THIS MORNING

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

Fritz Hofflich and Miss Estella May Delaney, two popular young people of excellent character, left for Portland with a license in Fritz pocket, prepared to have the proper matrimonial knot tied during the day. They will have the best wishes of their many Albany friends, and deserve the best blessings that can be had in life. Rev. J. W. McDougall, formerly of this city was to perform the ceremony.

Rev. H. S. Shangle, of Milton, left for home after a visit through Western and Southern Oregon. Milton and Freewater, just across the track are now both dry, and Rev. Shangle says there are no blind pigs there. The dry is the genuine article.

Father Lane left on a Portland trip. Mrs. J. C. Mayer, of Lebanon, left on a few days visit with Portland friends, and of course will take in the Music Master. J. C. Davis, of Shedd, left on a Scio trip.

Was in Ashland.

J. T. Wentworth has returned from a visit with his son in Ashland, where the latter is at work on his second brick block, a fine structure. Ashland is improving fast. It also has pavement, put down last summer, and since then it has never been swept, the treasury not being in a condition for the extra expense.

A Choir Benefit.

A musical program will be given at the Grace Presbyterian Church Friday, Jan. 21 at 8 o'clock. Admission 20c. Children 15c.

Rooms for Rent.

All finished and ready for use, some fine office rooms, in the new Will & Stark block. See Dr. Stark.

A POPULAR AFFAIR

Was the Commercial Club's First Welcome.

Albany's first welcome to new comers yesterday afternoon and evening was eminently successful. The ladies were there in the afternoon, filling the commercial club rooms. A splendid time socially was had. A light lunch was served and Miss Sox, Miss Bradley were heard on the piano and Misses Smith and Markley in vocal solos.

In the evening the men held forth, with another large crowd, and the men likewise got acquainted. There was also a short program. In the absence of President Davis, Postmaster Van Winkle presided the first part and Manager Struble the last part. The speakers were Hon. J. K. Weatherford, P. D. Gilbert and P. A. Young for the Club and J. M. Hawkins, Agent R. K. Montgomery, born in Oregon, Prof. Bradley, a former Michigan man, and Rev. Esso, another native born Oregonian, new comers during 1909. The talks were boosters, well seasoned with wit and humor.

There was also some music. Mr. Frank of the Eiler Co. manipulated the piano and Marshall Woodworth gave Caruso and other selections. The decorations of the club rooms, under the direction of the Ladies Auxiliary, were tasty and attractive, calling forth much favorable comment. R. C. Churchill, assisted by Mr. Park Stainaker, served a fine lunch of punch, sandwiches and wafers. The committees did their work well and all concerned are entitled to credit for the success of the affair. These welcomes will undoubtedly be made annual affairs so popular seemed the first one.

Annual Clearance Sale Will Continue for the Rest of the Month

Bargains in every line. The Merchandise we offer, is the best money can buy, and brand new.

We have no "Junk" to offer the trade. Started with a clean slate last Oct., and think too much of our excellent, carefully selected stock, to fill up with rubbish for the sake of quoting prices.

We make no preparation for a clearance sale. Merely offer you the goods that we may have left at the end of the business year, at prices that makes them move. They are yours without adding profit. Ours, is the cleanest stock of clothing for men and boys, in the Willamette Valley. We propose to keep it so.

An investigation will satisfy. We never disappoint.
