Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was tormented with severe aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried, so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." Woodworth Drug Co.

MR. SHAKESPEARE.

The Shakespearean play represents the highest standard of the dramatic art. The study of Shakespeare is an education, not only on account of the thoughts presented, but also because of the masterly use of words, no writer ever having equalled him in the use of English. The plays of Shakespeare cover history, comedy and tragedy. The greatest of all is Hamlet, a tragedy; but there are others of great interest. Among the best of the comedies is the Taming of the Shrew, one full of character, odd in its construction, peculiar in its plot, but decidedly interesting. It may be a caricature, but it is full of the best there is in healthful comedy. One of the best students of Shakespeare in the country is Mr. Hanford, who will present this comedy tonight. Albany people have formerly seen him in tragedy. It will now be a pleasure to have him give his version of this live Shakespearean comedy. It is the kind that deserves attention.

AGAINST CANON.

2653 western republican editors said no Cannon for them, where 546 said Cannon was their man. This shows in an emphatic manner the decided stand the people of the west have taken against a system of politics that has been disgracing our government. Of course the democratic editors are against Cannon. The fact that the republicans themselves are against him makes the case a plain one to decide. It ought to mean that Cannon shall go; but it will not. Congress is as servile as a puppet, and one of them is our own congressman.

HANFORD TO-NIGHT.

The opera house promises to be crowded tonight, when Mr. Chas. Hanford and his talented company appear in the Taming of the Shrew, the first presentation of this Shakespearean comedy in Albany. The advance sale of seats has been large. Mr. Hanford represents the best there is in drama, and deserves the attention of people of character.

Mr. Hanford never forgets the public demands diversion at the playhouse. He supplies that by selecting the best material that play writing has ever produced and interpreting it in a modern and sympathetic spirit which makes the humor irresistible. If there is any lingering suspicion in the minds of the youthful students to the effect that Shakespeare is uninteresting, Mr. Hanford's performance may be relied upon to dispel it.

This afternoon Mr. Hanford spoke to the high school students, giving a delightful talk on Shakespeare and the drama.

The Albany Butter & Produce Co are paying 40 cents per pound f. o. b. Albany, for butter fat, or 38c on the wagon. If you have cream to sell call both phones 49.
