J. W. MILLER, County Clerk and ex-officio Clerk of the Circuit Court of Linn County, Oregon.

HEWITT & SOX, Applicant's Attorney.

MONDAY

WOOD HIS FAD.

Probably the finest finished house in Albany is that of W. S. Richards, on East Third street. Mr. Richards' fad is wood, a good one. Personally, aided by Mr. Ed Crouse, he has given the wood work in his double parlors and dining room a finish that is remarkable and rare. Using ash this has been burned to bring out the figures, in beautiful and wonderful effects, and then given a piano finish.

In the wall is a little cabinet of woods Mr. Richards has made at odd times, more remarkable yet. From pieces of wood collected on his eastern trip and otherwise he has cups, saucers and other things made up in different ingenious shapes. One cup has some wood on one side from Portland, Or., and on the other from Portland, Me.; another wood on one side from Princeton, Ill., where he was born, and on the other, Albany, Or., where he has spent most of his life; another is made up of different kinds of wood from nearly every southern state visited by him; one is from wood from the top of Mt. Lowe, another from the Cataline Islands, Mexico, the Philippine Islands, Japan. One has seventeen different kinds, another fifteen, four pieces, prettily interwoven and inlaid, the whole forming a collection it is doubtful is equalled in the U. S., worth going a long distance to see, a pretty niche in a beautiful home.

A Hospital Annex

While plans have not yet been made the building of an annex to St. Mary's hospital is being considered, with the probability that work will be begun on such a building in the spring. The talk is for the annex on the Elsworth street corner, at the south west corner of the present building, three stories high, with about thirty rooms, all private. There has been a big demand for more room, the present capacity frequently not being sufficient. The hospital has proven a fine thing for the city, and has an excellent reputation all through the valley.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 40-32. There was a slight rainfall, .02 inch. The river has risen and is 4.9 feet. Prediction: Rain or snow tonight and Tuesday.

The company carries 11,250,000 in risks.

BEAT MON.

The high school basket ball team returned from Independence and Monmouth where they made a splendid record in basket ball. They defeated Monmouth Saturday night 32 to 20, though Monmouth had a couple players not high school men at all. Stalnaker was unable to play in either game and Verne Beeson took his place, doing good work, making three baskets in the Monmouth game. Ingstrom led in this contest with seven baskets. Dooley made three and Guard Bigsbee one. A fact speaking for the splendid guarding of Bigsbee and Carnegie was that not a basket was made by the forwards of Monmouth, all by the big center and guards.

In the Independence game, won by Albany 52 to 17. Dooley made the remarkable record of 14 baskets. The boys will play Chemawax next and then some Portland teams.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

Judge E. L. Bryan, Caldwell, Idaho, one of Idaho's leading men, passed through the city from Springfield, where he had been to attend the golden wedding anniversary of his father and mother, to Corvallis, his former home. Judge Bryan has been prominently mentioned for Governor of Idaho on the democratic ticket, but has not yet given his consent to the use of his name.

The McKenzie Merry Makers passed through the city from Corvallis to Lebanon, where they will show this week, and then come to Albany next week, on the vaudeville circuit among the moving picture houses.

Father Servais returned from Lebanon, where conducted services Sunday. There is talk of home pastor of the Catholic church there.

Mrs. J. C. Meyer and son Franklin, of Lebanon, arrived on a visit with some relatives visiting at the home of Mrs. Mayme McKnight of the Jefferson schools, returned there after spending Sunday with her folks.

S. J. Keefhaver came down from Lebanon. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Colpitts went to Salem.

A Fine Present.

Space will not permit the naming of the winner of each credits, who will be notified by mail.

This contest was a great success, and many thousands endeavored to win one of the numerous beautiful and substantial prizes. It has resulted in bringing still more prominently before the public the house of Eiler's and their splendid line of pianos.

A Robber Killed.

Harry Brooks, alias Williams, was shot in Portland and killed by Patrolman Croxton, while holding up a saloon, in which the patrolman was standing in citizens clothes. His partner Jas. Ward escaped. Brooks and Ward on March 31, 1908 were committed to the penitentiary from Albany for robbing the store of Davis & Shedd, at Shedd, on the morning of that day, being captured by a posse of Shedd people, after being two hours in the store. They were brought to Albany on the early train, indicted by the grand jury in session and in the afternoon, upon pleading guilty were sent to the penitentiary, a dispatch of justice that attracted attention.

Sam Hill Coming.

Sam Hill, a son-in-law of Jim Hill, of the Great Northern, will be in Albany Wednesday afternoon and evening. At 8 p. m. he will give a talk at the commercial club rooms on good roads, and Albany people generally will be welcome to hear it. Harvey Lindley, president of the Home Telephone Co., of Portland, will accompany him.

Another Auto.

Dr. J. P. Wallace and Son have just bought through J. L. Irvine a latest model, 1910 Buick automobile, which will be used in their business. While in Portland recently Dr. Russell Wallace took some special lessons in running the machine and already has made several trips over the pavement.

MARRIED.

Dorgan-Lallement.

On Monday morning, Jan. 10, 1910, at the Catholic church, in Albany, by Father Lane, Mr. T. J. Dorgan and Miss Marie Lallement were united in marriage, Father Lane performing the ceremony.

John F. Shea and Miss Ella Dorgan stood up with them. Mrs. Dorgan the bride is a teacher in the conservatory of music of the Catholic seminary in Portland.

The groom is a well known Corvallis man, and the bride is a resident of Portland. They left for their new home at Corvallis.

Officer-Lusk.

On Sunday, Jan. 10, at the residence of and by Rev. Albyn Esson, Mr. Selden Officer, a rising young farmer of Silverton, and Miss Mae Luck, a stenographer, of this city. They will make their home at Silverton.

Former Albany People.

The following from the Kings Herald, a United Presbyterian church paper, of Chicago, tells about three former Albany people.

William Wallace of Gary, Indiana, was at church last Sabbath and remained for dinner with the pastor and family, having lived for a number of years in Albany, Oregon. He has been of late a member of Rev. Elliott Irvine's congregation in Etna, Penn. Mr. Irvine preached for us one day last August. Since then they have completed and dedicated a fine new church. We congratulate the Etna people not only because of their new church but also because of the good preacher they have.

It seems hardly possible that a year has gone by since it was our pleasure to greet as our pastor the Rev. C. H. Stevenson. We are glad to say that he has endeared himself to every member of our school and church, and at the Christmas entertainment last Tuesday evening, the church presented him a beautiful token of their esteem a beautiful quarter sewed oak, double sectional book case, in which he can house the many copies of reading matter that are so helpful to him in working out the splendid sermons that it is our pleasure to listen to every Sabbath.

At the Hotels.

C. Hemenway, Eugene A. Bernstein & wf, Seattle A. Cameron, Corvallis O. W. Smith, Portland J. P. Byers, Dallas Mrs. C. E. Hawkins and daughter Aileen, Toledo F. K. Nickerson, Portland R. H. Hawley, Corvallis M. J. Whitney, Lyons C. S. Price, Medford A. Andrews, Eugene

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our thanks to the many friends and neighbors, and also to the members of Manzanita Circle, W. O. W., for their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our husband and father, J. J. Davis. Mrs. Mary E. Davis and family.

For Wife Whipping.

Chas. Downing today was arrested by John Catlin for whipping his wife, taken before Justice Swan, plead guilty and was fined $20 and costs, which he paid.

Mrs. Draper, a sister of C. R. Burgraf, of this city, died suddenly at Reedville yesterday, and will be buried tomorrow. Mr. Burgraf had just returned from a visit at Klamath Falls, when informed of his sister's death last evening. Her daughter is the wife of Mr. Chester Parvin.

It has been decided to move the old freight depot to the west end and make the east end 475 feet and a 32 foot office, entirely new.

TUESDAY.

Big houses last night enjoyed the fine singing of the colored quartet, a bunch of fine singers, giving a clean and pleasing program.

Benton county sales: J. R. Wyatt to Allen J. Oinsteel, 5 acres near Albany $250; L. W. Deanecey to Rosalie Hoskin, et al. 1.15 acres near Albany $10; Chas. Widmer to F. L. Holmes, 50 acres.

An effort is being secured to get a jury in the Hermann case, and twelve men have been picked temporarily for further examination. Nearly all Portland men. Denver Hackleman has some a decided opinion and he was accused.

PERHAPS A

STONE CHURCH

A proposed Albany improvement is a new Presbyterian church, in place of the present one, at Broadalbin and Fifth street, a large stone structure, with all the modern conveniences being talked of though not formally ordered yet. It is to be hoped it materializes. No institutions speak for a city stronger than its churches. Under the splendid leadership of Rev. Geselbracht the Presbyterian church is making rapid strides and more room and better equipment is needed.

The modern church has become far more than a place for preaching. It is almost a club house, with clean attractions, for reaching people socially in the interest of a better manhood and womanhood, a place for the different departments of work from the cradle up. There is no age limit to the church, as there is in other institutions, and the organization does well when it meets the great demand for equipment for work.

The F. U. A.

The Fraternal Union of America will meet tonight for installation of the new officers, who are: Ed Upham fraternal master, W. H. Palm justice, Mrs. Frank Kitchen money, Mrs. Frank Austin truth, Mrs. C. W. Sears secretary, Robert Snell treasurer, Mr. Johnson guide. All members are requested to be present.

Did a Good Business.

During 1909 201,600 passengers arrived and departed from the union depot at this city, and 14,235 trains reported at the depot, an average of just 39 trains a day of all kinds. The increase in freight receipts over the previous year was $44,901.94 and in passenger receipts, $10,380.23. The showing speaks for the hub city.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 39-32. The rainfall was .14 inch. The river is 4.7 feet.

The government's prediction is: occasional rain or snow tonight and Wednesday.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society was being held this afternoon.

Eugene high school defeated Cottage Grove Saturday evening 20 to 16. Cottage Grove led in the first half.

O. P. Coshow and George Coshow, wife and part of his six children, of Brownsville, were Albany visitors yesterday.

The old saying, "as cold as Sam Hill" doesn't apply to the Sam Hill to be at the commercial club rooms tomorrow night. Go and see for yourselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Payne have returned from fourteen months residence at Siletz, which they like so well they will resume after a trip to California.

The Misses Helen and Anna Schultz last Saturday evening were the recipients of a surprise party in honor of their tenth birthday.

D. W. Merrill and Tom Watkins are down in the Klamath country on their snow shoes. It is reported that Watkins has ordered an auto for cruising with.

Sunday, by request of Chief of Police Munkers, dice games, billiards, pools and other games were all cut out through the city, being contrary to ordinance.

Fred Bergman was one of the jury-men rejected in the Hermann case. One man asked to be excused because he wanted to go to Los Angeles to see the flying machines.

Dr. J. J. Murray, recently of Walla Walla, has located at Albany, with headquarters at the Albany Stable. He is an experienced veterinary surgeon and dentist and comes well recommended.

Mrs. Laura Houck Irvine, of Portland, was in the city this noon, after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Dollie Waggoner of Corvallis, on her way to Lebanon for a visit with Miss Helen Crawford.

The many friends of Miss Margaret Bell, the song illustrator, will be glad to know that tomorrow night she will resume her former position in the Dreamland theater, a fine singer always popular with Albany people.

Mr. Jesse Barker, of San Francisco, is in the city on a visit with his folks A. D. Baker and family, after an absence of a number of years. He is a cement contractor, with a large business.

The Degree of Honor will entertain the A. O. U. W. and their families and the D. of H. and their families tomorrow night, when an amateur troupe will make its first appearance in Albany, and there will be something to eat.

A Marion county farmer was arrested for traveling on the wrong side of the street in Salem. An ordinance requires travel on the right side. After paying his first fine the farmer pigheadedly did the same thing again and was again arrested.

According to an advertisement in a Prineville paper Madras is to be the great city on the Deschutes road. It declares that it is no myth. It is already a town. It asks comparison with mythical and absurdly fabulous cities that are being advertised as having existence.

C. I. Leavengood, a former Linn county man, is president of the Douglas County Fruit Growers Association. A big meeting is to be held soon with J. A. Perry, of Medford, another former Linn county man, as the principal speaker.

A remarkable murder occurred at Port Costa, Calif. Joe Crowley, a small boy, with a rusty revolver, with which he had been playing, finally at the depot platform pointed it at Miss Patrick Sullivan, said he was going to shoot and kill, killing the woman. Some one beside the boy should be hanged.

RUN OVER.

Joe Barr met with a serious accident this noon at the depot, about like this. He has been an employee of the Lebanon paper mills. Thinking the south bound train was the Lebanon train he attempted to board it just as it started, but was crowded back by a brakeman who also was there to get on. He then waited for the next car and another brakeman was there to get on, and he also crowded him back off the steps. Barr swung around with both feet on the rails. The toe part of the left foot was crushed and the heel and ankle of the right foot. The man was intoxicated. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital and Mrs. Davis and Kavanaugh dressed the wounds, and may be able to save the feet in a crippled condition. Barr is said to have formerly been a railroad man, familiar with trains.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

Hon. J. K. Weatherford left for Salem to represent the defendant in the argument of the case of Oregon against C. Sam Smith, in the supreme court, a very important case affecting the stock interests of Eastern Oregon.

Judge J. M. Stewart, of Lincoln, Neb., left for home, after spending several weeks in Lebanon getting his son and son-in-law, E. B. Day, started in their new bank.

Mox Cohen, of Portland, a native of Albany, now a commercial traveler, left for points north after interviewing Albany merchants in his line.

S. V. Hall, who has a big logging contract up on Granite mountain reported eight inches of snow there when he left and more in prospect, materially affecting the logging business.

J. H. McConnell came down from Shedd. W. J. Fisher went to Salem on a business trip.

Jingle of the Police Bell.

The police bell rang enough last night to call out the entire police force and G. Co., but the actual requirement wasn't very much. It was all over a disturbance down at the home of Chas. Downing, arrested and fined yesterday for whipping his wife. Mrs. Downing had not returned home, but there were other relatives there and they had a quiet little talk about affairs, with enough emphasis to some of the remarks to invite the presence of the police department as judges.

This morning it is reported Mrs. Downing returned home and that there is an agreement that here shall be no more war but peace.

United Artizans.

The United Artizans installed the following officers last evening, after which they enjoyed an oyster supper at the Mission Parlor.

Past Master Artizan, Mrs. Edith Leaberman; Master Artizan, Mrs. Alice P. Richards; Superintendent, F. M. French; Secretary, J. N. Duncan; Treasurer, W. H. Holman; Sr. Conductor, Mrs. Bertha T. Parker; Jr. Conductor, Mrs. Edna Barton; Master Ceremonies, Mrs. Lillian French; Instructor, A. Kyle; Warden, J. W. Barton; Medical Examiner, Dr. J. P. Wallace.

Minn. Sleigh Rides.

An Albany girl who spent the holidays in Minnesota had three big sleigh rides, genuine affairs, one in a big sleigh with seats around the edge, another in the good old fashioned way seated on straw and wrapped to the eyes, and the other in a cutter, on one of them when it was cold the crowd almost froze stiff. A couple of the young people in the straw bottom ride spent most of their time trying to throw each other out into the snow. To the former easterner there is a familiar ring to these things.

Diaries Galore.

The Democrat acknowledges the receipt of five pretty diaries for 1910, as follows: from the First National Bank of Albany, Or., from the First National Bank of Northfield, Minn., from Laird & Lees of Chicago, from the Springfield Insurance Co., H. F. Merrill local agent, and from C. A. Snow & Co., patent lawyers of Washington, D. C. Plenty of space for good resolutions.

Levy Made.

The county court today made the levy for the coming year, placing it at 9 1/2 mills, which is 2 1/2 mills lower than last year, being 8 mills for general purposes, without segregation, and 1 1/2 mills for roads.

This makes Albany's total levy 2 1/2 mills, 3 1/2 mills less than last year, as follows: county, state and roads 9 1/2 mills, city of Albany 8 mills, district 5 1/4 mills.
