DIFFERENT KINDS.

Recently there were a couple of long-haired men on the street, one evening, holding forth in a service of their own, selling literature to pay their expenses. People wondered who they were. It transpires that they were a couple of evangelists of the Israelite House of David, with headquarters at Benton Harbor, Mich. The men travel under the names of Thomas and Henry, going from town to town on bicycles. Unlike some street evangelists there was nothing repulsive in their talk, and they spoke earnestly and respectfully, leaving other denominations alone, always a credit mark, in these days when a whack at some one else is half the religion of some people.

Some one recently said the giving to that chorus girl down in Portland enough to keep her, was the best religion in the world. It certainly is a part of good religion, and that is the Christ religion, giving, helping some one else, whoever does it. Some church members may be mighty poor hands at it, but it is an essential part of it to give as the Lord has prospered one, not only for the church itself, but for all good purposes in the world, including those in misfortune, the suffering and the weak. There is no selfishness in genuine religion, and people do well to know this, whatever the lives of those claiming to be religious may be.

WHAT IT WILL MEAN.

When the Oregon Electric reaches Albany there will be added to the large list of passenger trains registering at Albany twenty more, ten each way daily, making fifty trains a day for this city. This will be a great thing for people going up and down the valley. From a selfish standpoint it will mean that the people of the central Willamette Valley will be able to reach this city from almost anywhere every hour during daylight, giving them the advantages of the splendid trading facilities of this city along nearly all lines of merchandising. But it will mean more than this. The electric line is a community builder all along it. It is said to be a universal experience that small places bob up everywhere, people seeking the opportunity of securing transportation advantages for a home. It will mean a transformation in conditions and values that will have a marked effect on the affairs of the valley.

POOR ECONOMY.

The people of Aumsville recently voted on the establishment of 10th and 11th grades in the public schools, and defeated it, because, they said it would increase their taxes. They took the proper course to make the place stand still. No one wants to live in a city that does not keep its schools up with the times. It would be money in the pockets of the taxpayers of Aumsville to put twelve grades in their school. It is business, and whenever a people refuse to go ahead in this matter it slams the place with a sledge hammer. The people of a city do well to watch their taxes, but it is mighty foolish economy to do it with the public schools. Aumsville should scrape the moss away and make its high school amount to something. This is said in the interest of all towns that want to progress.

AFTER JOHNSON.

Jack Johnson awhile ago was arrested in New York for running his automobile faster than the law allows and was fined $100. Then a few days later he was arrested for not running his automobile at all, that is for obstructing the way. Now he declares the world is against him. He is noted as a speeder, and it is said he has no respect for those around him, disregarding the rights of others. He has made most of his money in a lawless way, and should keep quiet if he occasionally gets a financial knockdown. So long as he behaves himself he should be treated decently, but when he doesn't he should be looked after the same as other men are watched. Naturally his notoriety makes all his cases conspicuous.

GET SMALL FACTORIES.

A prominent gentleman of the get-together meeting told of his efforts to get some land for a pickle factory. One might possibly smile, but there is something serious about securing these little factories for a city. They are just the thing to lull for, small concerns that start with little and build up into large concerns, and certainly whenever the opportunity offers should pay more attention to such things, offering all the encouragement possible. The best factories in the world have had a small beginning, true of most concerns that amount to anything.

Secretary Wilson's Scheme.

Portland, July 23.—James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, arrived here tonight from Seattle, and almost his first act after arriving in this city was to make a statement of significance to the west. The secretary said he had taken personal charge of the forestry service and declared it to be his intention to open up for settlement all lands within the government forest reserve which are suitable for agriculture and which will not run over 4,000 feet of timber to the acre.

Mayor Wallace, over from Newport on a short business trip, returned to the Bay this afternoon.

SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

This week the militia had to be called out at Columbus, O. In this great republic the police force of a city should be able to take care of all disturbances arising; but it seems a fact that frequently this is not possible. Examine it, and as a rule it will be found to be due to a disturbing foreign element. Nevertheless we are improving.

The press of the state has been filled with talk about the assembly. This is probably due to the fact that it is a species of lawlessness. That is, the laws of the state provide a different way of doing a thing, and a rump element wanting a return to the old boss system, arbitrarily called a nominating assembly, seeking to dictate the nominations of the party. Mark it, it will not work.

This month there have been ten deaths from accident in this county, a rather remarkable record. Three were together, the others scattered, probably the most in the history of the county in a single month.

This week eight blind piggers were fined in Eugene, every one tried. That is a good record. It is always a good thing when any law is enforced rigorously, something that speaks volumes for the hired people of the state, counties and cities.

This week has been divorce week, always one of interest, but a serious matter when a man and woman who have pledged themselves to bear and forbear, love and sustain each other until death parts them, meet in a legal combat in court, make public their troubles, and go out into the world alone, generally soon to try their luck with some one else they think more congenial, but perhaps not.

Cutting the big farms up into small ones through the valley is always a thing for encouragement. A good deal of this is reported along the new electric lines, a move that works great things for good.

Something at Jefferson causes the editor of the Review to remark that "the mother who allows a sixteen year old girl to float around in a top buggy until 2 a. m. with a counter sport of weak jaw and weak morals, merely opens the front door to grief and disgrace, and a roar when the gossips get busy is as pathetic as the wheeze from a jewsharp. A lot of weak-minded parents will have something to answer for at the judgment day." That's worth thinking about this Saturday night.

Mrs. W. H. Marvin and Mrs. Ruby and children returned this noon from their Newport outing, and the latter left on the afternoon train for their home in Portland, where Mr. Ruby will return Tuesday from an eastern trip.

(FRIDAY.)

Next State Fair.

Salem, Or., July 28.—(Special).—On September 12 of this year will open the forty-ninth annual Oregon State Fair. Realizing that the annual exhibit of "All Oregon" has won national reputation, the directors have carefully studied every detail for the 1910 show with the view that it shall be a complete showing of what the "Beaver State" can do, also that it will go down in history as the greatest and most successful of forty-nine endeavors to show what has been done and impart knowledge to those seeking advancement in all pursuits.

From prospects taken from inquiries made to the secretary, Frank Meredith, more visitors will attend the 1910 fair than ever before and it is potent that all counties be represented, as thousands of Eastern visitors will attend the fair to see better and in a short space of time what section offers them best for their desires.

Effie is a Good One.

Effie Breen, at the Electric this week, is first seen in mid-air, lying extended, and a hoop is carelessly pulled clear around her. Wonderful. How is it done? You must see for yourself. Then she tells names and answers questions, because she knows how. It is a great stunt and well done, creating great interest in the audience. Strange what a lot of people are interested in asking questions about marriage.

The Eagle Screamed.

The recent Bowerman rally in Salem was a Spread Eagle Affair. The Journal says: "Our revolutionary forefathers were dragged often into speeches. Rome and Greece occupied prominent places in them, and the way Roosevelt, Taft and Hughes were made last evening to give testimony in favor of the assembly plan of nominating would convey the impression that all the speakers had attended a recent conference at Sagamore Hill."

A Poor Sub.

Scio News:—Dr. Hanson, of Portland, who was employed to take care of Dr. Prill's practice during his absence on a mountain vacation, returned to his Portland home at Mrs. Prill's request, early last week. Dr. Hanson is reported to have been too fond of prescribing for himself. Dr. Kavanagh, of Albany, has been looking after Dr. Prill's practice since.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

H. A. Nelson left for Newport to join his family, provided they have reached there. Thursday Mrs. Nelson, Robyn, Frances, and Misses Adele Goff and Jessie Bybee were to leave the Robyn Nelson homestead for a forty-five mile hike down through the tall timber and along the beach to Newport, due there this evening.

There was a large crowd from all over bound for the Bay, among those going from this county being Lawyer S. M. Gariand of Lebanon, to join his family, J. S. Swank, of Tallman, and Mrs. Staple, of Vale, the latter a daughter of Mr. Swank, and A. R. Chas. Cooper.

A. M. Templeton, a prominent republican candidate for sheriff, arrived from Brownsville. Also Rev. W. P. Elmore. Prof. Hargrove pianist, returned from Lebanon.

Mrs. W. F. Moist came down from Lebanon.

Miss Lena Thrift went to Portland for a couple days' visit.

E. C. Roberts, fruit expert, arrived from his country home and orchard.

Adam Assell, of Corvallis, went to Lebanon. Mr. Assell is a pioneer valley cook, now too far along in life to follow the business.

Big Cow Sale.

The big Flaherty cow sale at Plainview yesterday, conducted by Sheriff Smith was a good one, well attended. Forty-six short horns, ranging in age from a year up, sold for $1241.20. Some of the buyers got some bargains, as they secured registered stock, but the registration could not be found, hence the record is not known.

Upon an 87 Year Old Man.

Grandpa Krutz, of Buena Vista, was brought to Albany yesterday, and in the afternoon Dr. Hill performed an operation upon him at the hospital for strangulated hernia, which he stood well. Pretty good for a man four score and seven.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Galloway has disposed of the following cases:

Elva Peacock agt. Albert Peacock, defendant given until Aug. 1 to answer. Divorce granted Margaret Schmit from Chas. L. Schmidt. The defendant is out of the state and did not appear. H. C. Davis et al, agt. L. T. Davis et al, sale in partition confirmed.

Hattie A. Cruson agt. City of Lebanon, injunction, argued and taken under advisement.

Divorce granted Carl A. Wyman from Lizzie Wyman. The defendant was formerly Miss Lizzie Stahl, daughter of Fred Stahl, now residing on the bound. The case of Lebanon Paper Co. agt. Lebanon Lumber Co., for an injunction preventing the defendant from diverting the water from the Santiam into the canal of the plaintiff, with damages was argued by R. A. Leiter of Portland for the plaintiff and Judge Hewitt, of this city for the defendant.

An interesting thing occurred in the case of Maggie Sullivan agt. Griff King. Mrs. Sullivan was giving her testimony in the case when the question arose as to the right of a woman to testify in a case involving the rights of her husband and herself, which led to a motion on the part of the plaintiff to amend the complaint, which was granted, and ten days given, and then ten days to answer, and the case was continued.

The case of Ellen Thomas agt. John V. Thomas was tried, without defense, and a divorce ordered granted, on the grounds of cruelty.

A new case is that of Ila M. Maxwell agt. Geo. M. Maxwell, both of this city, begun last night by Hewitt & Sox, attorneys for the plaintiff. The complaint is quite sensational in its character, citing a Mrs. Price as a correspondent, and making charges of cruelty, name calling, false charges, etc. Last night there was a demurrer to the complaint and this morning, with this issue evidence was heard, without opposition and the divorce granted, about eighteen hours after the divorce was begun, quick work.

The divorce case of Agnes Eagan agt. Frank Eagan had a somewhat startling finish. With the court room full of witnesses the plaintiff asked for a continuance, which was denied except upon payment of the costs, whereupon the plaintiff's attorney moved for a non-suit and the case was withdrawn from the docket.

In H. W. Kaupisch agt. Madia Kaupisch, for divorce, petition filed for suit money, with affidavit of plaintiff. Defendant given ten days to file counter affidavit.

The case of J. R. Cartwright agt. the S. P. for damages was ordered transferred to the U. S. court.

In Maud Lambert agt. Frank Lambert the defendant was ordered to pay $100 by Aug. 20 for suit money. A demurrer to a plea in abatement was sustained.

Teachers' Examination.

Notice is hereby given that the County Superintendent of Linn County will hold the regular examination for applicants, for state and county certificates, at the court house, in Albany Oregon, commencing Wednesday, Aug. 10, at 9 o'clock a. m. and continuing three days for county and four days for state certificates.
W. L. JACKSON, County Supt.

Mrs. H. George Myers, of Salem, returned last evening from a Eugene visit, and this morning with her husband, left for Cascadia for an outing.

Prof. and Mrs. C. J. Bushnell are expected next week on a summer's visit at the home of the father of the latter, Judge H. H. Hewitt.

Mrs. W. P. Read, of this city, and son, Percy, of Salem, are up in Washington, at Everett and Snohomish on a trip. Mr. Read taking his vacation this way.

H. L. Holgate, water commissioner, beaten in the assembly for renomination, was in the city yesterday. He is a former Corvallis man, and has been a competent official.

There is a little house party at George Miller's on Sunrise Boulevard, in his new summer cottage. Miss Agnes Miller, of Eugene, a sister of Mr. Miller, and Miss Marie Martin of Salem, a sister of Mrs. Miller are there for a visit, uniting Salem, Eugene and Albany.

Use Johnson's best. It is the Best Made in Albany.

MISFITS.

Wheat has jumped up half a cent, not enough to measure.

Ferry street is now on the pavement map and it looks good.

Getting a divorce has become as easy as tumbling down hill.

A paved street causes longings in the hearts of residents of dust-covered streets.

The dove of peace has settled on the W. O. W. But perhaps it isn't the dove.

It is time corruption and graft were knocked everywhere, regardless of the gears of the regulars.

It is a cold day when Chicago doesn't have a hot heat wave that prostrates, during the summer time.

Albany has fully a thousand people in the city but not residents, because of our contracted limits. Get a move on.

A Meriden, Conn., church has struck it. It is going to have moving pictures Sunday nights. Why not if they are the right kind.

The insurgents are undoubtedly in the right, for the Oregonian whacks them, the same as it does temperance, the direct primary and numerous other good things.

The Newport News complains of a milk famine because the cows were shut out of the streets. It won't last. There will be plenty of milk, and better none than be a cow town.

An interesting fact is that not a property owner on the new paved district on Ferry street, Third to Ninth, owns an auto or has a horse and buggy. They are unselfish boasters.

The latest gag is to tell a person that they are not all right, and when they begin to get mad inform them that they are part left. One young lady is reported to have had a good cry before they got to the latter.

All the parties are going to have to show their colors on the temperance question. It will not down. Domination by the saloon is going to be a thing of the past and men are going to have to stand for or against it.

An automobile trip by Albany business men over Linn county is a good idea. A day of it would reveal great things to them and as well bring them into touch with some of their best customers, and create new ones.

"The same old gang" is what the Oregonian calls the Anti-Assembly people; but the truth is the cart is before the horse. The assembly crowd down at Portland trying to dominate the politics of the state, is the same old Joe Simon-Harvey Scott gang.

The Oregonian has a picture of the democratic party whacking the assembly and defying the republicans to do anything to satisfy them. As a matter of fact the hardest whacks have been given the assembly by the republicans themselves and the thunderbolt is to come later.

Cottage Grove Leader:—The Daily Oregonian, which has hollered itself hoarse for a state assembly, is first to find fault and express its disfavor with the work of the republican state assembly, seemingly all because a Portland man did not receive the assembly nomination for governor.

Lyon to Washington, First to Ninth, will be a solid pavement district within five years, perhaps considerably less. That is undoubtedly the program. It will be done gradually, but it is bound to come, perhaps extending further east and west, with one of the east and west streets paved as far east as Main street.

Now that the Oregon Electric is going to Eugene sure the guard says it will make little difference if the Southern Pacific's main line does go through Coburg to Muddy and thence to Halsey on north. Albany wants both and all the railroads and electric lines it can get, through lines and way lines, anything.

One of the machine papers said the only papers opposing the assembly were the democratic and near-democratic press, one of the customary falsehoods of the crowd. The Eugene Guard gives a list of many red hot against the assembly, the Salem Journal, The Dalles Chronicle, Baker City Herald, Marshfield Times, Harney News, Woodburn Independent, Fossil Journal, Corvallis Gazette-Times, Jacksonville Post and others.
