LINN COUNTY PIONEERS'

Brownsville, June 11.—The annual Pioneers' Pie nie of Linn county begins this year on Wednesday, June 23, and continues for three days. This is one of the great public functions not only of Linn county but also of this whole section of the willamette Valley.

It is scarcely necessary to emphasize to those who have attended the gatherings of the past, the congenial social atmosphere, the natural attractiveness of the grounds, the literary excellence and entertaining qualities of the programs, also the numerous excellence and entertaining qualities of the programs, also the numerous side attractions which cover the grounds.

As in the past so this year the picnic is held in Coshow's Park in the pretty little city of Brownsville on the Calapoola river. Here amid historic surroundings and memories the pioneers love to gather to exchange tales of long ago and to entertain their posterity with reminisences of interest and adventure respecting life of half a century ago. Here resides James Blakely, the peer pioneer of 97 summers, and the aged Aunt Eliza, the last of the Callapooya Indians.

The object of the pienic, of course, is to have a royal good time. It is to offer recreation and entertainment. The program has been so planned taht the most fastidious will find congenial enjoyment, and the cynic find nothing to criticize. There will be balloon ascensions with parachute jump, and basebal games every day. Bands from various places will furnish choice music. There will be also vocal music of all kinds, quartettes, trios, solos, etc., rendered by some of the best talent in Linn county: speeches by pioneers and important addresses by prominent speakers. Some of the most noted speakers are Hon. Robt. G. Smith, Hon. C. N. McArthur and Hon. M. A. Miller.

Sporting interest will cluster in the ball park where Brownsville will meet some of the keenest rivals. On the 23rd Junction City will cross bats with the local team con the 24th, the Albany Alco Club will endeavor to sertle the score of last year; on the 25th the game will be of nunsual interest as the Chemawa Indians come with a good record.

Events begin Wednesday about 10

the Chemawa Indians come with a good record.
Events begin Wednesday about 10 a. m., when the pioneers will form on Spaulding avenue and march in a body to the Picuic grounds. There the program will begin and will be carried through as published. Also every evening up town on Spaulding avenue from 7 to 8 the bands will render concert programs.

rom 7 to 8 the bands will render concert programs.

By all means plan to be present at the Pioneers' Picnic. It will be better than ever. You will miss the best thing of the sammer if you miss this historical dering.

Railro tes will be in effect from all neighboring points, and special train service will be furnished by the railroad companies for the accommodation of visitors. Dinner may be had on the grounds, while the copious surrounding woods furnish inviting spots for basket dinners. Include this great event in your summer vacation.

An Old House.

The reported sale of the three lots of Mrs. J. H. A Year of R. R. Building.

Portland, Or., June 14.—By the and of the present year, it is promised that the most remote districts of Oregon will be served by railroad transportation. Central Oregon will have two main lines, the Oregon Trunk and the Deschutes Railroad and the building of these roads is of course the prime achievement of the year in transportation. In addition, the Harriman line to Tiliamook will be completed and much progress will have been made by the end of the year on the Natron-Klamath road. This year the cost of contracts for new railway lines and betterments in this state will aggregate $30,000,000. Many other important new projects will undoubtedly be mapped out and started before 1911.
