SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

Nationally the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy has attracted considerable attention, presenting things of interest to many people.

The flying machines continued to fly down in Los Angeles, offering many things of interest. Records were smashed right and left, not a difficult thing to do, for the flying machine is now in its infancy, and not many records had been made.

A good many lives have been lost at sea during the week. Travel by sea is perhaps the most dangerous mode at the present time.

People may have to follow fashion, and it may be entirely proper, but they undoubtedly make a mistake when they become slaves to it.

Up in Washington there is a live contest over the state about the effect of local option down in Oregon cities. In one case Pendleton has been set up as an example, a big mistake.

The building up of the Albany high school into a great educational institution is the purpose of the board of directors.

Edmund H. Lanning, Jr., and Mildred Woodman were joined in marriage by Rev. Wallace H. Lee, formerly President of Albany College.

A quiet, but no less happy, wedding took place in one of the beautiful parlors of the First Presbyterian church, Seattle, Wash., Wednesday afternoon, January 19, 1910.

Some people looked upon it as a matter of surprise for an Indian to be in court asking for a divorce, an occurrence in Albany this week.

The petition circulated by certain young ladies who left the services of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, requesting that certain remarks, alleged to have been made by Mr. Constantine, be retracted.

Made in Oregon is being revived as an industrial slogan. It is a very good one. Consideration should be given to the things made in this state.

Superintendent Sanders stood high with the students, and those under him universally wanted an opportunity to have a just tribute paid to him in the interest of better manhood.

Mr. Pinchot had better be modest. It will take better with the people. He has many friends. He had better keep them.

A Chicago woman recently chased a thief, caught him and made him return the money he had stolen. A newspaper further east says she probably got her foot on him.

SATURDAY.

KING ARTHUR.

The Largest Boy's Fraternity in the World Comes to Albany.

Wednesday night, January 20, a goodly company of friends and citizens met at the Methodist church to witness the Noble's initiation of 24 live Albany boys into the Plymouth Castle of the Knights of King Arthur.

The boys who were initiated Wednesday night compose the Sunday School class of Mr. J. A. Howard, the real estate man. They met at the residence and at seven o'clock under the guidance of Mr. Howard.

Promptly at 8:15 p. m. to the notes of the organ, the weird procession of ragged lads entered the church, passed the challenge of the sentry and advanced to the chancel where the Rev. Frederick V. Fisher of Hillsboro, a Marquis of the Order, sat on the throne waiting to receive them.

After the initiation, a model conclave was held, with Henry Fish presiding and Merrill Ohling as Seneschal.

Albany made 14 field baskets as follows: Dooley 5, Stalnaker 4, two of which were long and sensational, Ingstrom 4 and Bigbee 1, 1 from the foul line and 1 on penalty.

The Albany high school basket ball team defeated the splendid team of Eugene last night before a large audience, 30 to 23, after the hardest contest of the season.

Eugene made 3, as follows: Epp, one of the guards 4; G Kotch 3, his brother 2. 5 fouls were thrown in.

In these championship games there should be an absolute rule that no official shall be from either city. One neutral official is the better plan.

All the plans and elevations for the new post office site were forwarded to Washington several weeks ago, and it is thought the ground will be ordered cleared sometime this spring.

The petition circulated by certain young ladies who left the services of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, requesting that certain remarks, alleged to have been made by Mr. Constantine, be retracted.

The fact that the young ladies in question have been in the employ of the Telephone Company for a period ranging from six months to several years is sufficient evidence of their good standing with the Company and in the community.

Those who desire will return to their former positions.

Fred B. Smith, the great college evangelistic, the best in the world, will speak at Albany college next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, and the chapel ought to be packed to the front door to hear him.

Wheat $1.00, Oats 43c. Beef on foot 2 1/2 to 3c; veal dressed 7c; pork dressed 1c; on foot 7c.

There is talk of making J. Pierpont Morgan stakeholder in the big Jeffries-Johnson fight, a heavy weight financier being needed for the important position.

WON AGAIN.

The Albany high school basket ball team defeated the splendid team of Eugene last night before a large audience, 30 to 23, after the hardest contest of the season.

Eugene made 3, as follows: Epp, one of the guards 4; G Kotch 3, his brother 2. 5 fouls were thrown in.

The famous Portland hog will have to get back in the corner. Fred Parker of St. Louis recently ate 24 eggs, a loaf of bread, and a bottle of catsup and drank two cans of coffee in fifteen minutes.

A Lebanon dispatch states that Hon. M. A. Miller will be a candidate on the democratic ticket for Governor of Oregon.

Like other laws the local option law is violated. The shipping and bringing liquor into dry localities, with an occasional blind pig gives plenty of opportunity for it.

Judge Duncan and Commissioners Butler and Russell, of this county and Judge Busby and a commissioner of Marion county left for Stayton to inspect the site of the proposed suspension bridge at Stayton.

D. W. Rumbaugh left for Portland on a short trip. During the past season he has shipped nearly four carloads of specially packed apples, and has two more to send out.

Mr. Ed. Hall, one of the old time insurance men, went north after an Albany visit. He is one of the best posted insurance men on the coast.

President Campbell and several other U. O. people passed through for the Y. M. C. A. convalescent at Corvallis.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Dec. 3.—Goods valued at $135,000 went up in smoke at the Motter-Wheeler department store this morning just as the clerks were arriving to open up a large "expansion sale."

MISFITS.

Albany should be a social city.

Albany is liable to be an auto city.

Get acquainted with your neighbors.

Suppose Dr. Cook did reach the pole.

Make Albany's schools the best in Oregon.

The paving is worth all it costs these winter days.

There are modern Benedict Arnolds in different disguises.

Get your plans ready for houses for rental. They are needed.

Taft is accused of having the magnomania, with indications of guilt.

Jeffries is to be in Portland next week. Nothing serious about it.

Don't burden the past with IF'S, the great time for doing things is now.

With over five miles of pavement the Eugene papers are asking for more.

"Hawley has cussed," says a valley exchange, and so have the people.

After he licks Johnson Jim Jeffries will go to Africa to fight big game. Perhaps he won't go then.

This is something like it. An electric invention will produce sleep permitting operations, an anaesthetic effective.

There were eleven applicants for the position of superintendent of schools. The man who got it has a splendid reputation.

An Ann Arbor professor has discovered that the brain is heavier during sleep. With a nightmare going on it weighs about a ton.

A North Yakima brewer and minister went to Pendleton together to learn if the statements in a pamphlet being used against local option were true.

The world moves. A balloon carrying 300 pounds is to do a regular passenger business between Hamburg and London, and there are people who will ride in it.

The famous Portland hog will have to get back in the corner.

A Lebanon dispatch states that Hon. M. A. Miller will be a candidate on the democratic ticket for Governor of Oregon.

Like other laws the local option law is violated. The shipping and bringing liquor into dry localities, with an occasional blind pig gives plenty of opportunity for it.

A POPULAR STORY.

The Cohan and Harris comedians will shortly present in this city "Brewer's Millions," the most popular story ever written by George Barr McCutcheon. It is full of humor, and the dramatic possibilities in it have been well developed in the stage adaptation made by Winchell Smith and Byron Ongley. It will be seen at the Albany Opera House next Friday night Jan. 28.
