MISFITS.

Os. West for governor sounds good.

There will be some mighty lively opposition to some of that assembly ticket in the republican party itself.

Some one says Bowerman was nominated because he employed wire pulling methods. He opened an office and ran a regular political business.

One delegate said they were trying to harness the democratic cougar in a by Komono. Lo, and behold, it was the elephant that got in a harness, fastened together with straw. Watch and see it pull on direct primary day.

Hackleman's grove ought to be a city park also. It is one of the finest places anywhere, and when a street car line runs past it, as one is bound to do eventually it would be situated just right for one. Now is the time to act.

A reunited, rejuvenated republican party, is what was telegraphed the president. This is simply on paper. As a matter of fact the republican party of Oregon is divided, split into splinters, worse than ever before in its history.

The blatant Oregonian yells: "Prohibition is such a howling success in Lane county that seven bootleggers are under arrest in Eugene." The law against murder in Oregon is such a howling success that seven men in the pen are awaiting execution, and about ninety others who ought to be hanged have gone free in the last year. Any one with as little brains as a mosquito knows that the prohibition law the same as all laws will be violated.
