

COUNTY OFFICIALS.

The Democrat has compiled the following from the official directory of Oregon just received:

Twenty of the thirty-four judges in Oregon are republicans, 14 democrats. The highest salary paid is that to Judge Webster of Portland, $3,000, the lowest to Judge Derby of Hood River county, $300, with Wheeler a close second at $400. Twelve counties pay $1,200, six $1,000. Wheeler pays $1,800, Beaton is one of the low ones, $720.

Twenty-four county clerks are republicans, 10 democrats. Multnomah and Jackson pay $3,000, several $2,000, the lowest, Curry, $1,000. Linn pays $2,000, Benton $1,500.

There are just seventeen democratic sheriffs and seventeen republican sheriffs. Sheriff Stevens of Portland is the highest paid, $4,500, with Sheriff Minto, of Marion, next, $4,000, then Sheriff Collier of Grant, $3,000, several are paid $2,500 and a number, including Linn's, $2,000. The lowest is that of Sheriff Morse of Hood River and Sheriff Tyler of Curry, $1,200.

There are twenty-four republican treasurers and eight democratic treasurers. Treasurer Lewis of Multnomah gets the most, $2,000, and Brock of Hood River the lowest, $100. $1,200 is the Linn county salary.

There are twenty-four republican assessors and ten democrats. $4,500 is paid the Multnomah assessor. The lowest is $900 for the Hood River man. Linn's is $3,000, including here. There are eight republican county recorders and one democrat. The Jacksonville man, R. T. Burnett, gets $2,000, and Recorder Froman of Linn and Hendley of Umatilla each $1,800.

There are eight democratic school superintendents, one independent and twenty-five republicans.

The highest salary is received by Supt. Robinson of Multnomah, the lowest, $400, in Wheeler, Hood River and Curry.

Surveyors all get fees per diem, coroners all fees but Multnomah's, who receives $1,000 a year, county commissioners per diem of $3 to $5 except in Curry, $125 a year.

One fruit inspector gets a salary, Multnomah's, $900 a year, most of the others $3 per diem, some fees.

Umatilla's stock inspector gets $750 a year, Malheur's $500, most of them per diem or fees.

Thirteen health officers receive salaries, Linn's $200 a year.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Roosevelt said: "Special credit is due to the initiative, the energy, the devotion to duty and the far-sightedness of Gifford Pinchot, to whom we owe so much of the progress we have already made in handling this matter of co-ordination and conservation of natural resources."

And this is the man dismissed by President Taft, at the dictation of the corporate interests, both inside and outside of congress, from the forestry service. The reason for the dismissal is that Pinchot had spoken too plainly about the administration to suit the bosses, and the president succumbed to the will of the machine, of which he is a part. The act convicts the president, not Pinchot, and stamps him as a weakling in character and backbone. Those who voted for him made a mistake.

This Pinchot incident is going to work in a powerful manner for the betterment of conditions. It is one of a number of things operating to bring out a spirit of independence, and the breaking away from party ties and the traditional whip.

THE HOLD-UP MAN.

A former Linn county burglar was shot down in Portland in a saloon he was trying to hold up, by a policeman. It was a good job, and the fellow got what was coming to him.

It is an interesting thing, though, that the saloon, the Portland police are so solicitous about protecting, is undoubtedly to blame for the original downfall of the burglar, and is responsible for at least nine out of ten hold-up artists. It is the breeding place of crime, and in it most criminals learn the lessons that gradually lead them to the penitentiary or the policeman's bullet. Nevertheless the licensed saloon is entitled to protection, and it is the duty of the policeman to do his duty in giving it protection from a police standpoint, the same as any other business.

About the most dangerous criminal is the hold-up man, and he deserves death on the spot, regardless of the cause of his fall.

The Hermann Jury.

Following is the Hermann jury: C. W. Risley, farmer, Milwaukee; A. H. Metcalf, gravel dealer, Portland; Wm. Myers, farmer, Oregon City; F. D. Simons, salesman, Portland; B. F. Siskfield, contractor, Portland; J. C. Sisco, farmer, Sherwood; C. F. Pearson, painter, Portland; J. B. Thompson, hotel keeper, of Dallas, formerly of Lebanon; H. B. Stone, planer, Portland; Wesley Houk, farmer, McMinnville; Geo. Sellkirk, real estate, Portland; Smith Stevens, farmer, Hopewell. Not a valley man south of Clackamas or Polk county.

Anconda, Oon., boasts of two brothers marrying two sisters, in a double wedding. Linn county had to set the example, though.

WEDNESDAY.

IN A COLD COUNTRY.

An Albany Man Gets the Genuine Article.

Council Grove, Kansas, Jan. 6, 1910. We arrived here Dec. 19, our old stamping ground, when we were children. We found great and many changes, young kinsmen and acquaintances when we left them 24 years ago, are now getting old and feeble. Yes and no wonder for I believe the cold winters here makes them so. This makes six weeks of the coldest weather Kansas has experienced for half a century. At this writing it registers 16 degrees below and is getting colder. It is so cold I can scarcely keep the ink from freezing in my fountain pen. Even a morning like this the people hitch up their teams, and go out into the fields where the feed is shocked up, and the snow drifted up against each shock, and frozen solid to the ground. They have to cut it loose from the ground before it can be loaded. The feed is hauled in each day and thrown out on the ground to the cattle. As the average farmer has from 40 to 100 head to feed. I tell you that is earning one's bread. The ice is 21 inches thick and would perhaps have been thicker but it has been protected with snow more or less for four weeks. There is great sport here sleigh riding. The people here have the genuine cutters, the sound of the bells gives one the idea that they are taking a regular old fashion sleigh ride, as they spin through the snow. I went out rabbit hunting one fine cold day with a crowd of men and boys. They got the rabbits, and I got the fall and a badly sprained thumb, so that knock ed me off the Christmas tree for the time. Well we are going back to Oregon before long to one of the best countries in the United States, and there are many would like to follow who are anxious to leave this God forsaken land, if they could cut loose and not have to sacrifice so much to get away. I have met lots of people here, the majority of them seem ready to seek new countries and warmer climate. Land here is getting to high to farm and a renter has to give two-fifths of all the products raised, and it is not extra land either. As it is getting colder I will have to stop and bake my toes, and fingers awhile.

Oakville.

After an absence of a quarter of a century, we visited the city of Halsey. Many new buildings have been put up and a few of the old landmarks still remain. The large public school building is still there and the base ball grounds nearby where we witnessed a game between Oakville and Halsey 30 years ago in which Halsey came out ahead, are not as large as they were then. Now residences have been put up on part of the grounds. At the general merchandise store of D. S. McWilliams we found him and his clerks busy. Among the farmers we found Mr. Penland on a small farm of 700 acres and a family by the name of Smith owns the rest of the farms and they are a prosperous people.

LITTLE ROSIE BUD.

Has the Diphtheria.

Capt. Stanley Hammell, of this city, is in a Portland hospital with diphtheria. He was taken with sore throat, which developed into this serious disease. Capt. Hammell has been clerking in a Portland drug store several weeks, being a graduate pharmacist.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Born in N. Y. and O., Married in Ia., Now in Or.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Saxton, of Tangent, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their married life Jan. 11, 1910, by giving a dinner to a few of their intimate friends, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Green of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Saxton and daughter Hazel of Shedd, and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Brown and niece, Miss Myrtle Bartlett, of Tangent, all old friends of the bride and groom.

Mr. Saxton was born July 21, 1838, in Cayuga county, New York, and Jane J. Jamison, the bride, Feb. 22, 1840, in Ashtabula county, Ohio. They went to Iowa at an early date and were married by the Rev. James Remley, a Baptist minister, in the town of Oxford, Jan. 11, 1860.

They have but one child, a son, Arthur F. Saxton, who with his wife and two sons, Earl J. and Harold R. Saxton, live at their old home in the town of Oxford. It was a matter of regret that owing to the long distance between Oregon and Iowa it was impossible for them to be here on this pleasant occasion.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many valuable presents and cards of congratulation from friends here and elsewhere.

Mr. Saxton is a member of the Grand Army, was a soldier in the 22nd Iowa Infantry during the civil war, under Gen. Grant, and participated in many of the battles in which the western army was engaged. He is also a member of the Commandery in the Masonic fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Saxton in the renewal of the ties that bound them together fifty years ago bore upon their countenances the stamp of happiness and contentment that their three score years and ten cannot obliterate. Their Christian character and loving disposition has left them nothing but friends wherever they have been. At 4 o'clock we bade them adieu, thanking them for a day of pleasure and wishing them many a happy return of the day.

WILL DEBATE WITH EUGENE.

There is to be the regular triangular high school debate for the championship of this district, on Friday night of this week, when the question, "Resolved, that the United States should adopt a system of banking similar to that of Canada," about which the public knows so little, will be debated, giving people an opportunity to learn something new on an interesting subject.

The affirmative team of this city, Miss Anna Johnson, Miss Ruth Thompson and Murry Marshall, will debate with Eugene, at this city, at the Baptist church, beginning at 8 o'clock, with an admission fee of 25 cents for expenses. Go and hear it.

The negative team will go to Salem and debate with the high school of that city. They are Wilson Peery, Frances Lillard and Chas. Ohlrig.

Salem's negative and Eugene's affirmative teams will debate at Eugene, completing the triangle.

The winner will have a chance at Cottage Grove then.

Prof. Lake, Pomologist.

Prof. E. R. Lake, of the O. A. C., spent last night in Albany. He is one of the O. A. C.'s best men, whom that college is about to lose. He will leave in a short time for Washington, D. C., where he is to be assistant chief pomologist in the department of agriculture. In this work he will be called upon for lectures and expects to deal with Oregon in them, using Oregon slides. Already Lane county has prepared some for his work, and Linn county should get into line.

MISFITS,

The administration pinched itself when it stirred up Pinchot.

28 passenger trains a day justifies calling Albany the hub, doesn't it.

The Albany boys took the Alexander the Great all out of the Monmouth team.

Roseburg's taxes on a full value basis are ten mills more than Albany's. Put a pin in that.

There is talk of sending Rockefeller's son to congress. His father has been there for a good many years.

The aviator contest at Los Angeles ought to furnish enough disasters to satisfy the most yellow journal.

Whatever the assembly might be ordinarily it will be named Dennis with the direct primary holding the lines.

Ten to one the assembly doesn't dictate a single nomination that results in an election. The people won't stand for it.

Down in Texas the land of sunshine and hot weather three men are reported to have been frozen to death. What a queer old world this is.

The government is being robbed in the price charged for the carriage of mail, said to be several times what the W. F. Co. pays for the service.

The U. S. War department has issued a boycott against Standard Oil because of the decision against it. Perhaps the department is going into the pine knot business again.

It is with great pleasure the Democrat announces that Mr. Happy Holigan has started for the north pole. Of course he will reach it, though old, decrepit and his race about run.

A nephew of J. Pierpont Morgan won the bowling championship of Europe. That's nothing, the uncle has been the champion financial bowler of the U. S. for years, and is now in charge of the whole alley.

Ketchel has gone back to the farm, a victim of the drink habit, the cigarette habit, the fast life generally. It will do it every time. The farm part is all right, it is better than prize fighting, but the cause is all wrong.

An Albany need is a swimming pool, under cover, such as you find in the Y. M. C. A.'s of the big cities. One would be a paying investment. Any one would pay 25 cents for a swim in one of them, at least once a week.

DOINGS OF THE WORLD.

Jas. C. Rawlings, a veteran of the war, died at Berlin, in this county Sunday night.

The total tax levy of Cottage Grove this year will be nearly 40 mills. Albany's 21 1/2.

Congressman Hawley has been doing good work in securing protection for the homesteaders on the Stetz.

H. Stapleton died at Salem this week. He is the father-in-law of Gertrude O'Brien Stapleton, a former Albany young lady.

An operation was performed upon E. E. Upmiez of Harrisburg, at Eugene yesterday for the removal of a tumor on his jaw.

Geo. Rains, a barber, after filling up on bootleg booze at Cottage Grove yesterday cut his throat with a razor, dying soon after.

Weston Leuder: Mrs. E. G. Michael returned Wednesday after a very happy visit of three weeks' duration with her children at Portland, Albany, McMinnville, Brownsville, Harrisburg and Junction city.

Richard S. Smith, once a famous football man, on the All-American team, has formed a partnership with A. C. Woodcock, at Eugene, and will move there from Klamath Falls, succeeding E. O. Potter, who will soon leave on a trip to Europe.

Judge Duncan was not the only man who performed just 35 weddings during 1909. Rev. W. H. Lee, of Seattle, formerly president of Albany college, performed just thirty-five weddings, also, a good record for even a Seattle man.

Heppner Times:—Ralph Kenton has been appointed co-operative weather observer for Heppner to succeed Mr. Geo. Whiteis, resigned. Ralph now has the instruments in his possession and commenced taking observations the first of the new year.

Hillman Shown Up.

In a long article the Portland Telegram of last evening shows up the town of Hillman, just illustrated in Albany. The Telegram charges that there are no such scenes as those depicted at the place, that one of them is a scene near Bend and many others do not exist at Hillman. The Telegram says:

In fact, Hillman is nothing but a barren, sterile tract, with no town or other evidence of development prior to the scant attention given it by the present promoters, and instead of being the leading city of the Deschutes Valley at the present time, is nothing but the dream of a bunch of promoters, the realization of which is gravely questioned by a multitude of the best business men of Crook County.

The Portland saloon keepers will be glad to have Dr. Broughton move to Los Angeles.
