MONDAY
AEROPLANE IN ALBANY.

The Burkhardt aeroplane arrived on the river steamer yesterday, accompanied by the owners J. C. Burkhardt and W. C. Crawford who will take it out to their shed, in Galtra Park, a 24 by 40 foot building erected for housing it. It came entirely boxed, and will be set up out at Aeroplanelville during the week, if the weather permits. The flying will not begin until everything is perfected and the machine is completely ready for the trial. This is something being watched with great interest, as usual people wondering whether it will really go or not, and if it does whether there will be any accidents. The young men are game, having made a thorou study of the business, and the Democrat predicts success for the venture.

Sermons to Young People.

Rev. White last night began a series of six sermons to young people, the first being Lions in the Way, an able effort, making a strong impression. The lions treated were: cowardice, which makes the boy or girl say "I can't"; impatience, which prevents the plodding; faithfulness necessary to success; narrowness, which takes one down into gangs and neglect, ever inciting one to put things off, where the motto should be "do it now."

Albany's Big Store Blockaded

If Chambers and McCune had been in their old store you would not have been surprised, but at this big store; Saturday afternoon at times there was a complete blockade of women and it was absolutely impossible to get down the stairs or even in the door way. No such a crowd was anticipated and with their army of clerks it was impossible to serve all the people. Green packages could be seen going in all directions, but with all this there are still tempting bargains there at the same prices.

Married.

Roy E. Wood and Miss Ella Carow were united in marriage at the court house Saturday afternoon, Judge Duncan officiating.
The ceremony was somewhat out of the ordinary, being performed in the tower, near the fire alarm. As the alarm did not sound the wedding will probably be a happy one. This is probably the highest place in Albany.

A Heart Party.

The thirteenth birthday of Darrill Austin was celebrated Saturday evening at the home of his father, O. D. Austin, in a heart party, with forty young people present. Games were played and some delicious refreshments were served. Charibel Seeley guessed the most animals beginning with A.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 41-29, remarkably even twenty-four hours.

Mr. Merrill Hammell left by boat for Eastern Oregon, where he has taken up a desert land claim, south of Prineville. He took a team along, going by water to The Dalles and then overland.

Some of the best moving pictures shown here were the Ft. Leavenworth scenes, showing the maneuvers of the government soldiers, one of an education cast. The Dreamland theater was packed Saturday evening.

Frank O'Brien has returned from Roseburg, where he had been negotiating for the purchase of the Hotel McClellan, in fact had taken possession, but the hotel people have not yet made good along certain lines and negotiations have been suspended.

Just as the Democrat suspected Harry L. Walden, of Eureka, a former Albany railroad man, was on a Madisonrajaunt. A post card from New Orleans says that the Madisonraja is the warmest thing in the world, a very gorgeous affair, with immense pagodas, parades, etc.

Good Evening, Mr. Valentine.

Valentine day, with a good many in circulation, a pretty custom, when observed in the right spirit. A compliment is a good thing for anyone. When made an occasion for dirt throwing it loses its charm. Valentine giving often reflects the character of the giver more than that of the receiver.

The following Sunday the points were agreed upon, and the contest began to close with the last Sunday in Jan., 1910, the losing side to give a supper to the winners. The women's class were the victors, and a committee from the men's class engaged the Ladies Aid Society to furnish the spread, which was given in the church parlors last evening at 7 o'clock. To this repeat more than 70 persons did justice. Mr. Esson, acting in the capacity of toastmaster, introduced the following speakers: Ralph McKechnie, secretary of the men's class, in well chosen words extended a welcome to the ladies. The response was made by Mrs. W. H. Davis, president of the class.
