine vaudeville sketches, a laughter all the time. They are a live aggregation and are worth seeing. See them again tonight.
